Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Citizens in all the states of the Union were "drafted" yesterday by President Roosevelt to lead a renewed drive to bring all of American commerce under regimented hours and wages.

The question of putting the railroads under the NRA codes is up to the interstate commerce commission, the administrator declared.

Nine members were appointed on each of 48 state "recovery boards," and seven members were named for service on 26 district "recovery boards" for the recently made codes.

Johnson Sends Telegrams.

Each of those appointed was sent the following telegram signed by Hugh S. Johnson, national recovery administrator:

"President Roosevelt has drafted you as one of the nine members of the state recovery board for the state of . . . . as explained in bulletin No. 3 of July 20. He has requested you to volunteer your services without compensation in this great drive for national rehabilitation. As a member of this board your duties will be to get every patriotic American citizen, employer, and consumer to coöperate in this program. Please wire acceptance immediately and you will receive further instructions."

Chicagoans on Board.

Chicagoans — Melvin A. Traylor, Richard Collins, Douglas Stuart, S. J. Duncan-Clark, E. N. Hurley, and A. A. Sprague.

Others—R. B. Irwin of Springfield, F. D. L. Babcock of Bloomington, Eugene Funk of Funk Grove.

The federal district office, with headquarters in Chicago, will have as its board members:

Chicagoans—Miss Jane Addams, Victor Olander, and Willoughby Walling.

Others—John Oglesby of Elkhart, Ill.; William Mauthe of Fond du Lac, Wis.; Frank Lauerman of Marinette, Wis.; Frank Schutz of Milwaukee, Wis.

The first day of the five months' period of the President's emergency reëmployment drive passed yesterday without particular notice at the NRA headquarters. No figures as to how many agreements had been signed to date, nor as to how many employés had found new jobs as a result of the agreement were available.

Tabulation to Wait.

Although all the agreements are being forwarded to central agencies in the 26 districts and a tabulation of them could be made without great difficulty, none will be forthcoming for some time, it was stated.

Both types of the boards named today by Administrator Johnson are expected to function in promoting the drive for signatures to the President's code, to pass upon complaints, and to advise the national staff concerning developments in their states and districts.

Among the newspaper men who met Mr. Johnson this afternoon in his regular press conference were several who complained somewhat bitterly at being classified as "professional" employés under a special interpretation of the blanket code, issued last night. The classification excludes news reporters from the benefits of the 40 hour week.

"Of course," said Johnson, diplomatically, "that problem's a hard one for me. The newspaper situation has three tough questions involved.

"Now, I hate to let up in any way on the elimination of child labor, but we've got to consider the newsboys' routes.

BALBO'S AIR FLEET DELAYS OCEAN HOP; FOG HIDES COURSE

SHOAL HARBOR, N. F., Aug. 2 [Wednesday].—(AP)—Reports of a bad fog in the mid-Atlantic early today halted the departure of the 24 Italian seaplanes for Valencia island, Ireland. The crews had breakfasted and were prepared to take off at dawn, when Gen. Italo Balbo received the unfavorable weather report.

Gen. Balbo's squadron left Chicago for New York on its return voyage to Italy on July 19, four days after completing the most successful trans-Atlantic mass flight in the history of aviation.

WOMAN SLAIN IN MYSTERIOUS NIGHT ATTACK

An unidentified woman about 40 years old was shot and killed at 70th street and Campbell avenue last night by one of three gunmen riding in an expensive sedan. The victim was rather stout and was well dressed. She wore white shoes, white gloves, a white hat, and a blue flowered dress.

Although twenty-five persons in the neighbornood were questioned by the police, not one of them saw the actual shooting. The murder mystified investigators. They said the woman might have been shot by a nervous bandit or might have been the victim of some private vengeance. That she might have been a robbery victim was suggested by the fact no purse was found where she fell.

Several facts were established, however. The killers of the woman sat in their parked car at 70th street and Campbell avenue for five minutes before she appeared in 70th street, walking west. The car turned east to meet her. One of the men alighted and walked toward her. There was a scream, then two shots. The gunman leaped back into the car and was driven away. The woman staggered into the street and fell. She had been shot in the back.

One witness, William Rusteck, said that from his home at 7005 Campbell avenue he had heard a man and a woman quarreling and then the scream and shots. He could not make out the words, he said. Another witness, Frank Jonik, 7004 Campbell avenue, said he believed the men in the car were Negroes, but police are satisfied the men were white.

Two other witnesses, Mrs. Helen McGinty and Mrs. Lillian McCurdy, sisters, living at 7004 South Maplewood avenue, saw the woman fall and took her in their car to the Holy Cross hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

Wife Divorces Noble Judah in Nevada Court

Dispatches from Reno said that a divorce was granted in Carson City, Nev., yesterday to Mrs. Dorothy Patterson Judah from Noble Brandon Judah, prominent Chicago attorney and former ambassador to Cuba. Mrs. Judah is the daughter of the late John Patterson, founder of the National Cash Register company.

Cruelty Is Ground.

The decree was obtained on grounds of cruelty. A property settlement agreement, which also arranged for the custody of adopted twin daughters, Dorothy and Ann, was approved by the court. The Judahs were married in Dayton, O., on May 12, 1917.

When Mrs. Judah and the twins went to Santa Barbara, Cal., a few weeks ago there were rumors that a divorce was contemplated, but Mr. Judah denied this, declaring that his wife had gone to visit relatives. Mrs. Judah is understood to have gone to Nevada secretly, resuming a residence which she gave up in 1931.

Noted as a Soldier.

Besides his career as a lawyer, civic leader, and diplomat, Mr. Judah achieved fame as a soldier in the Mexican border campaign and the world war. He served two years overseas as captain, major, and lieutenant colonel with the 149th field artillery, and was assistant chief of staff of the famous Rainbow division. He was decorated by the governments of France and the United States for distinguished service.

Mrs. Judah was made a chevalier of the French Legion of Honor for work she did among the French wounded at the Verdun battlefront.

BARNET HODES ROBBED OF $100 AND NEW AUTO

Barnet Hodes, 7017 Jeffery avenue, former 7th ward alderman who is now a member of the Illinois tax commission, was held up by two bandits this morning and robbed of $100 and his new car, valued at $3,500. Mr. Hodes was alighting from his automobile in front of 915 Glengyle place when the two bandits stepped up with guns drawn. "Just get back into the car," they ordered. He obeyed and the robbers got in with him. They drove Mr. Hodes to Lawrence and Cumberland avenues, where they took his wallet, containing the $100, then put him out of his car and drove away.

GEORGE ALMOST SOLVES PROBLEM OF JOBLESSNESS

George Graves, 53 years old, was asked at the detective bureau last night why he married three women without taking the trouble to get any divorces.

"I was out of a job," he said, "and after I left the first one it occurred to me that I had better marry the others so I would be sure of a place to eat and sleep."

Graves' arrest was caused by wife No. 1, Mrs. Lillian Huck Graves, 842 Lill avenue. They parted early in the spring. Investigating, she learned that her husband had been married on April 20 to Miss Tillie Berkley, 1433 Cullerton street. His third venture, and the second illegal one, was with Miss Clara Frost, 2907 North Racine avenue, on June 3.

He was arrested as he was waiting for dinner in the home of the second wife. His schedule was so arranged that he spent six days a week with her and only one with the third wife, whom he deceived into the belief he was a traveling man. The trio of wives will appear against him in court today and Mrs. Lillian Huck Graves announced last night she thinks she knows where she can find three more. She suspects that George went through a trio of marriage ceremonies between the known second and third weddings.

PRESIDENT MAPS FIGHT TO FINISH ON KIDNAPERS

Recovery Act Gives U. S. a Weapon.

BY JOHN HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Plans to turn the national recovery program into a militant campaign for the suppression of racketeering were the chief topics of discussion today between President Roosevelt, vacationing at his family home here, and Assistant Secretary of State Raymond Moley, who came up from Washington for a consultation.

At the same time plans for federal action against kidnaping and gang crimes in general were gone over.

As an adviser to the New York crime commission and as the author of numerous surveys of crime, notably in Ohio and Missouri, Prof. Moley is noted for his studies and writings concerning criminal problems.

In the new recovery act both he and the President see the authority, which the federal government has heretofore lacked, to intervene in criminal cases involving business conduct. Until now, unless a criminal act infringed upon some specific federal statute, such as one of the postal laws or the internal revenue act or a law based on interstate commerce, the federal government had no means of jurisdiction.

Trade Agreements Forced.

At the same time, the President and Prof. Moley believe, the anti-trust laws have prevented the smaller industries and business units from banding together. Such a condition provided a fertile field for the racketeers, for illegal combinations, and for violence.

The national recovery act, however, provides directly for the abrogation of the anti-trust laws in cases where they interfere with the working of the recovery program. Industry and business are forced into trade agreements. The federal government sanctions and imposes those agreements and any act in violation of such agreements or tending to destroy the effect of the recovery act is made a crime.

The doorway is open, therefore, for the federal government to step directly into the picture, to make war vigorously upon the racketeer.

Plans Against Kidnaping.

Against kidnaping the President is counting on a super police force modeled in a general way on England's Scotland Yard, the postal regulations, the income tax law, and the recently enacted kidnaping statute.

The super police force, it is understood, is already being organized and has started to work in coöperation with state authorities.

How immediate and how broad in scope the federal government's drive against crime will be Prof. Moley would not say. But it was apparent that his visit here signaled the start of the campaign.

For the report that Mr. Moley would be selected to head the new federal campaign against crime no official confirmation could be obtained.

Prof. Moley replied that he had "nothing to say about that," though he was positive that he would continue on the state department roster.

"Certainly I am going on as assistant secretary of state," he asserted. He said he had "read some assumptions" concerning the tiff between Secretary Hull and himself, but he "paid no attention to assumptions."

Hull Expected Today.

The visit of the head of the Roosevelt "brain trust" had stirred up considerable speculation in this regard concerning the reported war between himself and Secretary of State Cordell Hull, who is now on the way back from the London conference.

Mr. Hull is expected to land and come to see the President either tomorrow or the next day. Last night Louis M. Howe, the senior presidential secretary, was a visitor at the summer White House at Krum Elbow.

The juxtaposition of the three visits gave rise to reports that Prof. Moley would be continued in his present title, but be given other work to do. His title might as well have been that of assistant in the treasury or some other department; for his duties have been neither diplomatic nor departmental.

Following his visit with the President, the assistant secretary of state went to New York, where he intends to remain until tomorrow, before returning to Washington.

Girls in 'Skin Shows' Made to Put On Clothes

BY EARL MULLIN.

Following a stern warning and threats of immediate action by Mayor Kelly and State's Attorney Courtney, the so-called nude shows at A Century of Progress last night were reformed to a semblance of decorum.

In the Manhattan Gardens, Ernie Young's rhumba and nude show, the women performers were all decked out in short tights and brassieres, while gold paint was liberally applied to bare skins. Even the fan dancers were included in the reform wave.

Mayor Views Shows Again.

Mayor Kelly, who paid his second visit in two days to the Fair last night, had declared that the rhumba, the fan dances, and the "Lady Godiva on a Camel" were especially objectionable. Last night, after viewing the rhumba in its chastened form, he left without making any further objection.

Going even farther than the other concessions in the return to decent dress were the Streets of Paris and the Oriental Gardens. In the gardens the Theater Comique, which featured men impersonating women, was closed by the Fair police. The nude woman in "Nudity on the Halt Shell," in Paris, was heavily draped.

Sally Rand Objects.

Some of the performers objected to the regulations. One fan dancer, Sally Rand, who performs in the Streets of Paris, was compelled reluctantly to don a little bit of gauze. It was not too much. In Old Mexico, it was reported, the reform wave failed to strike and Rosalie, the fan dancer there, wore only adhesive tape, while Hot-Cha-San continued her nude dance in gilt.

No arrests were made and the only actual closing was that of the Theater Comique. Ballyhoo for most of the bareskin shows was toned down, however, and the concessionaires expressed a general willingness to heed the demands of the mayor and the Fair officials.

The first visit of the mayor, on Monday, and his comment that he was "shocked and amazed" resulted in the showmen being called to the Administration building yesterday and warned to clean up. During the day the mayor had summoned Maj. Lenox R. Lohr, general manager of the Exposition, and George T. Donoghue, superintendent of the south parks, to his office, where an ultimatum was delivered.

Either the Fair would see the shows were tamed, the mayor said, or south park policemen would be sent in to raid them and keep them closed.

Randolph Censors Shows.

Shortly afterward Robert I. Randolph, director of operations, was named to censor the shows and to get the showmen to change their exhibitions. It was held by most observers that for the time being at least things had been greatly bettered. Maj. Lohr and President Dawes of the Fair both said they were glad to have the help of the mayor in the cleanup.

The city's chief executive had minced no words in expressing his opinion of what he had seen at the shows.

"They are rotten," he said, "and if showmen continue to put on these lewd and vulgar demonstrations they will be closed by the state's attorney's office. At the old Fair there were hootchy kootchy dancers, but they at least had some clothes on. We will not permit these dances by naked women."

Dawes Welcomes Help.

The attitude of the Fair was expressed by President Dawes.

"We welcome this help and coöperation on the part of the duly constituted officials whose duty it is to see that the laws are inforced," he said. "There is certainly a limit to these dances and exhibitions, and I believe the limit has been passed.

"It is very difficult to determine what is the limit or where the beautiful ends and the vulgar begins. We are inviting the people of the world to the Fair, and we do not intend to have them offended. On the other hand, we do not want to be too prudish. We will lend every effort to coöperate with the mayor in any suggestions he might have."

Maj. Lohr agreed with President Dawes in his statement that the Fair did not wish to run objectionable shows.

BY GEORGE WRIGHT.

A Chicago merchant yesterday took the witness stand at a murder trial in the court of Judge Harry B. Miller and in terse, dramatic sentences told how he had been forced to pay tribute to labor racketeers. Also he told of the terrorism that followed his final courageous announcement that he would no longer pay.

The merchant is Joseph Goldblatt, one of the owners of the Goldblatt chain of six department stores. The defendants in the murder case are John Rooney, secretary and treasurer of the circular distributors' union; his sweetheart, Rosalie Rizzo, 24 years old, and Henry Berry, a business agent of the union.

Store Guard Shot to Death.

Rooney and his co-defendants are charged with the murder of Stanley Gross, a special agent who was shot down as he was guarding the Goldblatt store at 1609 West Chicago avenue on May 23. And Rooney, according to Goldblatt's testimony, was the extortioner who had forced him to pay $3,300 for "protection" against vandalism.

Before the protection money was paid and after further payments had at last been refused, Goldblatt testified, there were stench bombings, window smashings, destruction of merchandise, and assaults on store employés, culminating in the murder of Gross on his 21st birthday.

Another Surprise Witness.

Goldblatt was one of two surprise witnesses introduced by Assistant State's Attorneys Mal Coghlan and Wilbur Crowley. The second was Alex Davidson, a bartender in the headquarters of the distributors' union at 7 North Racine avenue. Davidson told of a drinking bout by Berry and Rooney preceding the shooting of Gross and then related how, shortly after the killing took place, Rooney returned to the headquarters boasting of how "that guy keeled over."

Since he unfolded his information to the state's attorney's office Davidson has been carefully guarded by detectives in a loop hotel. The intention to place him and the merchant on the stand was kept a close secret by the prosecutors and the appearance of the two witnesses apparently caused consternation in the ranks of the defense.

Merchant's Story of Terror.

Goldblatt in his testimony described his hopeless fight against the racketeers. He mopped his forehead frequently as he answered the questions of Prosecutor Coghlan. He said his troubles started soon after the employment by the store of its own circular distributors.

He finally appealed to Police Captain Joseph Palczynski for assistance. While he was discussing the situation with a lieutenant and a squad of detectives in his office, Goldblatt said, three shots were fired into the store. An hour before this, he said, a stench bomb had been tossed into the store.

The questioning of Goldblatt by the prosecutor proceeded as follows:

Q.—When did you first meet Rooney?

A.—He came into my office in September, 1930, and called attention to the fact that we employed 300 nonunion circular distributors. He suggested that they be paid $3.25 a day instead of the $3 a day which we were paying.

Extra 25 Cents Refused.

Q. — What was said about that?

A.—I asked him who the additional 25 cents was for and he replied: "Well, I am treasurer." I told him that this would not benefit the men and refused his proposition.

Q.—Did Rooney say anything as he was leaving? A.—Yes, he said I'd better think it over. He said: "If you can't see it we will picket your store and we will have the union flat janitors stop distribution of your circulars in mail boxes."

Q. — Did you see Rooney again? A.—Yes, a week later he returned with the proposal that the Goldblatt stores and their circular distributors would not be molested up to Jan. 1, 1931, upon the payment of $1,500. The money was paid in cash and Rooney agreed that the distributors would be considered union men.

The agreement was extended to Jan. 1, 1932, on the payment of $1,800 more, Goldblatt testified.

Payments Carried on Books.

Q.—Do the books of your company show these payments? A.—Yes, I believe we carried them on the detective pay roll.

Q.—Did you make any other payments to Rooney? A.—In March, 1931, he came to me and said he needed money to pay off a mortgage on his home. I told him I had given him all the money I intended to. Rooney said he wanted the money as a loan. I pulled $70 from my wallet and told him it was all the money I had. Rooney said it wasn't enough, but that it would help a little.

Goldblatt said he steadfastly refused to make additional payments and that the campaign of terrorism, which had ceased with the two payments made, was resumed with renewed vigor, until finally special guards were employed in an effort to stop the vandalism. Gross was on this special guard duty when he was slain early in the morning of May 23.

Defense Attorneys James M. Burke and William Scott Stewart tried to shake Goldblatt's testimony by raising the possibility of labor troubles besides those with the circular distributors' union. Goldblatt denied that there had been any other labor trouble.

Testimony of the Bartender.

Davidson, the bartender, caused a flurry among the defendants when he was led into the courtroom by a bailiff and a police guard. The defendants appeared to be wondering how much he had told the prosecutors. Davidson did not seem much at ease himself as he related his story under the questioning of Prosecutor Crowley.

Q.—Tell us what, if anything, unusual occurred on May 22 [the day before the murder]? A.—I went to work that morning about 9 o'clock. It was about 10 o'clock when Rooney came up to the bar and started to drink. He drank steadily, mostly by himself, until about 5 o'clock, when Berry joined him.

Q.—Did you overhear any conversation between Rooney and Berry? A.—Yes, Rooney told Berry that the state's attorney's men were shadowing him. He gave me $5 and told me to buy some field glasses. I bought them for him in a pawnshop, and he tried to look into an adjoining building, but could not see anything because of the darkness.

Rooney Calls for Woman.

Q.—Did anything occur after that? A.—Rooney instructed some one to call Miss Rizzo in Berwyn. He talked to her and told her to bring down her car. She arrived about 11 p. m.

Q.—Did she say anything? A.—Yes, she bawled Rooney out for drinking. She said to him: "You shouldn't drink, the doctor told you so."

Q.—Did Rooney say anything? A.—He told her he had a job to pull over at Goldblatt's. She said: "I am going with you," and he told her she was not. They had a little argument and finally she handed him a revolver from her purse.

Q.—What did Rooney do? A.—He looked the revolver over and then took one from his own pocket and looked that over. He handed both of them to her and told her to put them back in her purse.

Q.—Did Rooney say anything? A.—He said: "Come on, Berry, we have some work to do." Then they left. I watched them out of the window and saw the men get in Miss Rizzo's car and she went in Rooney's car, a larger one.

Takes Out Gun: "Ditch This."

Q.—Did you see them again? A.—Yes, they returned in 15 or 20 minutes. I let them in. Rooney took out his gun and handed it to Miss Rizzo and said: "Ditch this." Then she went away.

Q.—Did Rooney say anything after that? A.—Yes, he said: "You ought to see the way he keeled over." I asked who it was and Rooney said: "Some guard." Berry said: "You ought to see the way he gave it to him."

Q.—Did Rooney and Berry continue to drink? A.—They did, but Berry left about 7 o'clock in the morning. Rooney stayed until about 10 o'clock and I have not seen him since.

Q.—Did Berry come back? A.—Yes, he came back about 3 o'clock, still under the influence of liquor, and warned me that if anybody questioned me I was to say I had not seen him in headquarters on May 22 or 23. Before that Rooney had told me the same thing.

Points Out Defendants.

The prosecutors then asked Davidson to step down from the witness stand and point out the men he was talking about. Davidson stood at a distance from the defendants, pointed at them and identified them by name.

Attorneys Burke and Stewart took turns trying to tear down Davidson's testimony. They could not shake his story of the details, but did succeed in showing that Rooney had picked him up on Madison street and made him a circular distributor. Davidson said he was married, but refused to tell the address of his wife.

The prosecution produced evidence to corroborate Davidson's story of the purchase of the field glasses for Rooney. Leo Fogel testified that Davidson appeared in his store on May 22 and purchased the field glasses for $3.50. Fogel displayed a duplicate receipt of the sale.

Edwin S. Wilcox, a guard who was on duty with Gross on the night he was shot to death, told the story of the murder. Both men were in an automobile in front of the store when the shooting occurred.

"Gross was asleep in the back seat while I sat in the front," Wilcox said. "I heard a shot and dropped to the floor. I saw the flash of a gun from a passing car. I got a fair look at the car and it gave off a maroon glint. It looked as though some one was shooting over the driver's shoulder. As the car drove away I heard some one say, 'I got that bird.'"

At this point it was revealed that the state had reënacted the crime with a policeman driving Miss Rizzo's car. Wilcox testified that the car used in the reënactment seemed to be the same car he saw on the night of the murder.

This testimony was admitted to the record over the objection of the defense.

Policeman Identifies Berry.

Policeman Joseph Wisiolowski closed the day's hearing by identifying Berry as the man who broke a window in the Goldblatt store on April 25, 1932. The policeman said that he was the chauffeur of a squad car that went to the store to investigate a stench bombing.

As he sat in the car while other squad members went into the store, the policeman said, a man broke a store window "right under my nose." The window breaker, identified as Berry, made his escape by leaping into a moving automobile, the policeman said.

ROBBERY VICTIMS VIEW BODY OF SLAIN GANGSTER

Victims of robberies were called to the county morgue yesterday to view the body of Edward Maciejewski, alias Eddie Mack, who was slain yesterday by police after a robbery of a café at 2001 West Grand avenue. It was regarded as a sign of the times that Mack, once a gangster of dangerous repute and supposedly affiliated with a powerful beer gang, had fallen so low in his chosen profession that he had staged a $20 café holdup.

Mack was with Willie Doody on May 25, 1928, when the latter killed Chief Charles Levy of the Berwyn police force. Mack escaped conviction for complicity in the murder and eventually was released. He had served several sentences in prison and had been paroled three times.

Yesterday morning three men entered the café on Grand avenue and took $20 from Samuel Guardina, proprietor. As the robbers were leaving Policemen Walter Garrison, Henry Foerst, and Charles Martin of the West North avenue station arrived. The bandits fired at the policemen, who returned the fire, killing Mack. The other bandits escaped.

Thomas Greenberg, 28 years old, 1506 South Spaulding avenue, viewed the body and identified Mack as the bandit who had shot him when he resisted a holdup attempt. Greenberg was arrested after he sought aid at a hospital for a bullet wound in the right leg. He was released after making the identification.

PEERY IS LEADING FOR GOVERNOR IN VIRGINIA RACE

Richmond, Va., Aug. 1.—(AP)—State Senator W. Worth Smith at 11 o'clock tonight conceded the Democratic nomination for governor to George C. Peery. At that hour Peery's vote was almost four times that of his closest opponent and was almost twice the combined vote polled by Smith and Joseph T. Deal, with only 485 out of 1,685 precincts missing.

The vote was: Deal, 23,996; Peery, 88,542; Smith, 22,806.

The three candidates favor the repeal of the 18th amendment.

Dominick Russo, one legged alcohol dealer of Cicero and a protégé of Al Capone, who was shot to death yesterday as he sat in front of a garage at 5337 West 25th street, Cicero, was a victim of an alcohol dispute, the police decided last night.

On that theory they were holding for further questioning Anthony Muscato, 1801 South Scoville avenue, Berwyn; Michael Caruso, 2217 Elmwood avenue, Berwyn, and Meyer Smith, 1627 Humboldt boulevard. Muscato was Russo's right hand man. According to the police, Smith peddled booze for Russo, and Caruso, a brother-in-law, was Russo's chauffeur.

Of the three, investigators said they regarded Muscato as the most important. Possibly, they asserted, he put Russo on the spot with a view of seizing control of his business.

Muscato Denies Charge.

Muscato denied this, but he admitted having been with Russo until a few seconds before the killing.

The slaying of Russo was dramatic. Apparently at peace with the world, he was sitting in a chair in front of the garage just after Muscato walked away when three killers, who entered the garage through a rear door, crept up behind the doomed man. His back was turned to them.

At close range the killers pumped bullets into his head and body. Miss Adeline Kolacek, 2616 South 58th court, Cicero, and Mrs. Beatrice Vilna, 5539 Cermak road, workers in a Cicero relief station across the street, witnessed the killing.

Arsenal Found in Home.

Shortly after the murder the police went to Russo's home, 1817 Home avenue, Berwyn, where they found several revolvers and shotguns. They found Smith with Russo's widow and took them into custody. In Smith's pockets detectives found a book recording $25,000 in alcohol sales and carrying several notations of "Cops, $10," and "Cops, $15." The widow said she knew nothing of her husband's operations and she was released.

Russo, also known as Tony Marino, came to Chicago from New York five years ago. He was known in the western suburbs as an automobile speeder, driving his car between 50 and 80 miles an hour. He was involved in two serious auto crashes, one of which resulted in the death of Sally Sirusas, 19 years old, 2739 West 43d street, a passenger in his car.

The other accident resulted in injuries to Mrs. Anna S. Jirgl, 1443 West 18th street, secretary to Frank Petru, president of the Cicero board of education. She was in another car.

MACHINE GUN FIRE KILLS HOTEL CLERK SUSPECTED OF MURDER

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—After a spectacular 45 minute machine gun battle by police, George Perry, 43, and former hotel clerk, was wounded fatally after he killed Samuel Murta, 77, wealthy proprietor of several low price hotels here.

Although more than 50 policemen were summoned to the scene of the shooting, only 10 or 12 took an active part.

Holding a mirror outside a window to get a view of Perry's room without exposing themselves unduly, the police located Perry's position, and Detective A. W. Bean ended the battle by sending a volley of .25 caliber machine gun bullets into the slayer.

Perry died a short time after being taken to the City hospital.

Tear gas bombs had failed. But the bombs set fire to the hotel and the blaze was extinguished only after the gun battle was over.

COURT AWARDS INDIAN WOMAN MILLION DOLLARS

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A four word telegram from the Circuit Court of Appeals in Denver informed Hanna Anderson, 25 year old Creek Indian, that she had suddenly become immensely wealthy after a lifetime of drudgery.

The telegram read:

"Roberts versus Anderson affirmed."

The message meant that Hanna had won a lingering lawsuit that had tied up oil funds now totaling approximately $1,050,000 for several years.

The Indian woman had instituted suit through Merrick A. Whipple, attorney in many celebrated Indian cases, to quiet title to certain restricted Indian lands inherited by her from Lena Yahola Alexander, deceased fullblood Creek.

GROUP OVERSEES 250 EX-CONVICTS, GRAND JURY TOLD

Dr. F. Emory Lyon, superintendent of the Central Howard association, told the grand jury yesterday that his organization is entrusted with the care of approximately 250 paroled convicts, about 150 of them being from other states and federal prisons. He said, however, that his organization, which now has more paroled men under its supervision than ever before, would not take responsibility for any more ex-convicts.

The grand jury questioned Dr. Lyon as a result of the disclosures that Ross King, alias Kenneth G. Smith, identified as the slayer of Policeman Harry Redlich, was paroled from the Michigan penitentiary to Maj. F. C. Thomas of the Volunteers of America. John Bonglorno, King's companion in the killing, was paroled from Pontiac reformatory.

As a result of the information obtained from the volunteer supervisors of those on parole, the grand jurors, it is reported, will discuss the parole situation in a report to be presented to Chief Justice John Prystalski when the jury ends its service later in the week.

3 MORE GUNMEN SENT TO PRISON IN WAR ON CRIME

8 Judges Start Today on 65 Gun Cases.

CRIMINAL COURT.

William Thomas, robbery, sentenced to 1 year to life in the penitentiary; Thomas Clohesy, receiving stolen automobile, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary by Judge John Prystalski.

John Thompson, carrying concealed weapon, sentenced to 1 to 10 years in the penitentiary by Judge Joseph B. David.

Mike Santero, attempted larceny, sentenced to 1 to 5 years in the penitentiary by Judge Charles Molthrop.

William Coleman, forgery, sentenced to 1 to 14 years in the penitentiary on each of three charges; Stanley Morrison, conspiracy, sentenced to 1 year in the county jail by Judge Samuel Epstein.

Sam Battaglia and Joseph Mirabelle, rape, sentenced to 9 months each in the Bridewell by Judge Rudolph Desort.

Eight judges with a total of sixty-two robbery and three murder cases before them will plunge full speed this morning into the court war against gunmen. The organized campaign against criminals is being pushed by law enforcing authorities under the joint leadership of Chief Justice John Prystalski of the Criminal court and State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney.

Several of the judges took preliminary action against the gunmen yesterday, following the example set by Judge Joseph B. David on Monday, when he sentenced several robbers to prison. The real start of the drive, however, is set for this morning, when eight judges, of whom six have volunteered for summer duty, will be on the job. On Monday ten judges will be sitting to clear the calendar of gun cases.

Invokes Old Statute.

Three criminals, two of them gunmen and another an automobile thief, were sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday. Judge David invoked an almost forgotten statute to send a gun toter to the penitentiary instead of to the workhouse, on the misdemeanor charge of carrying concealed weapons. Five criminals were sentenced on Monday, making a total of eight in two days.

John Thompson, 23, colored, was the gun toter, who found that an old statute gave Judge David the right to send him to the penitentiary. Under the habitual criminal act any person caught with a revolver within five years of a conviction of a previous crime can be sentenced to one to ten years for a felony. Thompson, who was sentenced to Pontiac reformatory for burglary in 1929, was caught with a revolver on Jan. 5.

A "Potential Murderer."

"Here is a man who despite a previous conviction has the effrontery to carry a revolver," said Judge David. "He is a potential murderer and it gives me pleasure to enforce this old statute."

William Thomas, 26 years old, who said he was a former deputy sheriff at Taylorville, Ill., found that times have changed in Chicago. He was sentenced to one year to life in the penitentiary for robbery by Judge Prystalski. In a previous appearance in the Crimnial court in 1932 a robbery charge against Thomas was reduced to petty larceny and he was sentenced to six months in the Bridewell.

Thomas Clohesy, 21 years old, was sentenced to one to twenty years in the penitentiary for being in possession of an automobile stolen on May 8 from in front of 5340 Kimbark avenue. He was discovered in the car by the police, but escaped amid a shower of bullets. He was later arrested.

"That is a tough sentence for that kind of a charge," whined Clohesy. "Can't I have a new trial?"

Another development in the crime war was the announcement of Judge Charles A. Molthrop, in whose court John Scheck, murderer and bank robber, shot and killed Policeman John Sevick in an attempted escape, that he would have something "to say tomorrow" on his attitude on contempt proceedings for court attendants who permitted relatives to visit Scheck and give him a revolver. The judge indicated that speedy action would be taken.

Predicts Mother's Arrest.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's staff predicted that Mrs. Rose Sevick, mother of the police killer, and suspected of having given him the revolver, would be arrested within 24 hours.

Judge Marcus Kavanagh, dean of the Cook county jurists, who returned from a two months' rest in southern England to join the volunteer group of judges, yesterday issued a statement blaming the crime situation on the laxness of law enforcement officials.

"The judges have been too easy, the juries too lax, and the police officers in charge of the custody of criminals too careless and indulgent," said Judge Kavanagh. "The solution to the problem is in the enforcement of the law."

Judge Kavanagh and Judge David have been given the heaviest court calls for today. Each has been assigned fourteen gun robbery cases. Judge Joseph Sabath will handle eleven gun robbery cases, and Judge Prystalski will have ten similar cases. Judge Ross C. Hall will specialize in murder trials. He has two such cases on his call, including that against Scheck and his pal, Carl Gundhoefer. He also was assigned nine robbery cases.

Other Court Assignments.

Judge Molthrop has been assigned a murder case and four robery cases. Judge Miller, who is now engaged in the Rooney murder trial, will be asked to handle a robbery case. Judge Samuel Epstein will take care of the regular run of court business and an additional gun robbery case.

Chief Justice D. J. Normoyle of the Circuit court will break a tradition of the court when he appears for Criminal court service Monday morning. Judge Walter La Buy is the other judge expected to start work next Monday.

Movie Actress on "Strike"

SYLVIA SIDNEY.

Arrives in Chicago

As she stepped from a United Air Line plane at the Chicago airport yesterday Sylvia Sidney, film actress, faced interviewers with a declaration that she wasn't interested in the protests of Paramount officials because she walked out on a picture in production. Just out of the hospital after an operation on her throat, she refused to return to her rôle in "The Way to Love," opposite Maurice Chevalier, which the company asserts will cost $100,000 in substituting scenes.

Accompanied by B. P. Schulberg, producer for Paramount, her mother and others, Miss Sidney reached Chicago on her way to New York to consult a physician there. If he agrees, the entire party will sail for Europe, where she will rest, she said. Charges have been filed by Paramount with the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, that Miss Sidney "violated the cherished tradition of the acting professional, that a part once begun cannot be abandoned."

SLIPPER TOSSED IN PLAY CAUSES DEATH OF GIRL, 10

A playful attempt by her mother to halt loud playing on a radio set caused the death yesterday of Sybil Revor, 10 years old, 12203 Yale avenue.

On July 18 Mrs. Revor, her son Russell, 17 years old, and Sybil were together in the living room of their home. Russell was asked to stop the radio noises and was so slow in obeying that Mrs. Revor tossed her slipper at him. The missile struck Sybil, inflicting a small gash on her head.

The injury seemed trivial and no ill effects became apparent until Saturday, when the little girl complained that her neck hurt. Her father, Louis, an employé of the city controller's office, summoned a physician. Sybil was removed to a hospital, but tetanus developed and she died yesterday.

Call Aldermen to Meet for Baggage Haul Inquiry

Notices were sent out yesterday for a meeting on Friday morning of the city council subcommittee that has been directed by Ald. James B. Bowler [25th], chairman of the local transportation committee, to investigate charges that the Parmelee Transfer company's rates for hauling baggage are in excess of the maximum provided by city ordinance. The members of the subcommittee are George A. Williston [49th], chairman; John F. Healy [6th], William A. Rowan [10th], Roger J. Kiley [37th], and Z. H. Kadow [33d].

Crowd Sees Boy Drown in Jackson Park Harbor

Dozens of men and women saw a Negro boy drown last evening in the 59th street channel of the Jackson park yacht harbor. He was James Mills, 12 years old, 6412 St. Lawrence avenue. Witnesses said the boy sank after he had swum half way across the channel.

DR. BENJ. SQUIRES SURRENDERS ON RACKET CHARGES

Economist Issues Statement Defending Stand.

Dr. Benjamin M. Squires, University of Chicago economist and founder of the now defunct Cleaners' and Dyers' institute, surrendered at the Criminal court yesterday on the indictment charging him and twenty-three others with conspiracy to promote trade rackets. Upon posting a $10,000 bond, underwritten by the United States Fidelity and Guaranty company, he was released.

His attorney, James E. McShane, said the economist would demand an early trial and vindication. Dr. Squires issued a statement saying he entered the cleaning business at behest of R. I. Randolph, former president of the Chicago Association of Commerce, and certain Chicago labor leaders. His statement read:

"The contract under which I sought to stabilize the chaotic condition [in the cleaning field] was drawn by former Chief Justice Floyd Thompson of the Illinois Supreme court and he assured me of its validity. Under my supervision, the industry experienced less violence than at any other previous time.

Position on Racketeering.

"The so-called well known hoodlums joined with me in the indictment are entirely unknown to me. My position on racketeering, on violence in the industry, is well known and has been a matter of public utterance by me on repeated occasions.

"On one occasion I came out with a public announcement of the attempt of hoodlums and racketeers to gain a foothold in the industry. I might add that my connection with the industry was at the solicitation of the Chicago Association of Commerce, Chicago Federation of Labor, and certain members of the faculty of the University of Chicago, who represented it to me to be a public duty to attempt to clean out the industry."

Free Four Others.

Four other defendants, Charles Goldstein, James P. Gorman, Al Boris, and Ben Abrams, alias Alberts, all connected with unions in the cleaning industry, were released on bond when the bond department of the state's attorney's office approved the real estate scheduled as surety by Emil Denemark, west side automobile dealer. The four were seized Monday night in a raid on Moore's hotel near Burlington, Wis., and were brought back early yesterday after waiving extradition.

CONVICT SHIP TO BE SHOWN FRIDAY FOR POLICE HERO FUND

The Convict ship, moored at the river bank west of the Michigan avenue bridge, will be exhibited Friday especially for the benefit of the families of the nine Chicago policemen who have been slain since Jan. 1. The entire proceeds for the day will be turned over to THE TRIBUNE Police Hero fund, according to Capt. H. C. Wooten, who has charge of the ship.

The Convict ship was first launched in 1790 in Burma. It is built entirely of Burmese teakwood. It has sailed more than a million miles, much of its career having been devoted to the transportation of convicts from Liverpool to the famous prisons at Botany Bay, in Australia.

Yesterday contributions totaling $130 were added to the Police Hero fund. Since its establishment a total of $4,346.10 has been raised by public spirited Chicagoans, shocked over the killing of Policeman John Sevick in the Criminal Court building on July 24. One thousand dollars was given by The Tribune company as the fund's beginning.

The latest contributions are acknowledged as follows:

$50—F. L. Schreiner, A Friend.
$25—H. North.
$5—J. Edward Maass.

Total	$ 130.00
Previously acknowledged	4,216.10
Grand total	$4,346.10

Checks should be made payable to The Tribune Police Hero fund and sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower. The money will be divided among the nine families of the slain policemen.

DRIVER TO FACE COURT TODAY FOR THREATENING COP

Harry Strom, 33 years old, 1019 North Paulina street, said to be an ex-convict, will be arraigned in Fillmore street court this morning on a charge of threatening a policeman.

The alleged threat was made last Saturday when Policeman Edward Tracey stopped Strom in a car at Kedzie avenue and Roosevelt road for violation of the city vehicle tag ordinance. Tracey was compelled to leap on the running board of Strom's car and shut off the ignition to stop him.

Strom, according to Policeman Tracey, shouted: "If I had a gun, you'd never get away with anything like that. I'd kill you."

On orders of Capt. John Ryan of the Fillmore street station, Strom was booked for disorderly conduct and ordered into court today. Meanwhile Strom's wife, Elinore, 32 years old, was held last night when she called to see him. Police said Rockford authorities want to question her about the theft of two fur coats.

REFORMER HICKS IS ARRAIGNED ON WOMAN'S CHARGE

Charges of disorderly conduct against Edward H. Hicks, 71 years old, north side reformer and manager of the Uptown Business Men's association, were continued for further hearing to Aug. 9 by Judge Leon Edelman in Town Hall court yesterday. The complainant is Grace Allen, 52, of 4946 Sheridan road.

Back in 1908, the Allen woman said, when she was conducting a disorderly house, Hicks took a diamond pin from her and fired a pistol at her when she protested. On July 22, this year, she said, she met Hicks in front of his home at 4646 Kenmore avenue and, recalling the 1908 incident, threatened to have him arrested. Hicks thereupon told her, the Allen woman asserted, that such action wouldn't do her any good because he "had the Town Hall district by the ear" and that if she didn't leave him alone he would "do more than he did the last time." The disorderly case is based on this alleged conversation.

Hicks denounced the Allen woman's story as false and a frameup by Uptown gamblers whom he has harrassed. He admitted knowing her over a period of thirty years. The Allen woman asked a continuance to substantiate her charges, Judge Edelman warning her that she would be prosecuted if her charges are false.

LION AND GIRL CRASH AT FAIR; 3 HURT IN CROWD

Three spectators were injured last night when a small automobile, being driven at great speed around the inside walls of the Lion motordrome at the World's Fair, lost a front wheel and swerved upward to the top rim lined with spectators.

The car then crashed to the bottom of the pit, carrying with it Miss Marjorie Kemp, the driver, and a young lion, its featured passenger. Neither Miss Kemp nor the lion was hurt, but the beast became panicky and was quieted only after Miss Kemp fired several shots from a revolver.

The spectators hurt were Blair Barber, 21 years old, Walter Goessel, 30, and Goessel's brother, Milton, 22, all of Philadelphia. They were given medical aid in the emergency hospital, and then permitted to return to their Chicago quarters. The three, it is believed, were struck by loose parts of the car as they flew through the air after the wheel came off.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1.—(AP)—New York state has passed the million dollar mark in its collection of taxes from the sale of 3.2 beer and wine since they became legal April 7, the state tax department revealed today, without taking into account the returns during July.

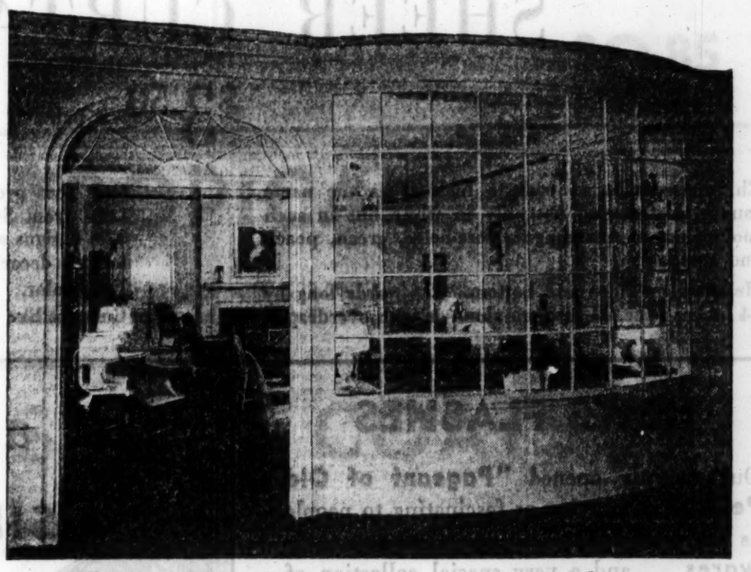
THE OLD-WORLD SHOP

AND

THE MODERN GALLERIES



They Are Next-Door Neighbors Yet They Are Centuries Apart

The clear-cut, well-poised beauty of the modern—the mellow, sentiment-stirring charm of the old! Here they are, side by side, on our Sixth Floor—so different that the very contrast sets off the appeal of each.

Step into the Old-World Shop, and you'll feel that time has slipped back. For here are reproductions of fine old pieces with years and years of tradition behind them—beautifully designed furniture, casually arranged for a leisurely and appreciative inspection—exquisite bits of bric-a-brac, displayed in a great bay window, suggestive of an English Shop.

Then turn to the Modern Galleries, where history is in the making. Here you'll find decorative pieces that represent the finest adaptations of the new trends in design—in a setting as full of challenge as the future itself.

HOW POLICEMAN LOST HIS LIFE IN RIOT CLASH

None of His Assailants Arrested.

This is the fourth in a series of stories recounting how nine policemen have been killed in action since Jan. 1.

At 9:40 o'clock on the night of June 1 a mob gathered in front of the small Royale bakery shop at 1240 South Kedzie avenue. Labor agitators tried to picket the shop, where all the work was done by the family of the owner, and communists in the crowd demanded cheaper bread.

Policeman Oscar E. Brosseau of the Fillmore station, who had been detailed to protect the bakery after threats had been received by the owner, ordered the men and women to move on. He followed them to 13th street, then returned and found three women, all pushing baby buggies, and three men in front of the bakery. They were shouting: "We want cheaper bread!" Policeman Brosseau ordered these people to move on, but they refused.

Known as Kind Policeman.

While the policeman was exhorting the men and women a considerable crowd gathered and the temper of the mob threatened trouble. Nevertheless, he did not resort to force, fearing that some of the women and children might be harmed. His associates recalled that Brosseau, a kindly man with a record of 27 years on the force, was always reluctant to use violence in a crowd lest some innocent spectator be injured.

Some one slipped up behind Policeman Brosseau, caught him by the ankles, and threw him off his feet. When he fell forward upon the sidewalk his right knee cap was fractured. Another man in the crowd kicked him in the mouth and some one struck him on the head and on the back with a baseball bat.

Dies of His Injuries.

Reports of a riot at the Kedzie avenue address brought three police squads, but when the first arrived the crowd was so large that a call for two others was sent in. Policeman Brosseau was found helpless on the sidewalk, unable to rise because of the injured knee, and bleeding profusely at the mouth. He was taken to St. Anthony's hospital, where he died on June 20, the eighth anniversary of his wedding.

A verdict of manslaughter by unknown assailants, returned by the coroner's jury, said the policeman died of pulmonary embolism resulting from the fractured knee cap.

The assailants had fled when the squad cars arrived and no one who could or would identify them was found in the crowd. No arrests were made.

Policeman Brosseau, who was 55 years old and lived at 5317 West Congress street, left one dependent, his widow, Mrs. Nellie Brosseau. His life savings, $2,500, were invested in real estate bonds, all of which had been in default for more than two years, and his only insurance was in the Policemen's Benefit association.

SEEK TO STOP HEROIZING OF GANGS BY PRESS

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Crime was attacked from many angles at the sectional meetings of the International Association of Chiefs of Police and identification experts at the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

One program of action, proposed by Malcolm W. Bingay, editorial director of the Detroit Free Press, which calls for a national campaign against the heroizing of gangsters and other criminals by newspapers, was adopted in the form of a resolution presented by a committee composed of H. D. Harper, chief of police of Colorado Springs, chairman; R. E. Steckel, chief of police of Los Angeles, and Austin J. Roche, police commissioner of Buffalo.

Seek to Alter Public View.

Under this resolution the immediate aid of the following organizations will be sought to bring about a different public attitude toward sensational publicity regarding gangsters and racketeers:

The American Newspaper Publishers' association.
The American Association of Advertising Agencies.
The Advertising Federation of America.
The American Society of Newspaper Editors.
The American Bar association.
Public Service administration, Chicago.

The resolution states that kidnaping, racketeering, and gangsterism confront the nation with something more sinister than war, that police are being murdered daily and "that they are constantly handicapped in their efforts to apprehend criminals because of the pernicious activity of that element of the American press which is irresponsible and lacking in any recognition of its social responsibility."

It directs the president of the chiefs' association to seek the appointment of a committee from each of the organizations named, so that "without delay a meeting will be held to coordinate a mighty nation-wide campaign to stamp out this menace to our civilization."

Speaks Before Police Chiefs.

Mr. Bingay addressed the police chiefs during the afternoon.

"The time has come," he said, "when the responsible newspapers of America must band together, as have the doctors and lawyers, to wage war on those who would ruin the standards of their profession. The yellow press of America created the fiction of the gangster and then through that fiction made him into a reality."

Mr. Bingay said that he had already been assured of the coöperation of the president of the American Newspaper Editors, Paul Bellamy of the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Justin Miller, dean of the school of law of Duke university, Durham, N. C., representing the American Bar association at this meeting, expressed himself as in favor of this action.

PHILIPPINE HOUSE ACTS TO DEMAND SELF-RULE 'NOW'

MANILA, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Philippine house approved tonight a concurrent resolution embodying the traditional demand for "immediate, complete, and absolute independence," but with an amendment asserting the action would not affect the legislature's decision on the pending congressional act offering independence in ten years.

Manuel Roxas, former speaker, urged that no vote be taken, saying it would be misinterpreted in the United States. The vote was 46 to 3, with 27 abstaining.

Many of those voting said they favored acceptance of the proffered deferred independence or a plebiscite upon it.

HOPE TO TRAP KIDNAP GANG IN ALBANY CASE

Lawyer for Go-Between Tells Own Story.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Detailed and exciting narrative of negotiations with the kidnapers of John J. O'Connell Jr. was presented for the first time tonight by Louis Snyder, attorney for Manny Strewl, intermediary in the case.

District Attorney John T. Delaney said Strewl accompanied detectives to New York City to make more clear some data he had supplied. National, state, and local authorities are searching for a band of Italian-Americans and arrests are hoped for in the near future.

Snyder replied to censure from the prosecutor concerning his and Strewl's share in the release of young O'Connell after payment of $40,000 ransom.

"All my activities were known to Dan O'Connell, and presumably to the officers in the case," Snyder asserted in response to a charge he had not aided the authorities properly. He revealed that, despite the kidnapers' refusal to accept the first $40,000 because it was marked, the money accepted also was prepared for later identification.

Snyder Tells His Story.

"Strewl called me the first part of the week of July 17," Snyder said. "He told me that he had received a letter from Johnnie O'Connell. I advised him to take it to Dan O'Connell. He said he had sent it.

"I didn't see the letter for several days and by that time Strewl had received others. The first letter I saw was dated July 15. I agreed to aid Strewl, as the O'Connells were old friends of mine. I want to make it clear that I received no fee and remained in the negotiations at Dan O'Connell's request.

"Strewl insisted that Dan go to New York with the ransom money, refusing to handle it himself. Dan said he couldn't go and asked me to go. He told me in what bank to deposit the money. That was on last Friday."

Ransom Paid in New York.

It was revealed the ransom was paid at the city home of Dan O'Connell at 142 Whitehall road. Snyder said he believed a representative of the district attorney was present when the $40,000 in marked money and the additional $2,300 for expenses was handed over.

Declaring, "Dan knew all about that extra money," Snyder continued, "In New York we stopped at the Empire hotel on 63d street and Broadway. Strewl had to go through elaborate twists and turns to get in touch with the kidnapers. He would get calls and then he would have to change taxicabs several times before he would be picked up by the car that the kidnapers had. They always blindfolded him during their talks.

"The first money was turned over to the kidnapers, but that same Friday night, they demanded new money. They wanted me to deposit it in several banks, but I made the exchange in one west side bank.

Bank Name Kept Secret.

"I won't say which one it was. That was on Saturday morning. The bank marked the second batch.

"On Saturday afternoon the gang advised Strewl that young O'Connell would be turned over at 11:30 o'clock at night. They said they were reviving him with whisky.

"The boy was actually freed like this: Strewl's car was parked at Broadway and 220th street. I was told to stay at a certain corner. I won't say where that was.

"Strewl was taken from his car by part of the kidnap mob and driven around. Johnny [O'Connell] was taken from the hideaway in a truck, transferred to a passenger car and then placed in Strewl's car blindfolded and gagged. Then Strewl was returned. He picked me up and we started back for Albany.

"I knew I was watched on that corner. On the way to Albany we stopped.

Wants Letters Returned.

"The mob had demanded that six or seven letters they had written to the O'Connells be returned to them and this was done, but some were held out for the authorities. They all had different postmarks."

The district attorney said the O'Connells had cooperated from the start. He indicated he had criticized the family to delude the kidnapers.

"These cases are hard to solve," the prosecutor added, "especially when we are not tipped off when and where the money is to be passed.

If Snyder had given us that information, we would have had the men, dead or alive, and the boy would have been unharmed. We didn't care whether they were dead or alive. We figured we had to kill them. We knew what kind of gang we were dealing with. At least we thought we did."

The prosecutor said Strewl should have given him more information, adding Strewl was not under arrest. "but he can't walk out on us." He declared regarding Strewl "you can't act as a go-between in cases like this without being charged with something."

$200,000 PAID KIDNAPERS TO FREE URSCHEL

Oklahoma City, Okla., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Ransom of $200,000 was paid to the kidnapers of Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire, whom they seized in his home here on July 22, authorities asserted tonight.

The money was paid in a hotel in Kansas City last Saturday, it was understood.

Mrs. Urschel, who was the widow of Tom B. Slick, multi-millionaire "king of the oil wildcatters," admitted paying, without attempt at reduction, the amount demanded. She would not state the amount.

Arthur Seeligson, attorney and chief intermediary in the negotiations, would only say:

"I shall not tell you what was paid. That is a family affair."

Urschel was released late last night near the town of Norman, thirty miles from Oklahoma City. Taking a taxicab there, he hurried home. He was in good health and there was nothing unusual about his appearance except that his eyes were red and inflamed. They had been kept taped during part of the nine days while he was a prisoner. Except for being handcuffed at night, he said he was "well treated."

"I don't know where I was taken," he said. "It was a long way. I should judge that they drove me several hundred miles before putting me out at Norman last night. They held me in a rough shack. The worry kept me from sleeping or resting much."

74 U. S. BOARDS TO WORK CODES FOR INDUSTRIES

Two Groups Located in Chicago.

experience. It would have been an injustice to me to have had it taken away. It seems to me we'll have to keep on letting boys carry newspapers. It's healthy work and only a few hours a day outside of school hours.

"Then there's the question," Mr. Johnson added, "of what to do about reporters and the 40 hour week, and finally how to settle existing labor contracts." The administrator showed himself not fully decided as yet whether an employer who has contracts with his workers obtained through collective bargaining should not be permitted to maintain those contracts and still display the blue eagle of compliance with NRA, even though the contracts may stand for a longer work week than the President's agreement prescribes.

REJECTS PRICE FIXING

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Advocates of federal regulation of petroleum prices were told tonight by Hugh S. Johnson, the industrial administrator, that he would not recommend any price fixing to President Roosevelt until the effect of production control had been determined.

Johnson's statement was made as committees representing the various factions of the oil industry assembled with him to work out a trade practice plan. They began their sessions with a tentative draft submitted by Johnson after the oil men were unable to agree.

Wirt Franklin, president of the Independent Petroleum association and spokesman for the emergency national committee of 54 set up under the auspices of the American Petroleum institute, insisted price control was necessary.

The committee for which Franklin spoke recently voted 27 to 18 in favor of price regulation.

The absence of price regulation was construed in oil circles as a victory for Walter C. Teagle, president of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, and the forces joined with him in opposing that action.

Those Backing Teagle.

Included in the group of oil men lined up with Teagle, the chairman of the advisory committee assisting Johnson, were John Elliott, an independent and a committee member, the Standard of Indiana, the Royal Dutch Shell company, the Texas company, the Gulf company, and a number of independent organizations under the leadership of Jack Blalock of Marshall, Texas.

The numerical majority of oil men, leaders in the industry said, favored price control, including K. R. Kingsbury, president of the Standard of California; Harry F. Sinclair, the Consolidated Oil company; Henry M. Dawes, Pure Oil company; Frank Coates, H. L. Doherty & Co., and others.

For United States Price Control.

Among the 18 voting in the Petroleum institute against asking that price regulation be included in a trade plan were W. S. Farish, chairman of the board of the Standard of New Jersey; E. G. Seubert, Standard of Indiana; C. B. Ames, the Texas company; C. E. Arnott, Socony-Vacuum corporation; J. C. Van Eck, Shell Union Oil corporation; W. M. Irish, Atlantic Refining company, and J. Howard Pew, Sun Oil company.

Blalock and his group, in which were included organizations with which Elliott has been associated, in presenting a substitute code to Johnson for that advocated by the institute adherents, formally opposed price regulation.

Opponents of price control contended informally that holding production to conform with demand will keep prices in line, while advocates asserted that regulation was necessary to protect both the industry and the consumer against erratic increases in prices.

See Jobs in Wool Code.

Increased wages for 250,000 workers and employment for 25,000 more who now are idle are contemplated in the wool textile code to which President Roosevelt today gave his official approval.

Under it woolen mill workers will have their hours reduced to 40 hours a week, with minimum wages fixed at $14 in the north and $13 weekly in the south. The code will become effective Aug. 14.

The hours and minimum wages finally established did not meet entirely with the approval of labor chieftains, who had requested a 30 hour week and a minimum wage of $18.

The code contained a guarantee against reduction of wages under the shorter week and safeguards against the stretch out system by which employés are given more machines to tend.

Other provisions of the code included restrictions of machine operation to two shifts of forty hours a week and submission by all employers at regular intervals of statistical data regarding employment, production, stocks on hand, financial and cost data, and consumption and stocks of raw material.

Seek Shoe Industry Rules.

Early settlement of differences between opposing factions of shoe manufacturers appeared in sight tonight. A code of fair competition for the industry will be presented this week, it was said.

Two codes have been submitted by disputing groups of shoe men, but both were rejected with instructions to the manufacturers to compose their differences and present a single program.

A conference between leaders of the National Boot and Shoe Manufacturers' association and the American Shoe Manufacturers' association is expected here tomorrow or Thursday in an effort to reach a compromise on points in controversy.

Expect Early Shoe Code.

"I hope they'll get together," Deputy Administrator C. C. Williams said today. I'm going to do everything I can to get them together."

Williams added that because of the size of the boot and shoe industry the national recovery administration was anxious to extend its wage raising, work spreading program to that group as soon as possible.

The two groups agree on a 40 hour week but differ on minimum wages and are particularly in disagreement on the extent of the wage differential that should be maintained between large and small communities.

The national association has proposed a sliding scale of from $12 to $13 for women, and from $14 to $15 weekly for men, depending on the size of the community, while the American association, organized because of opposition of southern and western manufacturers to the wage proposals of the national group, submitted a code calling for a wage for men or from $12 to $14.

JOBS CODE RUSH GOES ON; 13,930 SIGN IN A DAY

Total in Chicago District Mounts to 27,219.

The rush of business concerns in this district to join President Roosevelt's reëmployment campaign continued unabated yesterday. When the offices of F. L. Roberts, district manager for the United States department of commerce, closed last night, 27,219 concerns in Illinois, Iowa, and Wisconsin had sent in acceptances of the industrial recovery code which puts into effect shorter working hours and minimum wage scales.

The pledges mailed in from the three states yesterday totaled 13,930, which, added to the previous registration of 13,289, made the total of 27,219 companies now entitled to fly the "blue eagle" banner which proclaims "We Do Our Part."

4,692 on "Honor Roll."

The task of sorting these acceptances into various classifications was a slow one. Thus far 4,692 Chicago concerns have been listed on the official "honor roll" at the postoffice, with more to be posted today. These Chicago companies employ 187,899 workers.

Unofficial estimates have placed a minimum of 10 per cent as the probable increase in employment due to the new code, indicating that at least 18,000 extra jobs will be available in this city in the near future.

A warning was issued by employment agencies that a great majority of the business houses have not yet adjusted their affairs to the new program and that actual hiring has not begun as yet. Persons now out of work and hopeful of employment because of the adoption of the code by business may have to wait some time before their hope of getting work is realized, it was said.

Some Employers Puzzled.

Employers who have joined in the recovery campaign are still puzzled about various aspects of the new act, it was pointed out. This was emphasized by Mr. Roberts, whose office was swamped with calls from business houses and trade associations seeking interpretations of the numerous phases of the act. Until these problems are solved employers will scarcely be able to estimate just what their needs will be under the new program, it was pointed out, and extra employés will not be hired until then.

"We are well equipped, however, to answer all questions," Mr. Roberts said. "We have complete instructions on all points of the act and can clear up the questions of any employer on any problem about which he is uncertain."

Many thousands more of acceptances of the recovery code are expected by Mr. Roberts today.

Unable to Estimate Jobs.

No accurate estimate of the number of jobs to be available in this region under the recovery act could be obtained yesterday. Officials of the large mail order houses such as Sears, Roebuck & Co. and Montgomery Ward & Co. said they would not know for some days exactly what extra help would be needed to compensate for the shorter working hours under the new system.

The International Harvester company announced frankly that it can function under the new act without hiring extra help and that an increase of business and the hiring of more employés depend upon the return of prosperity to the farmer. Other large concerns said that an announcement as to the probable number of extra jobs available would be premature at this time.

Similarly, groceries, furniture stores, clothiers, dry goods, and shoe stores were busily engaged in working out plans for procedure under the new plan. Hiring will not begin for a few days, it was stated.

Optimistic Spirit Prevails.

The tide of optimism was strong, however, as the first working day under the recovery code ended. There were long lines of persons in the United States courthouse seeking the banners and placards announcing acceptance of the President's program. Thousands of the insignia were issued by C. P. Scheel, assistant postmaster, during the day.

The enthusiasm of employers was typified by Walter E. Olson, president of the Olson Rug company. He said that he had heard President Roosevelt's recent speech over the radio and had been so elated that he returned to Chicago immediately from his vacation in the north woods to direct any changes in the company policy made necessary by the new code.

Headquarters of the American Hospital association issued a statement to its 4,500 members advising them to sign the reëmployment agreement and to put its provisions into effect with respect to maids, orderlies, laundry workers, and employés of similar classifications. The administrative, professional, nursing, and student staffs of hospitals do not come under the provisions of the code, the association declared it had been informed.

20,000 Off Relief Rolls.

Probably more than 20,000 persons were dropped from the Cook county relief rolls in July because of reëmployment, J. L. Moss, director of public welfare for the county, announced. Although exact figures were not available, Mr. Moss expressed a confidence that at least that number got jobs during the month. In June, 20,300 were taken off the relief rolls for the same reason, he said.

On April 1 there were 148,000 names on the relief rolls, he pointed out. In April, 1,200 were droped because of reemployment. In May, 9,100 more no longer needed relief. Added to June's 20,300 taken off relief, and the 20,000 or more droped in July, the final figures to be given out in a few days will probably show Cook county's needy and idle under the 100,000 mark for the first time in many months, Mr. Moss said.

MINERS' STRIKE A COMPLICATION TO CODE MAKERS

Fear Raising Dispute on Open Shop.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The rioting in the coal mining zone of southwestern Pennsylvania, where 30,000 miners have struck, may lead to intervention of some sort by the national recovery administration. With the codes for the coal, iron and steel, and oil industries—three basic groups—now awaiting action, N. R. A. officials are somewhat worried over the outlook of an industrial dispute in progress during the negotiations.

Hearings on the coal code are set for Aug. 14, and officials of the United Mine Workers suggested today that they be stepped up a week and set for Aug. 7. The National Coal Association, controlled by nonunionized operators, have asked Administrator Hugh Johnson to look into the troubles in the strike region, and he has designated Edward F. McGrady, labor adviser to N. R. A., to investigate the situation.

May Call in Leaders.

Conjectures tonight were that the acceptance of a code for the coal industry may be expedited and that meanwhile leaders on both sides of the Pennsylvania coal troubles might be called in by N. R. A. in an effort to straighten things out.

In Washington the issue of collective bargaining is regarded as being tested. The coal troubles are regarded as impinging to a degree upon the controversy over open shop versus unions in the iron and steel industry. The open shop clauses were taken out of the proposed iron and steel code yesterday by the steel men to keep the controversy out of the settlement of a code, but they declared plainly that they would stand for the present systems of employés' councils in the industry to carry on collective bargaining.

Strike Based on Open Shop.

The Pennsylvania coal disorders, according to John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, grew out of "a campaign by the H. C. Frick Coke company, a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation, among their employés intended to discourage their affiliation with the United Mine Workers of America."

It has spread to union mines, despite warnings from union leaders.

Action on a code has been delayed to some extent by the fact that Kenneth M. Simpson, deputy administrator, is in charge of the negotiations for the codes for coal, iron and steel, and oil, which is quite a load for one set of human shoulders.

Forms Advisory Councils.

As to whether the code, in the shape it emerges, will provide for an advisory council, as suggested by President Green of the American Federation of Labor, to act as contact between the industry and N. R. A., Mr. Johnson said councils of this sort are in all codes so far established.

"I would not favor any code that did not contain such a provision," he remarked.

On the old issue of how collective bargainings should be carried out, the administrator reiterated that N. I. R. A. provides for collective bargaining through employés chosen by the workers.

The general theory echoing through the miles and miles of corridors in the marble palace of the commerce department is that it all means the effort of the unions to unionize the mills, traditionally open shop, will shift back into the mills themselves instead of in the code negotiations, and, in other words, affairs will be just about as they were in 1919, when the same controversy was being battled over.

Plenty of Coal Codes.

As to coal, there is an amplitude of codes before NRA. Codes have been submitted by seven or eight groups. The Lewis code, submitted July 13, after conferences with bituminous operators mining 25 per cent of the soft coal, or 125 million tons, provides for a basic wage of $5 a day for inside miners and $4 for outside in the northern fields.

South of the Ohio it is to be 5 per cent less, or, respectively, $4.75 and $3.80. It provides for a 35 hour week, reserving the right of the miners to ask for a 30 hour week. Mr. Lewis has claimed that the former nonunion fields have been organized and that the union represents 600,000 workers, including 125,000 in anthracite.

Nonunion groups of operators, said to represent 50 per cent of the output, have submitted codes with a basic wage about one dollar below the Lewis code, and for a 40 or 44 hour week.

ONE DEAD, MANY HURT IN PENNA. MINE DISORDER

Brownsville, Pa., Aug. 1.—(AP)—One striker was killed and more than a score wounded today as deputy sheriffs with guns and tear gas turned back pickets during a day of turmoil in the state's troubled soft coal fields, where a strike spread to more than 30,000 miners.

Fighting broke out at four mines and the casualties included nine men wounded by pistol and shotgun fire, five seared by tear gas, and others injured by stones.

The disorders flared after national guardsmen were withdrawn from patrol duty by their commander, Maj. Kenneth W. Momeyer, who was represented as feeling the strike area is too vast to be patroled by his force of 325 men.

Peace overtures by the governor failed today as representatives of the Frick company, in whose mines the strike started in Fayette county, declined to attend a conference with miners' representatives in the state capital.

The miners are demanding recognition of the United Mine Workers of America.

National Tea Co. is enrolled under the Blue Eagle standard of President Roosevelt's National Recovery Plan, operating under a CODE OF FAIR COMPETITION FOR THE FOOD AND GROCERY DISTRIBUTORS industry established under the National Industrial Recovery Act.

In enthusiastic support of President Roosevelt's National Recovery Plan, which has for its objectives the placing of men and women to work, establishing a minimum compensation for their labor, and a maximum hour week of employment; as well as seeking to establish a proper basic price to the farmer for the products produced, the officials of the National Tea Co. enthusiastically endorse this program, and are co-operating in every way possible toward bringing about its success.

Together with others in the food and grocery distribution industry in this community the National Tea Co. takes its place in the compliance of the provisions of this CODE OF FAIR COMPETITION in a patriotic spirit, and asks its employees, as well as its many friends among the consuming public to join together in this sincere effort to live up to the spirit, as well as the wording of the code under the Blue Eagle, so that as rapidly as all industry can adjust itself to the new plan that all of our people and fellow citizens may again have the privilege of following their vocation, enabling them to earn a livelihood for themselves and family. The plan can be made a success by whole-hearted co-operation. We will do our part toward that end.

SUITS

at three dramatic prices

$33.50 $37.50 $43.50

Last February we stated that we would hold but two selling events like this a year—one in the early part of the year and one during Mid-Summer. Now it's August—and we're making one of the most important suit announcements that we have made in years.

We've taken hundreds of suits from our fine stocks and grouped them at three sensational prices for this sale. We've closed our eyes to the fact that prices on woolens today have already increased substantially. The values are remarkable—and when we say that practically every suit is hand-tailored to our own specifications, many have two pairs of trousers and all are rich, good-looking fabrics and patterns cut in both smart single and double-breasted styles, then we think we've said enough to make you realize that several suits purchased now will be one of the shrewdest investments you've ever made.

Also reduced—Several hundred lightweight Flannels and Tropical Worsteds, $29.50

TOPCOATS and OVERCOATS

are included in this event—at these two prices

$33.50 $43.50

"Coats at a time like this" you say! Wise men will realize that this is perhaps one of the most unusual values in this event. For here are woolens that can't possibly be purchased again at the prices we paid for them. Rough fleeces, smart, plain fabrics—only a limited number of them, but what values!

SUITS—THIRD FLOOR OVERCOATS—FOURTH FLOOR

PREP SUITS reduced to $12.75 and $18.50

In order to make this August event floorwide on both the Third and Fourth Floors we have even included a limited number of Prep Suits at reduced prices. Not every size in every style but a complete range to choose from. Every suit has two pairs of trousers, is well made of sturdy, all-wool fabric. Get in early and take advantage of these values.

PUT 118 MILLION MORE ASIDE FOR PUBLIC WORKS

Total Allotments Exceed Billion Dollars.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Federal handouts of easy money from the administration's public works fund, soared today, past the billion dollar mark.

Allotments totalling $118,282,000 for one state and five federal projects were announced by Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes following a meeting of the cabinet advisory board for public works. Added to allotments already made, they brought the total thus far earmarked out of the 3 billion 300 million dollar fund to $1,058,166,201.

Will Cost 63 Million.

The state project to be financed by the government was beneficiary of the largest allotment of the day. Sixty-three million dollars, Secretary Ickes announced, is allotted for construction of the Grand Coulee dam in the Columbia river basin.

The state of Washington is to undertake the dam project, it is understood. Thirty per cent of the 63 million total cost, or $18,900,000 represents a direct outright gift by the federal government. The remainder is to be loaned to the state, at low interest rates over a long time period.

Funds for Seaway Project.

The upper Mississippi nine foot channel project, already approved by President Roosevelt, was allotted $11,500,000. This is a federal project to be undertaken under the government's rivers and harbors program.

Another $22,700,000 of the public works fund was earmarked for the Caspar-Alcova reclamation project in Wyoming, for many years the pet scheme of Senator John B. Kendrick [Dem., Wyo.].

The reclamation work in Wyoming to be financed with the allotment will put between 50 and 100 thousand acres of arid land back in cultivation at a time when another branch of the government—the department of agriculture—is levying heavy taxes on the consumers of the country to pay for taking farm land out of production under the farm relief experiments.

New Reclamation Policy.

But the apparent discrepancy is to be adjusted through inauguration of an entirely new policy in federal reclamation work. In order to balance the production, it is explained, the government intends to purchase marginal farm lands now in cultivation and take them out of production.

The price of this adjustment principle has not yet been determined, but it looms large in view of the fact that land to be irrigated by the reclamation work will produce several times as much as the marginal lands to be bought up by the government. It will therefore be necessary for the government to purchase several times as much marginal land as it irrigates in order to keep the production in balance.

Although millions are already being spent in maintaining the civilian conservation corps in the nation's forests, $15,982,745 was allotted today to the federal forest service for additional activities in caring for the forest lands.

Money Already Allocated.

Another $2,600,000 went to the coast and geodetic survey for surveying and mapping, and $2,500,000 was allotted the geological survey for topographic research in the field.

Allocations of federal easy money for public works announced prior to today were as follows: 400 million for public roads, 50 million for Indian reservation trails, 25 million for subsistence homesteads, 100 million for the farm credit administration, 238 million for naval construction, 50 million for the Tennessee valley authority, 20 million for the civilian conservation corps, 20 million for the purchase of land, and $230,000 for administrative expenses of the public works and industrial recovery administrations.

PLATFORM FALLS AS CROWD SEES FIGHT; HALF HUNDRED HURT

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—From forty to sixty persons, part of the hundreds who had climbed to the upper platform around the outdoor swimming pool of Steeplechase park, Coney Island, the better to see a fight between two men, were injured this afternoon when about forty feet of the railing gave way.

The victims were dropped to the roofs of bathhouses and into the alleys between.

The accident threw the crowded resort into confusion.

Three police emergency squads, eight ambulances, and fifteen doctors were rushed to the scene. Many of the injured were treated on the spot; others were removed to hospitals and to the Coney Island police station. The two men who had been fighting were taken into custody.

Zeigler Population Gains; No Vacant Homes in Town

Zeigler, Ill., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The population of Zeigler is increasing. With mines working near normal every available house in the city has been taken, and indications are that a large building program will be under way in the near future.

LAWYER SHOT BY BROTHER-IN-LAW, WHO ADMITS ACT

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—James F. Ryan, 40 years old, an attorney in the employ of the Preferred Insurance company of Boston, was shot three times and probably mortally wounded today in the apartment of his brother-in-law, George C. MacDonald, in the Bronx. MacDonald was arrested on a felonious assault charge.

Ryan and his wife, with Mr. Ryan's mother, had come down to New York yesterday from their home at Brighton, Mass.

Ryan was taken to Fordham hospital, where it was said he probably would not recover. MacDonald readily admitted the shooting, but declined to give his motive.

"It was not for any one reason," he said, adding that the causes of his act went back over six years. "I am willing to take my medicine," he said.

STERLING POLICEMAN DIES.

Sterling, Ill., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Elmer Jacobs, 55, city patrolman for a number of years, was taken ill on duty today and died of heart trouble.

Alleged Thief Charged with Murder of Girl

A coroner's jury yesterday recommended that Melvin Tresize, 22 years old, alleged automobile thief, be found and held to the grand jury for the murder of his sweetheart, Helen Rusnak, 19 years old. The girl was found shot to death Monday in the apartment in which she had lived with Tresize at 316 Center street.

ATTACK VALIDITY OF MILK CODE IN FEDERAL COURT

Suit Test Case for Farm Recovery Act.

The first attack upon the constitutionality of the agricultural adjustment act was opened yesterday before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson. The plaintiffs are proprietors of roadside stands surrounding Chicago who sell milk and cream at cut rates on a cash and carry basis.

They seek to restrain United States Attorney Dwight H. Green and Don N. Geyer, acting dairy administrator in the Chicago milkshed, from enforcing against them the provisions of the trade agreement and blanket license for milk distributors promulgated under the authority of the agricultural act and from prosecuting them for violations of the agreement and license.

Plan Full Hearing.

Judge Wilkerson, after an extended discussion of their bill of complaint with Attorneys Joseph E. Green and Albert Langeluttig, representing the Independent Milk Distributors' association, postponed the hearing until Monday. He said that he would ask another federal judge to hear his regular call, and would give the case a full hearing at that time.

As soon as news of the federal court suit reached Washington, the department of agriculture began preparation to combat the action, according to dispatches. Jerome Frank, attorney for the farm administrators, delegated Francis Goertner, an attorney, who directed drafting of the Chicago agreement, to confer with representatives of the attorney general's office to prepare a defense.

Similar agreements for some 60 cities depend upon the success of the plan in Chicago, so that the action before Judge Wilkerson will probably develop into the first test case of the Roosevelt administration's farm relief program.

Prosecution Is Delayed.

Assistant United States Attorney Warren Canaday assured Judge Wilkerson that no action would be taken against the independent dealers until the completion of the hearing which starts Monday. Under the agricultural act violators of the milk trade agreement are subject to loss of license and to a fine of $1,000 a day if they continue to do business after the license has been revoked.

The signatories of the milk trade agreement for the Chicago metropolitan area, under which Secretary Wallace has issued a blanket license governing all milk producers and distributors which became effective at noon yesterday, were the Pure Milk association, representing some 13,000 dairy farmers, and the Chicago Milk Dealers' association and Milk Council, Inc., representing the large dairy companies.

It is their contention that the first step necessary to restore prosperity to the dairy industry in the Chicago milkshed is the elimination of cutthroat competition and price cutting. Accordingly, the trade agreement set a minimum price of 10 cents a quart for milk.

Do Not Deliver Milk.

The independent dealers contend, on the other hand, that their practice of selling milk for 6¼ cents a quart does not properly constitute price cutting. They extend no credit and do not deliver their milk, as do the large companies. Before Judge Wilkerson it was contended that they are making a fair return on their investment at present prices. Board of health regulations prevent their operating within the city of Chicago.

The bill filed by the plaintiffs maintains that the agricultural adjustment act, and the trade agreement and license promulgated under it, are all unconstitutional. It further says that the trade agreement and license are invalid because they do not effectuate the policy of congress as expressed in the act, but instead operate against that policy.

Explain Bill to Judge.

After the plaintiffs' attorneys had explained their bill to Judge Wilkerson he asked, "Just what is it that you seek to do?"

"We have violated the milk trade agreement," Attorney Joseph E. Green replied, "and, therefore, the district attorney should prosecute us."

Judge Wilkerson then explained that there could be no prosecution until the department of agriculture has revoked the license of the offending companies. "It seems to me," the judge continued, "that your logical action is to present your case before the secretary of agriculture."

Attorney Langeluttig replied that they had already done so and that the department had approved the 10 cent code in spite of their protests.

"All this is in your bill?" asked Judge Wilkerson.

"Yes," replied Attorney Green. "Under the trade agreement the amount of milk which a distributor must purchase from the farmers is based upon the number of wagons he is using. We have no wagons. We simply sell milk, while the large companies sell milk plus delivery service.

"If we sell for 10 cents a quart we lose all our trade because customers would then insist upon delivery. There is also a provision in the license that all milks must be iced, not with whole or dry ice or mechanical refrigeration but with cracked ice."

"Well," asked Judge Wilkerson, "what's the particular virtue of cracked ice?"

"That's just what we can't understand," Attorney Green replied.

Question Constitutionality of Act.

"Are you questioning the constitutionality of the act?" asked Judge Wilkerson.

"We are," he was told.

"Assuming that the act is constitutional, I still couldn't grant this injunction without a full hearing. I think your points are sufficient to warrant my continuing this case, since the district attorney has given me his assurance that no prosecution will be attempted by him without first notifying this court."

THOUSANDS ASK U. S. HOME LOANS ON FIRST DAY

Long Line in La Salle St. as Office Opens.

BY AL CHASE.

Seventeen thousand home owners sought federal aid in solving their mortgage problems yesterday as the new Home Owners' Loan corporation offices at 134 North La Salle street were opened. Two thousand of these merely asked for information; the other 15,000 requested application blanks. In addition, approximately 5,000 letters asking for aid were received at the office, and nearly 3,000 persons applied at the two TRIBUNE Public Service offices, where application blanks are being given out daily.

The Chicago office handles applications from Cook, McHenry, Du Page, Kane, Will, and Lake counties.

Long before 9 a. m., the opening hour of the Home Owners' Loan corporation offices, a line began forming on La Salle street. By 9 o'clock it was four deep and extended to Randolph street. And there it stuck. At 11 o'clock the head man in the line hadn't moved an inch.

Helps Crowd to Get Blanks.

Policeman John Condon of the First district station discovered that there was only one policeman at the office door. Consequently hundreds were getting in without waiting in the outside line. Condon suggested to William G. Donne, state manager for the Home Owners' Loan corporation, that applications be distributed to the tired people waiting in line in La Salle street.

"That's a good idea, the best I've heard today," said Mr. Donne. Fifteen minutes later the people in the La Salle street line had been handed blanks and had gone.

According to State Manager Donne, about half of the 15,000 applications involved actual distress cases in which the applicants were about to lose their homes. Miss Hazel Brown, office manager and personal secretary to Mr. Donne, said a hasty glance over a few of the thousands of letters that had been opened revealed about the same ratio of distress cases.

Distress Cases First.

According to Mr. Donne, the degree of distress will govern the handling of the cases. Those where the need is not acute will be shelved until the emergency cases are cared for.

One of the first emergency cases to get attention was that of Mrs. Mary E. Thompson, 80 years old, mother of the late Judge Thomas Scully, who is threatened with eviction from her home by foreclosure of a $1,000 mortgage.

PUT OFF FIXING TAXI RATES TILL CODE IS DRAFTED

Industry Given 45 Days to Work Out Plan.

The taxicab industry has been allowed until Sept. 15 to present a code under the National Recovery Act. As a result the city public vehicle commission will be unable to recommend permanent taxicab rates in Chicago until after that time.

Announcement of the allotment of another forty-five days in which to prepare a code was made by Thomas Hogan, president of the Yellow Taxicab company, at a meeting of the vehicle commission, which is made up of Commissioner of Police Allman, Corporation Counsel Sexton, and City Controller Upham. The meeting was the third of the "fact finding" conferences held with representatives of the city's taxicab companies.

"The commission will have to see the code before it can make any recommendations as to Chicago rates," Mr. Sexton told Hogan.

Working Hours and Wages.

Later the corporation counsel pointed out that it would be impossible to fix permanent rates until a code is adopted setting forth the wages to be paid and the hours to be worked in the industry.

At the rate hearing yesterday the allotment of public taxicab stands within the area bounded by Canal street, Roosevelt road, the lake and the river, was discussed. Officials of the Yellow, Checker, and independent companies explained that agreements already are in effect, which divide these stands. Some stands are used exclusively by cabs of one company, some are divided between the companies, and some are open to all drivers, the commission was told.

No More Fighting.

These working agreements, according to taxicab officials, have practically eliminated fighting among drivers of the various companies. A representative of the insurgent Checker taxicab drivers who have been operating their cabs without paying storage, insurance or membership dues to the company, satted that these agreements were not favored by them. The commission and the taxicab representatives will meet again today.

Mrs. John Wesley Graham, chairman of the Texas committee at A Century of Progress and organizer of the Texas Opera company, which will present "Aida" in Soldiers' field on Aug. 23, yesterday had the honor of being the first person to wear the valuable jewelry on exhibition in the Mexican presidential train near the Travel and Transport building. She was decorated with the jewelry on her visit to the train by Dr. D. Rubin de la Borbolla, head of the department of anthropology of the National Museum of Mexico.

Street car service across the 12th street viaduct to the Fair grounds was inaugurated yesterday when Ald. James B. Bowler, with Mayor Kelly at his side, drove the first car across.

Finals in a "barker" contest will be staged on the floating theater at 2 p. m. Friday. For the last two weeks a committee of five judges has been going around the grounds, listening to the barkers for various concessions and selecting candidates for the contest. The eight finalists will be announced today. The contest is sponsored by the Junior Association of Commerce, which will present a loving cup to the winner. Each contestant will be permitted two 4 minute periods to give his recital.

The American Legion will take over the Fair Saturday. The organization's program will include two parades of 20 drum and bugle corps each, one marching from 39th street and the other from 14th street, meeting at the court of the Hall of Science, where they will march in criss-cross maneuvers. C. Wayland Brooks, past commander of the Cook county Legion, will speak.

Italian day at the Fair will be celebrated at 3 p. m. tomorrow in the court of states with an elaborate program of music and speeches. Premier Mussolini will address the crowds by short wave radio broadcast from Italy. Preceding the program at the Fair there will be the dedication of the Brioshi statue of Columbus at 12th street and Columbus drive. At 8 p. m. the program in the court of states will be resumed with presentation of scenes from "Aida" by former members of the Civic Opera company.

A special program by entertainers from the Fair, including actresses from the Chinese theater, Chief Evergreen Tree from the Indian village, the Enchanter of Enchanted Island, the Charlie Chaplin imitator from the Flying Turns, and several others will be presented at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Illinois Surgical institute for Crippled Children, 905 South Lincoln street.

The third of a series of street carnivals in the Rainbow area near the 39th street gate will be staged tonight. In addition to the regular show a group of sixty girls from the Morgan School of Dancing will give an hour's program of Grecian dancing.

A group of leading technical experts from Italy was entertained at the Italian pavilion late yesterday by Commander Luigi Ranieri, general director of the exhibit. The engineers were taken on a tour of inspection through the pavilion and the Italian scientific exhibit, and then dined at the Italian restaurant. They later visited the Firestone building. The group was headed by Dr. Atzori Nonnis, president of the National Fascist Syndicate of Engineers.

The Porcelain Enamel institute exhibit in the General Exhibits group at the Fair yesterday became the first place on the grounds to fly the NRA emblem. One employé was added to the staff of 10, which now is working in two shifts.

Visitors to the railroad exhibit are counted by means of a photo-electric cell or "electric eye." Up to Monday night approximately 950,000 people had visited this exhibit.

AUTO FATALITIES IN LAKE COUNTY DROP 35 PER CENT

There were 13 automobile deaths in Lake county for the first seven months of 1933 as compared to 20 for the similar period in 1932, Coroner John L. Taylor of Lake county reported yesterday. This represented a decrease of 35 per cent.

Geraldine Michinard, 2½ years old, of Northfield, was killed last night when she was struck by an automobile on Winnetka avenue, half a block east of Skokie road in Northfield. The car was driven by Mrs. A. E. Grinton, 714 Richards street, Joliet, who told the police that the girl had run in front of the car. Mrs. Grinton was ordered to appear at the inquest today.

Two other deaths yesterday raised the Cook county motor toll since Jan. 1 to 582. The victims:

Leonard Servidio, 19 years old, 1226 West Jackson boulevard. Died at the Mother Cabrini hospital of injuries incurred on July 27 when he was crushed between two automobiles at Sibley street and Macalister place.

Nicholas Smith, 59 years old, 3530 West Lake street. Died in the county hospital of a skull fracture incurred on July 17 when he was struck by an automobile driven by Joseph Dorabiola, 65 years old, 2021 Haddon avenue.

1ST INSTALLMENT OF 2% SALES TAX BEING COLLECTED

Employes in the state department of finance yesterday began the work of making the first collections under the newly created Illinois retailers' occupational tax. The deadline for payment of the July tax is Aug. 15. Proceeds from the 2 per cent tax are to go to the Illinois Emergency Relief fund.

Ten inspectors have been assigned to distribute the tax forms to outlying merchants in order to expedite collections of the July payments. Employés of the department of finance pointed out, however, that the failure of merchants to receive the tax forms does not excuse them from making returns before the deadline.

10 AUTO OWNERS WITHOUT CHICAGO TAGS FINED $5

Ten automobile owners were fined $5 each yesterday for not having city vehicle licenses. One was fined $4. The motorists had been arrested originally for not having either state or city licenses. In the time between the arrest and court appearance they procured the state tags.

Municipal Judge Eugene Holland said the policy of fines would apply for the rest of the year. Notice has been given to car owners, he said, and they will no longer be discharged in court upon production of the licenses.

Those fined $5 were Keath Anderson, James O'Boyle, James French, Chris Borg, Steve Belek, Leo Loder, Henry Klopper, Edward Krisly, Arthur Landing, and Emil Logulbo. Albert Horn was fined $4.

FAIR HITCH HIKER LOSES FOOT.

Owensville, Ind., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Ralph Wallace, aged 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Wallace, lost his right foot by falling under a train at Lincoln, Ill., while he and Robert Schmittler, also of Owensville, were hitch hiking to the Chicago Fair.

Dirt! Dirt! endless dirt!

Be rid of it all with clean automatic Gas Heat

This home can afford to have gas heat. Hundreds like it are changing to gas heat daily

YOU INVEST NOTHING!

Without ONE CENT of investment by you, we install the most modern burner in your furnace or boiler. If you are satisfied, it stays. If not—and you are the sole judge—out it comes and your former heating system is re-installed—AT OUR EXPENSE. No other fuel for house-heating dares make such an offer.

To prove that every home can afford to heat with gas . . . we will install it at our expense and remove it at our expense. if you don't like it

GET rid of all dirt with gas heat? Certainly. How do we know you can? We asked thousands who use it. Their answer came—without hesitation—"Cleanliness, if nothing else, makes gas heat indispensable." They know from experience. They know that gas heat eliminates soot, dirt and grime from walls and curtains, from window sills, from corners, from furniture and furnishings, from under and over radiators and registers—from everywhere in the house from cellar to attic. They know that it brings new leisure hours, new joy to any clean housekeeper.

And countless other reasons

This is only one of the many, many reasons why you want gas heat. It saves days and nights of back-breaking coal shoveling . . . dirty hours of hauling ashes . . . the nuisance of chopping kindling . . . the anxiety of watching and waiting for heat to come up and dozens of other home-heating troubles.

With gas heat in your home, a single match is your kindling pile. You get the heat you want unfailingly day and night by simply setting a thermostat located in your living room. You never have to go downstairs to even look at the fire.

You never run out of gas. It is the only fuel that is not delivered on your premises by grimy or black, dusty methods. When gas is piped into your furnace or boiler room you are freed of all care, worry, grime and dust.

Every home can afford it

You may say to all this—yes—that's all right for wealthy folks who can afford gas heat. That's where you're wrong. Because now through greatly lowered cost even the most modest home can afford gas heat.

To prove it—and we take the full burden of proof—we'll install it in your home without your making one cent of investment. Then you'll know from your own personal experience whether you can afford gas heat or not. And if we're wrong and you decide you don't want it—out it comes. We remove it at our expense.

During the nine heating months of the first year you pay $3.00 a month rental for the equipment in the average home. This charge will be included with your gas bill. And if for any reason during the first year you want it removed, we take it out and the rental charge stops immediately. Further, we replace your former heating equipment in the same or better condition than we found it. If you decide you want it, the rental applies on the purchase price.

Mail coupon today

A daring offer, you say. Yes Sir. No other fuel ever dared match it. An offer we do not hesitate to make because we know the great difference gas heat will make in your home—your comfort—the health and contentment of your family.

"The newspaper is an institution developed by civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and mold public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide."

SPEEDIER JUSTICE.

Copies of the new civil practice act which will become operative in Illinois on Jan. 1 have been sent to all lawyers in the state. The act promises a substantial advance in the conduct of litigation. A good deal of rubbish from the middle ages and from our own pioneer epoch has been swept away. The new code prescribes, in its own language, that it "shall be liberally construed to the end that controversies may be speedily and finally determined according to the substantive rights of the parties."

A number of years ago Prof. E. R. Sunderland of the University of Michigan contributed a memorable series of articles to THE TRIBUNE in which he warned the Illinois bar that if it did not bring about substantial reforms in legal procedure in this state laymen would have to undertake the task. It was largely in response to that appeal that the code enacted by the recent legislature was drafted under the leadership of the Illinois and Chicago Bar associations.

While there is little doubt that the new act can prove of great value, the extent of its usefulness will depend largely upon the judges and to a lesser extent upon the lawyers. Under the new code many time consuming formalities are dispensed with and it will be easier to expedite the business of the courts; but under the new code, as under the old one, needless delays will occur as long as the judges will permit lawyers to obtain them.

It is to be hoped that the new act will serve to remind judges that the courts are not instruments of justice when years must elapse between the filing of a civil suit and its disposition. There is no good reason why every suit should not be heard within three months of the time it is filed and, if an appeal is taken, why the appeal should not be disposed of in another three or four months. A lawyer who files a suit ought to be ready to try it at once, and in ninety-nine cases in every hundred the defense can be prepared as well in two months as in two years.

Delays in the trial of civil suits play into the hands of blackmailers. Delays also encourage men to settle just claims for less than is due them rather than wait years for the verdict of the courts. With the new code there will be even less excuse than there has been for wasting the time of the courts and the litigants.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE IN CITY SERVICE.

The community will certainly support President Richard Collins of the city civil service commission in his ruling against strikes by unionized city employés which endanger public health or safety. Every one in public service should understand that he is given employment subject to limitations not existing in private employment. Although in Chicago municipal employés have been permitted to organize unions for the advantage obtainable through collective action, this does not imply the unrestrained right to strike. The public welfare is the paramount principle in this employment and takes precedence of union rules and policies. If the individual is not willing to accept this limitation he should not seek or be given public service which has to do with public health or safety. No union which asserts a right to strike regardless of this condition of public service should be permitted organization in the municipal personnel. Any employés who stop work on services essential to public health or safety should be removed from their jobs. The community will not tolerate such coercion from its servants.

CENSORSHIP IN CANADA.

The Canadian radio commission took offense at a reference in the Amos 'n' Andy broadcast to the failure of the British to make their debt payment in full and in proper exchange. Until an apology was obtained from the sponsors of the program the commission's order was to bar the broadcast from the Canadian stations.

Canadians may think that censorship as a punishment of occasional American inadvertences merely gratifies and upholds their national pride, but they would do well to watch their own case. Canadians and Americans for the greater part get along as sensible and reasonable neighbors should, but once in a while a remark on the American side will offend on the other. Probably the fairest amend would be for Americans to take offense at some Canadian infelicity, thus acknowledging the reciprocal effect of Canadian criticism. Generally Americans forget to do so, but it is not intended as a slight.

Censorship used as a punishment of outside offenses against national pride and reputation is on its way to an extension. Its next step is inside the country itself. It will apply itself to what it regards as derogatory when the criticism begins at home. When governments adopt censorship they soon are stopping all expressions of opinion they do not like, which disturb them or which threaten them. Most Canadians could have reached this American broadcast by taking it from an American station, but when their own rights have been taken from them they'll reach out in vain for a recovery. The censor is having his own way in a number of countries where the people came to their senses too late.

LIQUOR LEGISLATION FOR ILLINOIS.

Gov. Horner is preparing to summon the legislature in special session late this winter or early next spring. He foresees the adoption of the repeal amendment and believes, rightly, that Illinois should have some kind of regulatory system ready when hard liquor returns. The legislature took the same view of the matter when it recently provided for a commission to prepare a liquor code. It is to be hoped that this commission will shortly set to work.

Of all the systems of control which have been devised that in force in Quebec seems to provide the most useful model. Whisky and other distilled liquors are sold to those who want them, but there is no private profit in the sale at retail and therefore no incentive to the retailer to dispose of as much as possible. Whisky is sold a bottle or two at a time in government stores and may not be consumed on the premises. The prices fixed are high enough to yield a substantial revenue to the government, but low enough to discourage bootlegging. Communities which do not want to have a liquor store can vote themselves dry. Under this system it is about as easy to obtain liquor in the province of Quebec as it is to get it from a bootlegger in this country, but the quality is better and the government, instead of the racketeers, gets the revenue.

Beer is sold freely in Quebec in taverns and taprooms. The experience in Illinois since the return of beer has shown that it is a harmless beverage, the sale of which needs to be interfered with as little as possible. Beer and the privilege of selling it should therefore be taxed lightly or not at all. Local governments should be permitted to license beer sellers for a nominal sum, not for the sake of obtaining revenue but in order to prevent any abuses. The success of the Quebec plan has resulted in large measure from the high character of the commissioners who have administered it. There is no way of guaranteeing the appointment of competent commissioners in Illinois, but that weakness is inherent in any form of regulation. Some modifications of the Quebec plan will be required, but it should serve as the model for Illinois' liquor code.

CRITICAL EGGS IN LOS ANGELES.

It cost Miss Jane Thomas, Los Angeles stenographer, twenty-five dollars to throw eggs at Aimee McPherson's former whataman, Dave Hutton, when he made a stage appearance recently after announcing that he intended to divorce his wife. That was her fine for disorderly conduct. Miss Thomas explained in court that the eggs were fresh and that she had purchased them for the table before she went in to hear Mr. Hutton sing.

A person would prefer not to have a bag of eggs in a theater, but Miss Thomas said that the use she made of them was entirely unpremeditated, and she is entitled to her story. She said that when Whataman made his appearance, remarking, "Ladies and gentlemen, I'm glad to be in the City of Angels; you know I married an angel," she just couldn't stand for the baritone and "I let him have it."

This was so reasonable that the fine imposed on the young woman appears unreasonable. A more appreciative judge might have dismissed the case against her and have given her the price of the eggs as a testimonial from the bench. If people had pressed forward to congratulate her it would have been a notable day in Los Angeles culture.

The Other Side

TIME TO ACT ON THE ST. LAWRENCE WATERWAY.

[Detroit News.]

That the necessary sum from the huge public works appropriation be earmarked for completion of the St. Lawrence seaway is a thoroughly sound and businesslike suggestion, and Senator Vandenberg states the simple truth about it in plain, incontrovertible words.

He says: "It is a bitter affront to 40,000,000 midcontinent citizens who believe this seaway vital to their economic emancipation that their taxes should be used on projects including water transportation projects elsewhere and yet that no provision is made for their seaway."

The people of the 22 states directly interested, states whose legislatures have spent funds to this very end, have every right to demand that a three billion dollar public works appropriation should include $135,000,000 for this country's part of the remaining seaway task. The very existence of this appropriation, and the character of works it is intended to finance, dissipates at once the outstanding objection raised insincerely by the purely selfish opposition to the seaway. They say the country cannot afford it at this time. The country, through the congress and with the emphatic leadership of President Roosevelt, has said that this country can afford to spend $3,000,000,000 on public works; and the reason the country can afford it is because every penny goes into circulation, purchasing and consuming power is restored to hundreds of thousands, and a new impulse started which will penetrate both commerce and industry.

Any public works program of such dimensions which does not include the greatest single public work on the North American continent would be, precisely as Senator Vandenberg characterizes it, a bitter affront, and the people of 22 states beyond question will find ways to express their resentment if any such grossly unfair discrimination against their needs and wishes is permitted.

That the President, an avowed supporter of this great enterprise, will do other than accept Senator Vandenberg's suggestion is unthinkable. That the United States senate at its winter session can fail to obey the public mandate and evade ratification is equally to be rejected. That the railroads and eastern interests will continue to the end to use every ounce of their strength to strangle the Inland Empire goes for the saying. But let the senate once come to a vote on the question, with the eyes of the nation watching every man in it, and the treaty will be ratified.

The funds should be set aside as a proper and principal item of the public works the nation is ready to undertake.

GOLDEN GLOVES.

EIGHT YOUNG MEN from the Irish Free State will engage eight young men from Chicagoland at Soldiers' field tonight in the third annual international Golden Gloves amateur boxing bouts. Attendance is expected to reach, possibly surpass, the 50,000 mark.

Now, what will this attendance indicate? To the Wake-Line it will indicate interest in an amateur sport where bodily contact and courage play predominant parts. It will also indicate faith in the honesty of purpose of the contestants.

Please remember these boys are not national ring celebrities such as were Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney, Jack Sharkey, Max Schmeling, Max Baer, and the present champion, Primo Carnera. They are simply boys who have risen above their fellows in tests of ring prowess. Except for the publicity preceding these tests, they are unknown to the sport world at large. Even now we doubt whether 1,000 of the 50,000 expected to attend could name all members of the Irish and Chicagoland teams.

Our reaction to the whole affair is one of gratification that so many persons are interested in sport for sport's sake without the hallyhoo of highly publicized names.

While on this subject let us reply to a Helper who asks if Golden Gloves bouts are intended to develop professional fighters. Our answer well might be another question—are college football games intended to develop professional football players? In each case the answer is negative. That Golden Gloves boxers turn professional, or that college football players join professional elevens, simply means that they are cashing on publicity received from their previous surroundings.

The Golden Gloves bouts were conceived with the idea of encouraging clean, wholesome sport of a vigorous character. That idea grew from the world war camps, where boxing was encouraged as an upbuilder of morale. Despite low admission charges, public interest grew so much that profits have become important as contributions to charity. In one year over $50,000 was distributed to different charities as a result of THE TRIBUNE Golden Gloves bouts in this city.

Graduates of Golden Gloves bouts probably will continue to turn professional in some instances. Lightweight Champion Barney Ross of the pro ranks is such a graduate. The percentage is relatively small. That this percentage is not greater proves the soundness of the original purpose—to encourage vigorous amateur sport.

You carry the perfume of frankincense
And the sky is blue through your beryl tents,
Resinous fragrance that fills the air
With every plume that is wont to stir,

Moved by the breath of the nomad airs.
And keen is the scent on wings it bears;
What coign of vantage is yours to know
Where a tarn lies sleeping and days run slow?

Rock-hewn altar, cathedral spire,
And clear is the glow of the western fire.
You hold the last of the level sun
And husband the stars until night is done.

WHILE UNSELFISHNESS is the keynote of the code system, it will be pretty difficult for the housewife to understand why she should not buy milk for less than 10 cents per quart if she is willing to call for the product to save the extra pennies. Housewives of economical bent are hard-headed, not thick-headed, that way.

ATHLETE'S FOOT NO. 1.

THE following modifications of tried methods of combating athlete's foot were recently indorsed on the basis of a fairly prolonged and extensive trial.

The first is a method of cure. It is a variation of the widely used Castelanni method. The recipe for Castelanni's paint is:

Saturated solution in alcohol of basic fuchsin, 10 parts; 5 per cent watery solution of phenol, 100 parts.

This is mixed and then filtered. To it is then added one part boric acid. It is allowed to stand two hours and five parts acetone is then added. It is again allowed to stand two hours, after which ten parts resorcin is added. It is then kept in a dark bottle.

If a druggist cannot order this under the name Castelanni's paint he can get the ingredients and make it. Fuchsin is a dye used in all bacteriologic laboratories. It can be obtained from any dye house.

This paint is applied with a soft cloth or brush to the affected area and to about one-half inch of skin around the involved area. Many advise applying it to the toenails and the creases around them, while others go so far as to apply it also to corns and calluses. The reason for applying it to the nails, creases, corns, and calluses is the theory that the molds which cause ringworm of the feet live around such inactive, thickened skin areas, causing no trouble there, but using these areas as bases to make raids on more delicate tissues.

After the paint has completely dried on the skin a thin layer of ten per cent ammoniated mercury ointment is applied. The feet are not to be bathed for at least four hours after this application is made. Treatment once a day for one week generally suffices. If the skin becomes tender treatments are discontinued for, say, a week, and then resumed at the rate of two or three a week.

This is generally sufficient to cure up the disease temporarily, but recurrences are reasonably certain to occur. To prevent this one or two treatments are given each month for about six months.

One reason for these recurrences is the fact that the fungus lives very well in the shoes. The following is a method of disinfecting shoes:

Use a shoe disinfecting powder composed of five parts sodium thiosulphate and one part boric acid. Heat the sodium thiosulphate until it liquefies. Heating should not be carried beyond the liquefying point. Add the boric acid powder. Mix well. Let the mixture stand until it sets into cakes. Grind in a mortar to make a powder. Dust this powder in the interior of the shoes, especially in the toe region. Keep the interior of the shoes as dry and as clean as possible. Washing serves to sterilize the socks.

A SIGN OF AGE.

S. H. L. writes: What is the cause of ridges on all the fingernails? Is it a sign of some organic disease? My friends say they think it is. I am 65 years old.

REPLY.

It is a sign of age. Most elderly people have it. The cause is supposed to be lessened activity of some of the ductless glands, possibly the pituitary and the gonads. Another cause is exposure of the hands to irritants. It is often found in photographers because of developers, in laundresses because of soapy water, in cooks because of greasy dish water, in surgeons because of antiseptics.

If due to occupation changing work or wearing rubber gloves may help. Keeping the nails well greased may help.

BLOOD PRESSURE.

1. What causes high blood pressure?
2. What can I do for it?

REPLY.

1. Among the causes of high blood pressure are emotionalism—for instance, worry—chronic heart, kidney, and blood vessel disease, exposure to syphilis and some other diseases, exposure to lead. Among the causes that contribute more remotely are eating habits, diet, constipation, some other faulty habits.

2. Live a peaceful, quiet life, correct any faulty habits. There are different kinds of high blood pressure as well as different causes. What is to be done is somewhat dependent on the type.

CRAMPS IN LEGS.

C. L. L. writes: When people write about cramps in the legs at night why not give them your old time method? In 1926 I read: "The underlying cause of leg cramps is thickening of the walls of the leg blood vessels. The immediate cause is cold feet. The remedy is to 'sleep warmer.' Use warmer bedding and wear warm socks at night." I am 84 years old. I have followed this advice and have had no cramps in this time.

SUBJECT TO PENALTY.

Blue Island, Ill., July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In August, 1929, my mother died and left a will. 1. This will was in the hands of my sister. I did not know until December, 1932, that I was administrator of the will. When the will was given to me I had it probated. 2. My sister lived in the house left by the estate and had me summoned to court to pay for the use of the estate. Can she make me pay when she isn't paying rent and the property is in my wife's name? J. 1. She is subject to a penalty for having retained the will in this way.

2. If you did not know of the existence of the will this excuse should protect you. We advise you to employ an attorney.

BROKEN BRANCHES REMOVED.

Chicago, July 28.—[Friend of the People.]—Twelve large poplars in the parkway around our property have been practically demolished in recent storms. Had the fire department here, but they said they could not spend the time to remove dangerous limbs hanging from trees and that I should write the forestry department. Can you notify the proper authorities for me? A. P.

Our inspector reports that there are nine live poplars and two live soft maples here 15 feet apart, all of which were somewhat damaged in the recent storms. Our forestry crew has removed the broken branches and the debris has been cleared away.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

AUGUST 2, 1917.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The forty-eight states of the nation will be called upon soon to decide whether the nation shall prohibit the liquor traffic, according to present indications. By a vote of 65 to 20—the requisite two-thirds majority and eight votes to spare—the senate adopted the Sheppard resolution submitting to the states the proposed national prohibition amendment to the constitution. The ways are greased for putting the resolution through the house at this session. If the house concurs and thirty-six states ratify the amendment, the manufacture, sale, transportation, and importation of alcoholic liquors for beverage purposes in the United States will be ended, probably forever.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Details of attacks by German submarines upon the first expedition of American troops sent to France became known for the first time yesterday when the report of Rear Admiral Gleaves, commanding the naval convoy, was made public by Secretary Daniels. The first attack was made on Admiral Gleaves' flagship, leading the first group of expeditionary force, and at least two submarines were indicated to be engaged. The admiral stated the belief that the U-boats had knowledge of the coming of the troop ships and were on watch for them. The second group of transports also was attacked by two submarines, one of which apparently was sent to the bottom by a bomb from an American destroyer. There is disagreement among officers of the third group as to whether they were attacked, but much evidence is presented to indicate that they also were assailed.

WAR SUMMARY.—Both British and French gained further ground in Ypres sector, but the Germans recaptured the village of St. Julien and part of Westhoek. Russian troops in Galicia have begun an offensive in the direction of Trembowla. Petrograd admits a further retreat southwest of Kimpolung and also east of Gerement. Russians retreating across the Zborez suffered great losses. Some falling off in the loss of British merchantmen by submarines is noted in the official summary. The boats sunk last week were eighteen of over 1,600 tons and three under that tonnage.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary of War Baker has turned down the request of the governors of Minnesota and Wisconsin that the National Guard troops of their states be trained in the north instead of being sent to the extreme south at the height of midsummer. A suggestion that the Illinois National Guard division train at Rockford instead of being sent to Houston, Tex., met the same denial.

WORLD'S FAIR QUESTION BOX

Requests for information concerning A Century of Progress will be answered in this column. It is urged that questions be stated briefly.

QUESTION—How many guides are employed at the Fair? Were 1,600 guides, drawing $4 per day, recently dismissed? If so, why?

ANSWER—It is true there were some guides released. However, they were employed with the understanding that they were to work through the opening and then be put on a waiting list for recall as the crowds demand. There are sufficient guides employed now to amply care for the attendance until it reaches 200,000 daily average.

QUESTION—Is it true that all reporters can get into the Fair free if they show their cards? Is it also true that such reporters are given free concession passes at the gate?

ANSWER—The information you have is erroneous. However, any reporter who comes here to cover the World's Fair is given press courtesies, providing he brings a letter from his editor verifying his statements.

NRA IN THE POSTOFFICE.

Chicago, July 28.—I wish somebody would enlighten the postoffice department about President Roosevelt's recovery plan. While the President is making every day pleas with employers to put men to work, the postoffice is laying off men. There are about 6,000 clerks in the Chicago postoffice. About 550 of them are substitute clerks. The situation of these substitutes is a desperate one. Most of them have been in the service not less than four years. And in the last three years it seems that postoffice officials have learned only one way to cut expenses—to lay off these subs.

Since July 1, 1931, up to date I have made about $1,100 and I have two to support. From this you can picture the situation of the rest of us. July 5 this year we were called back to work. We worked up to date and were laid off again until further notice. There is no excuse for laying us off now, as the mail is picking up. The regular clerks are supposed to go on a two weeks' vacation. They also have to take off three days a month furlough. What the postoffice department is doing is this: Mail that comes into the stations at 11 a. m. is laying there till 5 or 6 p. m. The regulars are being driven to put in eight hours of work in seven. Today I heard that vacations will be suspended in order to save on the substitute help. It seems to me that the postoffice department has never heard of the President's plea to put men back to work and of the NRA. Will somebody please remind them of this? SUBSTITUTE.

WHITE COLLAR WORKERS.

Westmont, Ill., July 24.—President Roosevelt's new national reëmployment agreement provides a maximum week of 35 hours for factory or mechanical workers or artisans and a minimum wage of 40 cents per hour, and a maximum week of 40 hours for accounting, clerical, banking, office, etc., and a minimum wage of $15 per week, or 37½ cents per hour.

The so-called white collar workers need as much education, work just as hard, have the same family obligations, and often have to dress better than manual workers, yet they are to be paid at a lower rate.

If the new deal is not also a square deal, of what advantage is it?

JAMES VOGEL.

THROW HIM OUT.

Chicago, July 26.—Your editorial, "Meyering Should Resign or Be Removed," anticipated a similar thought that I had concluded to address to your paper yesterday. It is plainly evident that the present sheriff is not alone incompetent to conduct the duties of his office, but is more concerned with its political makeup than its efficient administration. The many inexcusable happenings during his régime to date stamp him a poor manager and a worse politician, since politics like other callings demand a reasonable measure of success.

Don't put Meyering out, throw him out.

A. S. GARLAND.

FROM A VISITOR.

New York, July 28.—I spent several days in Chicago attending the World's Fair. I hope that you will publish this letter to show my appreciation for kindness shown to me there.

In my whole visit in Chicago I found only kindness from policemen, taxi drivers, street car and bus drivers, also from those working in depots, hotels, restaurants, and from employés of the World's Fair. Kindness and courtesy cost little to give, but their effects are wonderful and the memory of them very pleasant. L. B. MORIARTY.

THERE'S A REASON.

Arthur, Ill., July 27.—Henry Dick, a retired farmer of Arthur and a lifelong Democrat, predicted wonderful results from the new administration. He now sees the beginning of the fulfillment of his prophecies. A grapevine in his yard is bearing a crop of hazelnuts.

It is a wild grape growing on the smokehouse. Although it has always bloomed under the Hoover administration it bore no fruit. Imagine then his surprise when he saw his vine bearing not grapes but hazelnuts.

The clusters are large, the nuts, perfectly formed, giving promise of ripening into delicious hazelnuts identical with those growing in the normal way on the hazel bushes.

This freak was probably caused by pollination produced by bees, but they must have carried the pollen several miles, as hazelnuts are very scarce in this community.

MRS. GEORGE THOMSEN.

THE FAIR IN RETROSPECT.

Wisconsin Rapids, Wis., July 27.—This writer and family have just returned from a visit to your great city and its wonderful A Century of Progress Exposition. Our impression may be summed up in the exclamation, "Chicago, you are wonderful!" We wish to acknowledge with sincere and grateful appreciation the courteous and helpful treatment received as strangers within your gates. We thank your traffic officers, electric train attendants, and bus drivers; your clerks, and waiters, and waitresses; your many individuals approached for information and guidance, no matter where and when, especially your wonderful corps of attendants at the great A Century of Progress Exposition. Special thanks also to the kind lady who presented the writer's wife with a complimentary ladies' day ticket to the Cubs ball game at the box office of Wrigley field on the afternoon of Friday, July 14. We hope she will read this and thus discover the identity of the recipient of her favor. May power and success be yours, Chicago!

INVENTIONS.

Chicago, July 24.—Following the suggestion for a verb meaning "travel by air," and a noun to indicate those so traveling, why not use Greek roots? How do these sound? "To pneumagate" means "to travel by air," from which we derive "pneumagators" and pneumagation." If we wish to be more specific, "to plannagate" means "to travel airplane" and "to dirrigate" means "to travel by dirigible balloon." From these we get "plannagators," "plannagation," "dirrigators" and "dirrigation." Then, too, I suppose Prof. Piccard might be called a "stratogator." P.

TAX COLLECTIONS.

Real estate tax collections yesterday totaled $805,628. A total of $31,221,073 has been collected since enforcement of the Kerner-Skarda act began last April 28. The day's real estate collections and the uncollected taxes for four years are as follows:

	1928.	1929.
Aug. 1.....$	29,695	$ 102,676
Uncollected ..	16,484,213	48,734,319
	1930.	1931.
Aug. 1.....$	206,028	$ 465,229
Uncollected ..	78,680,256	106,685,535

The day's collection of 1931 personal property taxes was $3,899.

An attorney for the Morrison hotel yesterday turned over a check for $29,981 to County Judge Jarecki to complete the payment of 1930 real estate taxes and to pay $14,000 on the first installment of 1931 taxes. The amount brought the total payments on taxes by the Morrison hotel to more than $200,000 since June 1.

Judge Jarecki complimented Attorney John G. Campbell, who presented the check, on the hotel's attitude.

Credits World's Fair.

"The Fair is responsible for this," Attorney Campbell said. "The increased income of the hotel has made it possible for us to pay all our delinquent taxes. We are running at capacity, and our first thought in this prosperity is to square ourselves on taxes."

Judge Jarecki dismissed the county treasurer as receiver on the property at 7600-14 North Ashland avenue when he was informed that the total taxes of $17,801 have been paid.

Receiver for 8 Properties.

The judge appointed the treasurer as receiver for eight more properties under the Kerner-Skarda act. The properties, with back taxes due, are as follows:

7420 Farwell avenue	4,343
3670-74 Pratt boulevard	1,634

3700-08 Estes avenue	2,444
4751-59 Ferdinand street	1,267

County Treasurer McDonough filed 200 more suits asking receiverships for tax delinquent properties, which owe a total of $818,061 in taxes.

BIDS FOR BRIDGE AT JUSTICE PARK OPENED BY STATE

Bids for construction of a bridge over the sanitary canal and the Alton railroad on route 46, between Justice Park and Hodgkins, were opened yesterday at the office of the state highway department in Springfield.

The Owen Engineering company of Chicago was low bidder on the substructure, with a bid of $84,650. The American Bridge company submitted the low bid of $140,533 for the superstructure of the bridge.

The highway department also opened bids on a dozen projects, mostly bridges, in downstate counties, involving expenditures of approximately $450,000.

WILSON CONFERS WITH BOARD ON SCHOOL SPORTS

Says Athletics Won't Suffer.

Reorganization of the physical education department of the public schools along the lines laid down in the school board's economy program was discussed yesterday in a conference between school trustees and Kenneth G. "Tug" Wilson, director of athletics at Northwestern university. Wilson was asked by the board to serve in an advisory capacity.

Mr. Wilson gave assurance that a constructive program could be worked out and that athletic activities would not suffer because of a reduced force. The school board eliminated physical education instructors in the elementary schools and ordered the number in high schools cut in half.

Withholds His Recommendations.

"I'm not familiar enough with the board's action yet to speak freely," said Wilson. "We will have to work out a good program with what's left. I want to find out the number of children in each school, the playgrounds and gymnasiums before I make any recommendations. I have found the school trustees open and fair minded."

"Mr. Wilson will be given carte blanche to reorganize our physical education work," said James B. McCahey, president of the board of education.

Similar expressions came from Trustees Andrew Jackson, former Lake Forest college athlete, Joseph P. Savage, and Harry Solomon, who attended the conference with Wilson.

Foes of the board's economy program made charges recently that athletics were doomed under the reorganization plan. The trustees replied that they were eliminating "soft jobs" and disclosed that in some schools the physical eduaction teachers were working only two or three hours a day.

Gov. Horner Grants Conference.

Gov. Horner sent a telegram to the "Save Our Schools" committee, with headquarters at 185 North Wabash avenue, granting their request for a conference on the school situation.

"I will be glad to see any representative committee on the subject of schools, or any other matter that has constructive suggestions to make for the weal of the state," read the telegram.

The representatives of the committee will probably meet with the governor this afternoon in Springfield.

A protest meeting was held last night in the Howell neighborhood house at 1831 South Racine avenue. Hobart Summers, principal of the Chase school, was the speaker.

EX-EMPLOYE OF CITY GETS 14 YRS. AS FORGER

William J. Coleman, 40 years old, who once worked in the city water department, was sentenced to one to fourteen years in the penitentiary yesterday by Judge Benjamin Epstein on a charge of forgery. Coleman's nephew, Stanley Morrison, 24 years old, was sentenced to one year in the county jail on a charge of conspiracy.

Morrison was arrested after he had cashed a city pay roll check for $136 in the H. P. W. Stores, Inc., 4805 South Ashland avenue, on May 11. The check was made out to a guard at the Bridewell. It had disappeared after it was made out in the city hall. Morrison confessed that Coleman had given him the check. Coleman told police that a man named "Matt," who worked in the city hall, had given him the check.

JAPAN DEMANDS LARGEST WAR CHEST IN HISTORY

Army and Navy Chiefs Request Huge Sums.

TOKIO, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Japanese army and navy chiefs today presented estimates for the 1934-'35 defense expenditures larger than any in previous history and 45 per cent greater than the appropriation for the current year.

The estimates, which were submitted to the finance ministry for inclusion in the imperial budget now being drafted, included 180,000,000 yen [$50,400,000 at current exchange rates] for new naval construction and 75,000,000 yen [$21,000,000] for modernization of capital ships.

The navy ministry asked for the fiscal year beginning next April 1 the sum of 680,000,000 yen [$190,400,000], which is 30 per cent more than the estimates of 1921-22, the largest previous estimates for the sea forces. In that year Japan extended herself to compete with the United States and Great Britain in capital ships as the Washington limitation conference approached.

Seeks Naval Parity.

The navy building program of the Roosevelt administration was believed by Japanese and foreign authorities here to be the primary motivating influence in Japan's projected increase in marine fighting power.

The diplomatic isolation of Japan and friction with several western powers as a result of the Manchurian trouble and Japan's leaving the league of nations was given as a second potent reason. A third important motive was said to be the determination of the Japanese government to go to the naval conference in 1935 with a fleet in commission or in construction up to the limits of the London treaty, upon which would be based the demand for naval parity with the United States and Great Britain.

It was authoratively reported that the record estimate submitted by the army ministry calls for 560,000,000 yen [$156,800,000]. This would insure that the present budget of 2,300,000,000 yen [$644,000,000], with a deficit of 1,000,000,000 yen [$280,000,000] will be exceeded. The current budget of the empire is the largest ever voted.

Almost Twice as Large.

The combined army and navy demands total 1,240,000,000 yen [$347,000,000], a figure 45 per cent larger than the current appropriation.

Whereas usually the other ministries present a determined resistance to any move for swelling army and navy appropriations, Finance Minister Takahashi has said that the naval estimates will be given precedence because portions of the construction program had been postponed in previous years.

A united front by the war minister, Gen. Sadao Araki, and naval minister, Admiral Mineo Osumi, to combat trimming of their figures has been announced.

The cost of one year's continuation of the program consistently followed by the naval department since the London conference is represented by the 180,000,000 yen asked for construction in 1934-'35.

Three Year Building Program.

The Japanese naval program is designed to provide the entire tonnage authorized under the London treaty when that accord expires in 1936. The estimated expenditure between April 1, 1934, and March 31, 1937, is 670,-

For these three years it is proposed that the construction program includes two 8,500 ton 6 inch gun cruisers, two 10,000 ton aircraft carriers, fourteen destroyers of 1,400 tons, six submarines, and one 5,000 ton mine layer. In addition there would be thirty-six

The navy is planning also to increase auxiliary ships in nontreaty categories. Its air squadron to 39 by the addition of eight new units. There were seventeen air squadrons in 1931. The sum of 75,000,000 yen [$21,000,000] is proposed for 1934-'35 to modernize the battleships Nakato and Mutsu and the aircraft carriers Kaga and Akagi, which are the largest and newest capital ships in the Japanese navy.

Hummel, receiver of the Zion Institutions and Industries, Inc., including the various stores, markets, shops, and factories in Zion, lists assets with a book value of approximately $3,000,000 and liabilities of $840,880. However, the receiver's estimate of the realizable value of the assets is only half a million dollars.

JAPAN'S FLEET SAILS FOR 'WAR GAMES' IN THE TROPICAL PACIFIC

TOKIO, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The combined Japanese fleet steamed southward today to prepare for maneuvers in which a major problem will be a battle with a hypothetical enemy in the tropical Pacific.

The emperor himself will personally supervise the tests, which are to begin about Aug. 15 several hundred miles southeast of Tokio. Another outstanding event will be a four day sham defense of the Tokio district against an aerial attack from sea beginning Aug. 9.

Men and ships have undergone severe trials under torrid midsummer conditions in tropical waters in June and July to ascertain their fitness for the coming maneuvers.

POLICE ASSAULT ROOM FOR KILLER ALREADY CAUGHT

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The true story of how Pleas [Grumpy] Moore, after shooting and killing Policeman Ernest Purgatory in the Daniels hotel early today, sat outside in a patrol wagon while squads of policemen drenched his room with tear gas and finally smashed the door, was disclosed by an official investigation today.

Moore, an itinerant razor blade salesman, 68 years old, was in the room when three policemen, one of whom was Purgatory, knocked and demanded admittance. They had been sent to investigate a complaint that 14 year old Lillian Howard, daughter of another guest, was with him.

The demand for entrance was disregarded and the policemen started to batter down the door. Moore thrust an army rifle against the door and fired through the wood, striking Purgatory in the heart. When entrance finally was gained, he had disappeared.

It was learned that he had slid down a wire from his window, on the second floor, to the ground. Still carrying his rifle, he pretended that he was a volunteer who had come to help overpower "the man who shot the policeman." But a policeman, who was not satisfied with his story, locked him in the patrol wagon and joined the rest of the police force hurling the tear bombs.

It was not until the siege had ended that the policeman remembered his prisoner. Questioning of hotel employés disclosed that the room was Moore's and it was also established that the rifle he carried had been fired.

The Howard girl, who was taken in custody, denied that she had been with Moore in his room.

Gov. Horner today headed a subscription for the family of the slain policeman.

JUDGE ATTACKS INDIANA'S BEER CONTROL LAW

Judge Virgil Whitaker in the Hammond City court yesterday quashed an affidavit on which Emanuel J. Thompson, café proprietor, had been arrested on a charge of selling beer without a permit.

In so doing Judge Whitaker ruled that section 6 of the Indiana beer control law, which paved the way for Thompson's arrest, was unconstitutional because the section violated the 14th amendment of the federal constitution.

This section, Judge Whitaker explained, confers on the state excise director an arbitrary power in the granting or rejecting of applications for beer permits. It provides no rules, he added, as to who should or who should not be granted licenses.

Indiana Girl Dies of Eating Green Apples

New Castle, Ind., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Death of Carmeleta Coleman, 7, daughter of Mrs. Georgia Terrell, was caused by eating green apples, and not poison, according to a verdict by Elmer Bentley, coroner, filed today. The child died unexpectedly. When physicians refused to sign the death certificate the coroner sent the vital organs to the state chemist.

MUSSOLINI GIVES SON-IN-LAW JOB AS PRESS CHIEF

ROME, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini today named his son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, to head the government press bureau, succeeding Gaetano Polverelli, member of the chamber of deputies, who resigned.

Count Ciano has been consul general at Shanghai. Recently he served as a member of the Italian delegation to the world economic conference. He is the father of the premier's only grandchild.

Because of government control of the press, the position of head of the press bureau is considered one of the most important in the kingdom. Polverelli occupied the office from Dec. 19, 1931. The duce wrote him a letter in which he expressed gratitude that Polverelli had made the Italian press an efficient instrument of national policy and indicated that he would receive another position.

HIRAM JOHNSON'S SON KILLS SELF IN CALIFORNIA

Hillsborough, Cal., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Archibald M. Johnson, 42, the younger son of Senator Hiram Johnson, shot and killed himself in his home here today. The body, clad in pajamas, was found, a bullet hole through the heart, by a butler.

A note found near the body spoke of loss of fortune and "compromise with honor, truth, or woman's lies." Johnson was divorced from his wife at Reno on June 13, and she later married Commander Howard A. Flanigan, U. S. N.

Johnson was a practicing attorney in San Francisco, where his older brother, Hiram Jr., is also in the law business. Johnson was known on the coast as a sportsman as well as an attorney. He was a major in the world war and was wounded at Château Thierry.

Senator Johnson and his older son were summoned from San Francisco after the body was found. Police expressed the belief that Johnson had written his suicide note after sending the servants to bed and donning pajamas himself. The former Mrs. Johnson was said to be in Washington.

MEDICAL CARE at LOW COST

United Medical Service was organized by more than three hundred Chicago physicians, surgeons and dentists to provide adequate medical care in all fields of medicine, including hospitalization and surgical care, at low controlled costs. • United Medical Service is not, nor is it associated with, any charitable, philanthropic, educational or tax-supported organization. • It is owned and operated by the physicians, surgeons and dentists rendering the medical service, in association with several hundred other medical men and laymen responsible for its development. • Physicians, surgeons and dentists comprising its medical staff are graduated from prominent medical schools, interned in class A hospitals and are licensed by the State of Illinois. • All are well trained, experienced, and of recognized ability. Many were attached to the staffs of foremost hospitals and teaching institutions and clinics when appointed to the staff of United Medical Service. Four floors are required to accommodate the medical facilities, which include completely equipped Medical, X-Ray, and Dental Laboratories, Optical, Drug and Medical Appliance Departments, and especially designed examining and treatment rooms, equipped with every scientific device necessary to aid the physicians in rendering complete and thorough medical service. • Below are listed some of the many services which have been provided to protect and serve the public. Charges published indicate their accessibility to all. All examinations and laboratory services also are available to the general public through their own physicians.

Complete HOSPITAL Service

Medical and Surgical Care at Controlled Low Cost

Hospital Care is often vitally important in rendering complete medical care and protection to the sick and cannot be dispensed with in modern medical practice. But like other advances in medicine Hospital Care has been denied to thousands because of its high cost. Now for the first time complete hospital facilities have been made available to persons of limited incomes within their ability to pay.

The complete service includes not only Hospitalization of the patient but medical care by competent physicians and consultation service of the entire staff, all necessary nursing, or special nursing, laboratory tests and medication, in comfortable quarters and pleasant surroundings, at a cost per day of $4.50

Obstetrical Cases. As a result of our modern hospital facilities it is now possible to provide complete obstetrical services at low controlled costs. The service includes pre-natal care during entire term of pregnancy, delivery by a trained and experienced physician, use of the delivery room, care of the child, all necessary nursing or special nursing, laboratory tests and medication, and 10 days in the hospital, for $45.00

All Necessary Surgical Operations are Available at Fixed Low Fees

In addition to the low cost hospital service it has been possible to provide through the same system of controlled low costs all necessary surgical care by experienced and competent surgeons at fixed fees, including hospitalization, within the income reach of all.

As an indication of these low charges Tonsils and Adenoids are removed for $20.00. This includes the services of the surgeon, use of the operating room, local or general anesthesia, necessary nursing, and one day in the hospital.

Complete HEART and LUNG Service

Prominent among the major causes of serious disabilities and death, are heart disease and tuberculosis. In fact, heart disease has been the leading cause of death for several years. Pain about the heart, palpitation, murmurs, are not necessarily signs of organic heart disease, but in their presence, a careful examination, including an electrocardiogram, and X-Ray plate of the chest should be made to determine their cause. Early medical supervision is highly important in such cases. Tuberculosis is still a menace and any symptoms or signs in the chest should have early and careful medical attention.

To be thorough and complete, an examination should include a physical examination by a trained physician; blood pressure, urinalysis, microscopic examination of sputum, a complete blood examination, serological tests, electrocardiogram, a six-foot distance, full-size X-ray film of the chest, and fluoroscopic X-ray examination when indicated. The charge for this complete service here is $5.00

Where a stereoscopic study of the lungs is indicated, necessitating two full-size films, there will be an extra charge of $1.00

Complete GASTRO-INTESTINAL Service

Indigestion is not a disease, but only a symptom. It may be due to conditions in the stomach and it may be due to conditions in other parts of the body. Digestive disorders frequently lead to serious consequences. From one-fourth to one-third of the deaths from cancer are due to cancer of the stomach. In the majority of cases early examination of the gastro-intestinal tract will disclose that stomach trouble is due to conditions which will yield to proper medical treatment; persons suffering from digestive disorders should have a complete gastro-intestinal examination without delay. Our complete gastro-intestinal examination includes the following:

Physical examination by trained physicians, urinalysis, a complete blood examination and serological tests for $3.00

In addition, if necessary there is a laboratory examination of the gastric contents and of the stool for mucus, blood and parasites, for $2.50

A fluoroscopic examination following a barium meal, repeated at intervals necessary to watch the barium pass through the entire gastro-intestinal tract, including a full size X-ray film of the abdomen, for $4.00

A special X-ray examination of the gall bladder is $3.00

Complete EAR, NOSE and THROAT Service

Most persons think of ear, nose and throat infections in terms of the common head cold, uncomfortable but not necessarily dangerous. Nothing could be further from the actual facts. Ear, nose and throat infections are often extremely dangerous. Tonsillitis can affect the heart, joints and other parts of the body. Colds may develop into sinus infections and middle ear disease. An infected ear may cause deafness or spread to the mastoid cells necessitating a most delicate and often dangerous operation.

In the majority of cases early medical attention will largely prevent such serious local and general disabilities which frequently result from infections of the ear, nose and throat.

At the first sign of infection, one should have an examination of the tonsils, throat and larynx, the nose and connecting sinuses by transillumination, the ears, and complete tests for hearing defects by a trained physician, and also urinalysis and complete blood and serological tests. This complete examination can be had here for $3.00

Complete UROLOGICAL Service

Certain organs of the body often seem to function normally when beginning infection is present. For this reason many disorders of the genito-urinary tract do not receive medical attention as early as they should. Any irregularity, persistent or recurring, should be promptly examined and treated.

Our Urological Department provides valuable medical service to men and women who have or have had infections and other disorders of the genito-urinary tract. Hospitalization, when necessary, also is available for diagnosis and treatment, including surgical care.

A special urological examination for men and women for all ailments of an infectious or non-infectious character, includes a regional and clinical examination by a trained physician, microscopic examination of all secretions and discharges, urinalysis, complete blood and serological tests; cost $3.00

Repeated visits $1.00. Six consecutive visits $4.00

Complete GYNECOLOGICAL Service

Many ailments peculiar to women, from the age of puberty through change of life can be largely prevented through early medical supervision and care. Our Gynecological Department through its trained physicians and scientific facilities can render a protective medical and surgical service and add many years of health and happiness to women's lives.

Through its Obstetrical Division it offers additional protection to expectant mothers during entire term of pregnancy including confinement and Hospital care at low controlled costs.

The complete gynecological service for women for all ailments of an infectious or non-infectious character, includes a regional and clinical examination by a trained physician, microscopic examination of all secretions and discharges, urinalysis, complete blood and serological tests for $3.00

Repeated visits, $1.00. Six consecutive visits $4.00.

Complete EYE Service.

Eyesight is life's most highly treasured possession yet the eyes are more frequently neglected than any other part of the body. The need for eye attention usually exists long before it is recognized by impaired vision. The eyes should be examined at regular intervals by a physician trained in the diseases of the eye itself. Only a physician can discover ailments in other parts of the body which may affect the eyes indirectly. Adequate eye protection depends upon the services rendered by the examining physician and his experience and training in diseases which affect the eyes.

Refraction alone is not sufficiently protective. A complete eye examination should include a medical examination of the eyes by a physician, refraction, urinalysis, complete blood and serological tests. The charge for this service here is $3.00

Complete OPTICAL Service.

When an eye examination by a physician, trained in the diseases of the eye, discloses changes which can be corrected by properly fitted glasses one should bear in mind that there is only one grade of work permissible in providing full protection against loss of vision, and that is the best quality that can be produced. The correction of vision is not so simple as it has been made to seem, and eye-sight is far too precious to experiment with.

Glasses, when needed, should include the finest toric lenses, each one scientifically ground to meet the physicians' prescription requirements. Cost should be the last consideration. Our complete optical service was established to furnish quality in lenses and scientific accuracy in grinding and fitting at low controlled costs.

Frames of best quality in modern styles and finishes can be furnished at definite savings. Charges, depending upon the type of lens correction and frames selected, are as low as $2.50

We fill prescriptions obtained elsewhere and repair frames and replace broken lenses at low controlled cost.

Complete RECTAL Service.

Rarely does an individual reach middle life without suffering from some diseases of the rectum. Piles, fistulas, fissures and other rectal conditions cause as much pain and discomfort as any other bodily ailment and often lead to serious consequences if neglected. One should never attempt self treatment of any rectal disorder. Cancer of the rectum is an all too frequent result of improper treatment and lack of early medical care.

A complete and thorough rectal examination includes a clinical examination by a trained physician, use of the anoscope and the proctoscope, urinalysis, complete blood examination and serological tests and microscopic examination of the stool for blood, mucus and amoebae. The charge for this service is $5.00

Complete HAY FEVER Service.

According to reliable statistics over two million persons suffer from Hay Fever, Asthma and certain skin disorders because of a disturbing reaction to pollen, food, dust and other foreign substances. These annoying, debilitating and frequently incapacitating symptoms can be successfully treated following proper diagnosis. We have created a special department to study the cause and to treat these and such other ailments as come under this classification. A very large percentage of Hay Fever sufferers can be relieved. Treatment should begin now before symptoms appear. Complete skin tests are $15.00

Individual treatments 75c to $1.00

Complete GENERAL HEALTH Service.

In protecting health the time to begin looking for danger signals is before there is evidence of serious trouble. Prevention of disease through periodic general health examination is the most protective and economical service modern medicine can render. An annual health audit can add years of health and happiness to the life of almost every individual. Most of the major causes of death, such as cancer, heart trouble, tuberculosis, kidney disorders, syphilis and others, can be prevented or controlled by early medical examinations, diagnosis and treatments.

Unlimited general health or diagnostic service is available now for the first time at charges the most limited incomes can afford. The complete service includes all necessary X-ray examinations and medical laboratory tests, clinical examinations by trained physicians in the various departments of medicine, excepting allergy; the charge is $20.00 of the teeth cannot be urged too strongly. In addition to local pain and discomfort, many conditions, often serious, in other parts of the body are frequently due to infected teeth and gums. A healthy mouth can be maintained only through regular periodic examinations. No medical examination can be considered complete unless it includes a full mouth X-ray and a thorough and painstaking examination of the teeth by an experienced dentist. In order that our medical examinations be thorough and complete we have arranged for the necessary examinations of the teeth and gums by qualified and registered dentists. Through our Dental laboratories and manufacturing departments we are prepared to furnish plates, bridges and other dental replacements to the public through the dental profession at controlled low costs.

Some of the many X-Ray and Medical Laboratory Services available to our patients and to the public through their own family physicians. Other services proportionately low.

4 GERMAN REDS BEHEADED FOR KILLING NAZIS

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

HAMBURG, Aug. 1.—Four communists sentenced to death by a special court on June 6 were beheaded today in Altona, on the opposite side of the River Elbe from Hamburg. They were August Luettke, a seaman; Karl Wolff, a journeyman; Bruno Tesch and Walter Mueller, laborers.

They had been found guilty of causing the deaths of a number of storm troopers on what in Nazi parlance has come to be known as "the Altona cloudy Sunday"—July 17, 1932. On that evening a procession of storm troopers was fired on, allegedly by communists.

18 Killed in Clash.

Today was the first time that an executioner in the third reich had a multiple political job to perform.

The Altona clash was not only sanguinary—eighteen men were killed and more than fifty wounded—but was also a milestone in recent German developments.

It was this encounter that was seized upon by Franz von Papen, then chancellor, as a convenient occasion for dispatching "a lieutenant and ten men" to oust Otto Braun and Karl Severing, respectively Socialist premier and minister of the interior, from the government of Prussia, thus smoothing the way for the seizure of power by Adolf Hitler and his followers later.

Charges Nazis Killed Lawyer.

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

VIENNA, Aug. 1.—The Neue Tagebuch, published here by the exiled editors of the former German weekly of the same name, today prints charges that Dr. Alfred Strauss, a lawyer, was recently murdered in the concentration camp at Dachau, near Munich.

The newspaper says that, after having been beaten, Dr. Strauss was killed by three bullets through the brain. Before his torture and execution, however, the Neue Tagebuch adds, he was taken to his own office by order of Dr. Hans Frank, the Bavarian minister of justice, and there forced to hand over to the Nazis documents in his possession concerning Dr. Frank.

Before the triumph of the Nazis Dr. Strauss had declared in a Munich court that he was in a position to prove that Dr. Frank, although a particularly violent anti-Semite, was himself of Jewish origin.

GERMAN VETERANS ON CRUISE AROUSE REDS IN BUENOS AIRES

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Communists and Fascists threatened an open conflict today over the arrival of more than 15 wounded German war veterans, some of them legless or armless, aboard the Monte Olivia on a pleasure cruise from Hamburg.

Dubbing the visitors "Nazis," and the tour "Hitler propaganda," the Federacion Obrera Argentina, a labor union, including factory and port workers and taxi drivers, called a strike in protest.

Fascists put up placards asking adherents to meet the vessel and urging "enemies of communism" to "come prepared to punch a Red." German sources insisted the veterans' tour is nonpolitical, and that they will return on the Monte Olivia Aug. 10.

TOO MANY CZARS CRUSHING RUSSIA, SURVEY REVEALS

[Copyright: 1933: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 1.—The great hardships imposed upon the people of Russia by the vast bureaucracy which the rulers of the Red regime have set up were brought strikingly to the front today by the government controlled newspaper, Economic Life.

This newspaper has just completed a nation-wide investigation of the burdens on collective farms. It found that the administrative staffs of these farms are often so large that the workers in the fields do not prosper even when they have excellent crops.

Some of the results of the newspaper's investigation were:

Administration staffs often are from three to four times larger than the number ordered by the government and the communist party.

The members of the administration in many cases take no part in field work.

They reckon their "work days," the unit by which collective crops are divided after the harvest, on a higher scale than "producing collectivists."

Included in administration staffs are unauthorized persons, such as local officials, veterinaries, and teachers.

The expenses of the administration and advances to the staff are improperly high.

"Any reader," the paper says, "can understand that an administrative staff of 12 to 20 per cent of the total of the collectivists passes the limit. But there is worse than that.

"In the Sheboldayef collective, in Pavlof county, North Caucasus, only 497 persons—44 per cent of 1,122 collective members are actually engaged in field work. More than half are occupied in administrative work and other duties. In the Stalin collective, in the old Minsk county, the administrative expenses planned for this year will be one-third of the income."

This growth of bureaucracy and excess of administrative personnel in relation to the producing workers is said to be prevalent in every phase of soviet endeavor, with a cumulative effect far more damaging than any sabotage.

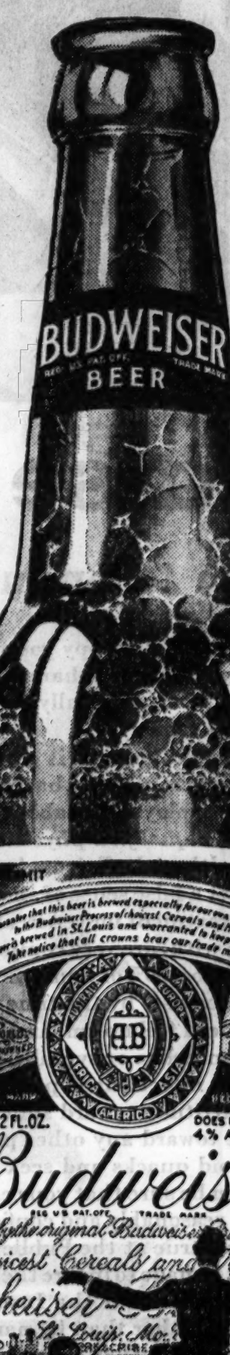
MARCUS, FORMER AMTORG MANAGER, TO AID U. S. IN RUSSIA?

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Another indication of the administration's desire for improved trade relations with soviet Russia was seen today in the appointment of J. Anthony Marcus, former import manager of the Amtorg Trading corporation, as special adviser to the agricultural adjustment administration.

It was one of two appointments made today for the purpose of finding markets abroad for the American agricultural surplus. The other was Raymond C. Miller, former American commercial attaché at Brussels and Paris. Mr. Miller will concentrate on trade possibilities in western Europe. No announcement was made of the areas assigned to Mr. Marcus, but it is expected he will devote his principal efforts to the Russian market with which he is most familiar.

Both men have long been students of foreign markets for American products and both were formerly connected with the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce.

There's Only One BUDWEISER



When beer came back on April 7th everyone wanted to try it. Any beer was welcome, just so it was beer. As sampling continued, those who hadn't tasted real beer for 14 years, and those who never had tasted it at all, began to discover that all beer was not alike.

Today there are even more beers on the market. For millions of people the sampling is now over, since they have been able to obtain BUDWEISER.

Today, just as in the days of long ago, you'll find in BUDWEISER a quality which draws you to it and holds you long after you've forgotten the taste of any ordinary beer. It is that quality which has made BUDWEISER year after year outsell any other bottled beer on Earth. It is the demand for that quality which built the largest brewery in the world—a brewery consisting of 110 buildings covering 70 city blocks. This great plant has been working night and day to give you perfectly brewed and fully aged BUDWEISER. One sip and you'll discover why millions who welcomed beer back are finding that, after all, there's only one BUDWEISER. Serve it cold!

Your dealer can supply you now.

Measure to Take Effect Before End of Week.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 1.—A government decree applying the long threatened 15 per cent surtax on all American imports to France has been drawn up and will become effective before the end of the week.

The decree, which was prepared some time ago by the ministry of commerce and has been approved by the entire cabinet, now only awaits the signature of Minister of Finance Georges Bonnet. President Lebrun then adds his signature—a mere formality—and the measure automatically becomes law by being promulgated in the official journal the next day.

Boosts All Existing Duties.

The new tax will be added to all existing duties on American goods. The government justifies its action on the ground that the depreciation of the dollar by lowering the price of goods in terms of francs falsifies the existing tariff schedule. The same surtax was applied to British goods after the pound abandoned gold. It is still in force.

Threats to apply this special surtax have been heard ever since the dollar began its decline. When France signed the tariff truce it was with the reservation that she be allowed to take this step if it seemed advisable. According to news dispatches at the time, President Roosevelt in the course of his conversations with former Premied Edouard Herriot in Washington declared he had no objection to the application of the tax.

Nevertheless, the government for a long time hesitated to take the step and when the measure was finally considered advisable it was decided to wait until after the economic conference adjourned.

No Chamber Action Needed.

No special authorization from the chamber of deputies is needed to ratify the decree, as the government is empowered to issue it at any time under a law voted two years ago. It can likewise be revoked at will, although in the case of the British it was fear of an unfavorable reaction in the chamber which prevented Premier Daladier from taking this step.

By pure arithmetic American exporters are still in a better position than before the gold embargo because, while the dollar has depreciated over 25 per cent, tariffs have only been augmented 15 per cent.

Commercial experts, however, are far from certain that in actual operation the new tax will not prove a crushing blow to American trade with France. Even if the surtax only serves to cut down exporters' profits, it will be a powerful weapon in the hands of the French government when the time comes for discussing tariff accords or even war debts with Washington.

Drop Prohibitive Duty.

In order to soften the blow to American business interests and establish that the new surtax is purely a protective measure, Minister of Commerce Serre today signed another decree eliminating the prohibitive customs duties imposed by the tariff of July 14.

The tariff act of July 14 purported to be directed against German dumping. But study of it revealed that it modified existing tariff rates in such a way that about 25 important American products, notably cotton waste, vulcanized fiber, and certain kinds of electrical apparatus, would be subjected to the maximum rate.

In the case of vulcanized fiber, this raised the tariff on 100 kilograms (220 pounds) from 200 francs to 1,200. (A franc yesterday was worth 5.24 cents.) Under the new decree the Americans are assured that they will stand in exactly the same position as before July 14.

This last action averts the threatened tariff war between the two countries, but it remains to be seen how American business will receive the 15 per cent surtax.

Judge Frees Debtor Held in Jail for Seven Weeks

Circuit Judge William V. Brothers yesterday released Tony Spantiero, 1310 West Huron street, from the county jail, where he had spent the last seven weeks in a debtor's cell for failure to pay a judgment involving a malice count. John Jenarella, who obtained a $300 judgment against Spantiero two years ago on a charge of assault and battery, had transferred it to Michael Zolkiewicz, who was paying the $3.50 a week necessary to keep Spantiero in the jail. Judge Brothers held that only the original plaintiff could make such payments.

ANDORRA 'SPANKED' BY FRANCE FOR REVOLT; ALL EXPORTS BARRED

ANDORRA, Aug. 1.—The most powerful of Andorra's co-princes, Albert Lebrun, otherwise president of France, visited his wrath today on the tiny state which Saturday in the name of its independence had the temerity to defy both him and the Spanish bishop of Urgel, its other overseer.

Acting on the president's authority, it is supposed, French customs authorities imposed an embargo on all Andorran exports to France, thus ruining at one fell swoop the little nation's most thriving industry, which is smuggling.

Andorrans have long been engaged in importing cars, typewriters and sewing machines, not only duty free, but at prices less than they sell for in France and shipping them back into France as of Andorran origin, selling them to peasants at a great profit.

BRITISH BOMBERS ATTACK REBEL TRIBE IN INDIA

SIMLA, India, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Four squadrons of British bombing planes dropped bombs on Kotkai village of the Bajauri tribe on the northwest frontier today following the tribesmen's failure to surrender three alleged ringleaders of an agitation.

The agitators are accused of stirring unrest among the Bajauri and Mohmand tribes and against the king of Afghanistan. Another reason for the operations is to defend the friendly Kalimzai tribe.

BRITAIN TO FREE GANDHI FROM HIS CELL ON PAROLE

Will Compel Him to End Rebel Activity.

POONA, India, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, arrested early today with his wife and thirty-three followers, will be brought to Yeravda prison here from Ahmedabad and subsequently will be released.

The group were lodged in Sabarmati jail at Ahmedabad shortly before they planned to launch a new civil disobedience campaign for Indian independence.

The Mahatma will be released under an order prohibiting him from leaving this district or engaging in any activity in connection with the disobedience campaign. He will face a possible prison sentence of two years and a public trial if he violates the order.

In Familiar Surroundings.

His return to Yeravda prison will bring him back to familiar surroundings, for he was released from that jail only last May after being held there sixteen months because of his refusal to call off a previous disobedience campaign

Under an indefinite sentence, he was freed when he began a three weeks' fast against untouchability, thus relieving the British government of any responsibility for his health or life during the fast.

His followers, arrested as they prepared to march to the village Ras in the Kaira district to gain converts to the disobedience campaign, also were likely to be released soon on parole.

Taken from Rich Man's Home.

They were sleeping at the Ashram, Gandhi's college of devotees, when taken in custody. Their leader was awakened and arrested at the home of a wealthy mill owner, Seth Ranchooddass.

Under the program for the new campaign individual acts of disobedience were to replace the former policy of mass action. The Mahatma also announced the disbandment of the Ashram, which he called the most precious thing in his life, as an initiatory sacrifice in connection with the campaign.

CUBAN CLASHES CONTINUE; THREE KILLED, 35 HURT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 1.—Clashes between civilians and police and a series of riots resulting from labor disputes took a toll of three dead and about 35 seriously injured in Cuba today. Communists were charged by police with instigating the fighting.

Meanwhile United States Ambassador Welles went into conference late tonight with President Machado, members of the cabinet, and Chief of Police Anciart. The recent series of disturbances are understood to have placed the program of political conciliation being pushed by Welles in danger of collapse.

Great Damage Caused.

Attacks were launched today on cigar factories operating with strike breakers, barber shops, ten cent stores, and other business houses in Havana which were deemed to be oppressing their employés. Students formed a large part of the attacking parties, which wielded blackjacks, stones, knives, steel bars, and other weapons. Machinery was wrecked and much other property damage was caused.

Elements opposed to President Machado's régime joined the demonstrations and brandished banners reading "Down with Machado the Assassin." The communists were represented by signs such as "Down with Welles and American meddling" and "Down with democracy and government."

The protests against Machado were aroused chiefly because of recent police attacks on gatherings of war veterans and teachers who have been demanding that the government pay pensions and salaries due them.

Girl Student Killed.

At Soyo Colorado, in Havana province, six were wounded when federal troops clashed with anti-government elements. At the city of Camaguey 2,000 oppositionists assembled at the railway station to welcome Dr. Gonzalo del Cristo, a prominent leader who had just been freed from the penitentiary. The assemblage was attacked by troops. Twelve were wounded in the resulting fighting. The city was under martial law tonight.

Miss Maria Luisa Lavadi, a student leader who was recently released from the Isle of Pines, was killed at Santiago de Cuba when a police officer fired into a demonstration by anti-Machado elements.

Havana taxicab and omnibus drivers have struck as a result of a dispute with franchise owners over licenses to operate bus lines. The cab drivers are striking in sympathy with the bus men.

caused him to endure months of needless pain and worry!

A few months ago this unhappy young man contracted a severe case of gonorrhea. Ashamed to go to a physician, he attempted unsuccessfully to cure himself with the aid of a patent remedy.

As a result his infection now is chronic, causing him constant discomfort. And worry has so seriously affected his work that his employers are about to discharge him. Yet by this time a qualified physician could have restored him to health and efficiency!

It is foolish to let a false sense of shame stand between you and reliable treatment for venereal infections. These diseases, to begin with, are very common, one authority estimating that almost 50% of young men become infected (innocently or otherwise) by the time they reach thirty!

Secondly, you need feel no embarrassment in going to a doctor about gonorrhea or syphilis. To physicians the treatment of such infections is part of their every-day work, and their attitude toward sufferers from them is the same as that toward any other patient. So, if you are careful to avoid quacks and seek out a dependable physician, you can be sure that your case will be treated sympathetically, reasonably and confidentially.

Especially is this true at the Public Health Institute, where every effort is made to insure the utmost privacy. As each patient of the Institute is known by number rather than by name, not even the attending physician is aware of his or her identity.

Also, there prevails throughout the Public Health Institute an atmosphere of kindly understanding. Specializing, as they do, in the treatment of venereal diseases, the Institute's physicians are familiar with their patients' fears and hasten to dispel them. Here everything possible is done to put patients quickly at their ease.

Thus it is folly to resort to ineffective self treatment in an effort to spare your pride. Not only is going to a doctor the proper thing to do, but no reputable physician will cause you to feel the slightest sense of shame. Instead, he will commend you for putting yourself into competent hands before serious damage has been done.

And the most serious damage imaginable can be done by self-treated venereal diseases! Gonorrhea, for example, may lead to sterility, prostate trouble, crippling rheumatism and other grave disorders, while syphilis may be the cause of heart disease, blindness, deafness, apoplexy, paralysis or even insanity!

Founded by prominent Chicagoans NOT FOR PROFIT, the Public Health Institute specializes in the treatment of venereal infections at remarkably low fees. A complete examination for gonorrhea and syphilis, including Wassermann and Kahn blood tests, costs only $3.00, while treatments for syphilis cost as little as $1.00 each and some of those for gonorrhea still less. Even persons pressed for funds can arrange to be treated.

NOTE: The Public Health Institute has no connection with any other Chicago health or medical institute, and should not be confused with those operated for personal gain!

BALLOT BATTLE AT CRISIS TODAY IN LOUISIANA

Troops Guard Jurors; Poll Judges Accused.

New Orleans, La., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The grand jury, around which has raged a controversy for weeks over investigation of last November's vote on state constitutional amendments, met late today in special session guarded by eight state artillerymen but adjourned within the hour with the announcement they would submit a report to the court tomorrow morning.

District Attorney Eugene Stanley filed election fraud charges today against 15 commissioners who served at the polls. The amendments were sponsored by the Huey P. Long political faction.

Acting on request of eleven members of the jury who said they needed "protection," Gov. O. K. Allen yesterday proclaimed a régime of martial law in New Orleans.

A showdown between the opposing factions is expected tomorrow morning when Stanley is scheduled to start a recount of the votes in open court. The jury recently attempted to return a "no-bill" designed to clear all commissioners who served in the election.

James M. Colomb, one of the jurymen, however, openly charged that his colleagues had voted their finding without examining the ballots. Presiding Judge Alexander C. O'Donnell promptly declined to accept the jury's "no-bill."

Gov. Allen, after conferring here with Senator Long, has returned to Baton Rouge. Senator Long remained at his home in New Orleans suffering from what his family described as ptomaine poisoning.

PLANT ALFALFA AND RED CLOVER TO AVOID CHINCH BUG PLAGUE

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Extensive areas in central Illinois where chinch bugs have ruined the corn and barley crops are being planted to alfalfa or red clover, crop experts of McLean and other nearby counties announce.

Planting these legumes not only puts a crop on land that otherwise would be idle and costly but also is in line with the national agricultural adjustment program, which is designed to reduce the acreage of grain crops. It is estimated by crop experts that Illinois farmers already have adjusted their cropping systems to the point where they are growing a million acres more of legumes than in 1910-1914, but the acreage can be vastly extended by the policy now used by central Illinois farmers.

Unless adverse weather checks them, chinch bugs not only will continue to menace the corn crop until September but also may establish themselves so well that they will seriously threaten the crop next season.

GIRL CONFESSES KILLING RURAL MAIL CARRIER

Edwardsville, Ill., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Stella Christoff, 17, daughter of a truck farmer, confessed today that she shot and killed Nelson Voss, a rural mail carrier, on July 13.

"He tried to kiss me while I was out squirrel hunting," the girl asserted. "That made me angry, so I shot him."

As she told the story, Voss had tried to get her younger sister, Sophie, who was on the squirrel hunt, to go home a few minutes before the shooting took place. Stella added that she had objected several times to the attentions of the postman, who was a substitute for the regular man, and had advised him to "go carry his mail."

The body of Voss was found near the Christoff farm, about eight miles southwest of Edwardsville. Chris Christoff, father, and George Christoff, brother of the girl, were arrested, as was Steve Petroff, her cousin.

Petroff furnished the clew that brought about the arrest of Stella. He said that the mail sack of Voss would be found in possession of Frank Stroak, living in a shed on the farm. Questioning Stroak, State's Attorney Geers learned that he had the sack. The girl then came forward and absolved the other members of the farm household of blame.

DENIES BARTON URGED WEDDING, AS WOMAN SAYS

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The prosecution sprung a surprise in its closing hour in the trial today of Mrs. Frances W. King for blackmailing Bruce Barton.

Hugh Rodgers King, the defendant's divorced husband, was called to the stand. Mrs. King had asserted, under oath, their marriage was at Barton's suggestion.

As an assistant district attorney called the name, Hugh Rodgers King, a tall young man with a mustache, advanced from the back of the room and took the witness stand. Mrs. King smilingly listened to him denounce as false her entire story of their marriage and Barton's share in it.

Questioned, the witness, on direct examination, said he married the defendant on June 27, 1928. He added he never had seen Bruce Barton in his life, never had conferred with him, never entered into any agreement with Barton.

Mrs. King had testified that Barton suggested that she marry King to avoid any scandal because he, Barton, expected to be a member of President Hoover's cabinet. King testified today that he never heard of Barton's cabinet aspirations.

Solomon Hirschhorn, Mrs. King's counsel, proceeded to the cross-examination.

"How much did you get for coming here?" he asked King, who replied, "Nothing."

Gov. Pollard and Bride Stop Here on Way Home

Gov. John Garland Pollard of Virginia and his bride, the former Miss Viola Elizabeth McDougall, who has been his executive secretary, arrived in Chicago on the Viking of the Chicago and North Western railroad last night. They came from Winnipeg, Man., where they were married on Monday. Mrs. Pollard has been executive secretary to four Virginia governors since 1918. The governor said he expected to go to White Sulphur Springs to set up temporary headquarters where he plans to prepare a message for a special session of the Virginia legislature, called to provide for the state's ratification of repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

HARRIMAN SO ILL HE NEARLY DIED, JUDGE INFORMED

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special]—Joseph W. Harriman, indicted banker, was so ill at Bellevue hospital last night that physicians feared for his life, Federal Judge Francis G. Caffney was informed today. Upon receipt of the information he adjourned Mr. Harriman's sanity hearing until Aug. 29. He added that after conferring with physicians his counsel may move for an earlier resumption of the hearings if they choose.

Mr. Harriman suffered a heart attack in a steaming courtroom yesterday while Judge Caffey was conducting an inquiry into whether the banker was mentally able to assist his counsel in preparing a defense of the indictments against him.

He is charged with falsifying the books of the Harriman National bank, of which he was president, and of misapplying its funds.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In the report published yesterday in THE TRIBUNE on the condition June 30, 1933, of the First National Bank and Trust Company of Chicago Heights [closed on June 30, 1932] there was an error in one item, namely, the expense of receivership. This item was given in THE TRIBUNE as $150,000. John L. Schlener, the receiver, writes asking that this error be corrected. The expense of the receivership was in fact only $23,362. The error in this paper occurred through the duplication of figures from the item that appeared just above "expense of receivership." That was "R. F. C. loans repaid, $150,000."

Mr. Schlener in his letter adds: "I do not believe the criticisms aimed at receivers and given so much publicity in the Chicago newspapers can be rightfully aimed at receivers of insolvent national banks."

Conoco Germ Processed (Paraffin Base) Motor Oil is a high quality motor oil to which has been added extreme oiliness and penetrativeness. It combines with the metal surfaces, providing lubrication at all times. All other oils drain away—the Germ Process formula is exclusively Conoco's.

The total cost for this oil is but a fifth of a cent per mile.

Buy lubricating qualities—not just quarts—it's less expensive.

NEEDY FAMILIES WONDER IF FUND WILL FAIL THEM

Hundreds Are Waiting for Free Vacations.

BY KATHERINE KELLEY.

This is a reminder that hundreds of mothers and children in the congested areas are depending upon TRIBUNE readers for their vacations this summer. Some of them are beginning to wonder if the fund is going to fail them.

The Camp Algonquin fund's total is little more than $1,500. That will not go far in sending close to 2,000 persons to the camp for two week outings this season. Vacations cost $8.40 per person for the two weeks.

What Free Outing Brings.

These free outings, contributed by readers of THE TRIBUNE mean much to the needy families of the city. First there are three square meals a day and ice cream on Sunday. There are clean white sheets in cool dormitories, quiet sleep at night, hikes, marshmallow roasts, boat rides, parties, sewing clubs.

It's no wonder that the mothers, after a few days in the camp, are prompted to write the United Charities [administrator of the camp] begging to remain longer than the allotted time.

Two children's benefits added several dollars to the fund yesterday. One was the Flossmoor Junior Sunday Evening club. The club gave a motion picture show and voted to give $15 of the proceeds to the fund.

The other benefit was a bazaar given in Joan Doe's basement at 322 Belden avenue, by Joan and her friend, Yvonne Anderson. Joan, who was the 6,000,000th visitor to A Century of Progress, sent $1 to the camp fund.

Two Other Gifts.

Two other contributions to the camp fund, A. J. Franks, who sent $5, and $5 from "Anonymous," gave the fund a total of $1,543.49.

Only two gifts reached the free ice fund, which distributes ice to needy homes in the poor districts. Ten dollars was sent by Mrs. Phil Kinzie, and $5 by R. J. Franks. The ice fund now has a total of $1,298.53.

Contributions to both these funds should be sent to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE, Tribune Tower.

De Wolf, retired Chicago attorney who shot and killed himself in his Pasadena residence in December, 1930. Mr. De Wolf was at one time president of the switchboard company. New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Chester S. Lord, former managing editor of the Sun and chancellor of the University of the State of New York, died early today at his home in Garden City.

CHESTER S. LORD.

Mr. Lord, who was 83 years old, had been ill for several weeks, but was not confined to his bed until July 4.

In spite of advancing years Mr. Lord led an active life until about a year ago. He was an enthusiastic fisherman and also was fond of golf.

Surviving are two sons, Kenneth Lord of Garden City and Richard S. Lord of Katonah; a sister, Mrs. C. B. W. Merritt, and a grandson, Chester W. Lord.

Mr. Lord—"Boss" Lord for a quarter of a century to the news staff of the Sun—served as managing editor of that newspaper from 1880 to his retirement in 1913. Virtually the whole of his active life was spent on the Sun staff. When he joined it he was a boy of 22, coming down from Oswego and the Advertiser there.

Under his direction some of the most famous reporters of the city worked and wrote—broke in as cubs, learned their ways around, and came to be "the Sun's bright young men." They learned to write as Dana and Lord believed a newspaper should be written and they learned to admire and feel a deep affection for the "boss" who, Edward G. Riggs once wrote, "was never known in all the years of his managing editorship to utter an unkind word to any man on the paper, no matter how humble his station."

She was an accomplished musician and composer and helped hundreds of poor boys and girls at Hull house to further their musical ambitions.

Surviving Miss Sears are two brothers, J. Alden Sears of Kenilworth and Philip R. Sears of Seattle, Wash., and a sister, Miss Dorothy Sears of Winnetka. There will be no funeral services.

BISHOP BURLESON OF EPISCOPAL CHURCH IS DEAD

Camp Remington, Black Hills, S. D., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Bishop Hugh L. Burleson of the Protestant Episcopal church and formerly bishop of South Dakota, died here today of angina pectoris.

Bishop Burleson, who was 68 years old, was in charge of the domestic and foreign missions, social service, and education department of the church, with offices in New York.

Funeral services and burial will be in Sioux Falls, probably Friday.

Assured Fair Exhibit.

When the death of Bishop Burleson was reported last night at the headquarters of the Chicago Episcopal diocese, 52 West Huron street, it was recalled that he had been personally responsible for the Episcopal exhibit in the Hall of Religion at A Century of Progress.

When the religious committee of the Fair approached Bishop George Craig Stewart in reference to an Episcopal exhibit, Bishop Stewart sought aid of Bishop Burleson at the national headquarters of the church in New York. Bishop Burleson and Bishop Stewart underwrote the cost of the exhibit. The cost was met by appeals by Bishop Stewart to the clergy of the church throughout the country.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

"The First World War," edited by Laurence Stallings. [Simon & Schuster.] Published on Monday.

With the trenchant irony which is manifest in its title, Laurence Stallings has captioned all of the scenes in the collection of 500 photographs which make up "A Photographic History" of "The First World War." Assembled from all fronts, economic and social, as well as fighting, these photographs present a panorama of the world war which even those who run can read. Those who care to can read volumes between the lines.

LAURENCE STALLINGS.

In the publisher's foreword M. Lincoln Schuster quotes Santayana: "History is merely memory aided and abetted." To those whose memory takes them back to the war years these photographs will stir emotions which had seemed sealed. To those too young to have those emotions, intellectual if not emotional springs will be brought to gush by them. For as actions speak louder than words, so do pictures tell their story even more swiftly, more immediately, more piercingly. Many who look upon this photographic record of four years which are past in time, but still, in a sense, pityingly present, will find within them a new horror of that new war which Europeans all fear. Not that "The First World War" is a record of horrors. Other books have been that, Mr. Stallings says in his introduction. "Man made this world in four years and saw that it was good, if we are to believe Versailles. Well, here it is in the making, just as man made it, caught by many a camera eye."

That eye that focuses facts Mr. Stallings has used to register the impression which goes to the brains of all of those who look at the book. "There is no conclusion to it," Mr. Stallings declares. But there he is wrong. There is an inevitable and a bombarding conclusion to it . . . that war is a ravage and a destitution, and neither victor nor vanquished is anything but immeasurably the worse for the struggle. And there is an ironic note at the end of the book . . . a photograph of a bombarded house which might have been one of the wartime casualties. It is labeled succinctly "Revolution." As the publishers point out, the first world war didn't begin in 1914 and it didn't end in 1918.

The succinctness of the captions is one thing that makes the photographs unforgettable. With at times bitter irony Mr. Stallings points with a phrase the terrific truth of the camera. Two photographs facing each other, one of German prisoners and the other of French prisoners, are labeled, "These Germans Reached England" and "These Frenchmen Reached Germany." A photograph of a Russian village in flames is captioned, "Keep the Home Fires Burning."

"Landmark" is the mere riddled shell of a Norman tower on a French château. "Sky-line" is a picture of a Belgian village skyline being smashed into metropolitan outlines of towers and canyons.

On one page are three pictures all called, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past." They are of the bishop of Westminster blessing British troops, a priest blessing Russian troops, and a chaplain blessing German troops.

"A Place in the Sun" shows the mutilated bodies of men still clinging to life as they take their sun baths, and "Twilight" a group of American soldiers in a French hospital, temporarily, perhaps permanently, blinded by poison gas. "Supply," craftsmen making artificial arms and legs, is followed by "Demand," a photograph of an operating room in a German field hospital. "Divine Services" shows the ruins of the cathedral of Albert in France with troops marching past.

A photograph of children in the foreground and their elders in the background on a Paris street looking up into the sky with terror in their eyes is labeled "Friend or Enemy?" And that reminds me of something an English friend of mine once said about the war: "Never to a child of the war generation will the moonlight be anything but a terror," he said. "I can never forget the cry of a child who rushed in one night as I was staying with friends on the Devonshire coast where the Zeppelins came over. 'O, mother, there's a moon tonight,' was all she said, but sheer agony was in her voice."

"Babe in the Woods," "Harvest," "Fragments" are all photographs of what once were men. Of all the pictures in the book I think that the four which face each other on opposite pages and begin with "This Was a Home" are the most memorable. Barely standing walls of what might have been anything bear that caption. Below it is a mass of rock and wood utterly unrecognizable, with only a bell to give a clew of its past. "This Was a Church." Mere splinters in the landscape quietly declares "This Was a Forest." And finally, scarcely recognizable as ever having been human is a fully dressed skeleton equipped with an armory: "This Was a Man."

Perhaps when Mr. Stallings says there is no conclusion to this book he is being as ironic as he is in his title!

Select First Winners in Festival Test

BY VIRGINIA GARDNER.

A 5 foot 2 inch girl from Henryetta, Okla., who came to Chicago to study music and waits tables to pay for her lessons, won first place among the contraltos last night in the first of the annual Chicagoland Music Festival preliminaries. She is Miss Evelyn Ham of 217 East Ontario street.

The preliminary contest, held in the Edgewater Beach hotel, was for north side contraltos, baritones, and tenors. North side sopranos and basses will compete tonight at that hotel. The music festival will be held the night of Aug. 19 in Soldiers' field. West siders will compete next Tuesday and Wednesday nights in the Midwest Athletic club. Chicago finals will be held Thursday, Aug. 17, in the Drake hotel, winners competing with out of town singers the morning of Aug. 19, a man and a woman soloist being chosen to sing at the festival.

Miss Ham is the daughter of M. D. Ham, postmaster at Henryetta. After being graduated in music from the Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college at Stillwater she taught school a year, saved her earnings and came here two years ago to study at the American Conservatory of Music. For the last two years she has won the Karleton Hackett scholarship.

Between waiting tables and taking lessons the diminutive singer with the deep voice found time last winter to direct the choir at the Community Presbyterian church in Clarendon Hills. She is 23 years old. Miss Ham sang Rachmaninoff's "In the Silence of Night."

Second place among the contraltos went to Lois Grider, 22 years old, of 1125 Forest avenue, Wilmette, a pretty blonde girl who was graduated in June from the music school at De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind. She wants to study for opera. Miss Muriel Schreiber, 20 years old, of 4921 Cullom avenue won third honors.

More than 200 persons attended the contest, in which 84 persons in all competed. Sixteen were in the women's contest. Judges were Frank Bennett, singer and choral director; John T. Read, teacher, and Irene Pavloska, Civic Opera contralto.

So close was the contest in the baritones that the three selected as winners were asked to repeat their selections. Ludlow White, 25 years old, of 1722 Ridge avenue, Evanston, singing "Without a Song," received first honors and thus will compete in the city finals.

He is a student of Rudolph Magnus. He is the son of the late William H. White, assistant federal reserve agent at the Federal Reserve bank here. Mr. White lives with his mother, Mrs. Katherine L. White.

Thomas Elvin, 20 years old, of 330 Scott street, Lake Forest, a junior in Lake Forest college, placed second in the baritone contest, and Maurice Sylvan, 5007 North California avenue, 21 years old, won third honors.

Sidney E. Greene, 25 years old, of 3236½ Bryn Mawr avenue, son of Samuel, a shoe merchant, was adjudged best of the tenors. He is studying with Louise Gilbert

His two runners-up both chose "I Love Life" as their song, and were asked to sing a second time before the judges placed them. Phil Clark, 24 years old, who came here from his home town, Tampa, Fla., two years ago after winning a local contest there won second place. He explained that his funds ran out and he ceased studying to act as room clerk in the Belmont Plaza hotel. Ray Anderson, 23 years old, of 5736 Berenice avenue, an office clerk in the National Life Insurance company, ranked third.

"Melon Patch" High in Favor with Southerner

Winter Styles Most Lavish Since War Era

PARIS, Aug. 1.—(AP)—A glamorous and glittering mode, the most elegant shown since the war, was displayed today by Lucien Lelong among his 1934 winter style suggestions.

Sparkling spangles, birds of paradise, and luxurious furs combined to make the evening mode reminiscent of the elegance of pre-war days.

Gowns were designed with slender lines and trailing trains, and gave an air of intriguing grace to mannequins as they swept through flower-decked salons.

A black velvet princess evening gown and shimmering sequins on the lower part of the skirt and upper bodice. A black net splashed with iridescent spangles and a periwinkle crêpe, studded with metal moons, were other outstanding designs.

Feathers added an interesting touch to several models. One brown velvet gown was made with a cape shoulder line edged with yellow birds of paradise. A black crêpe model was finished with a spray of pink osprey at the left shoulder.

Evening wraps stressed capes, long and short, lavishly trimmed with fur. A long black velvet cape was faced with ermine and had a collar of that fur. A full length gray velvet cape was collared with lighter gray fox. A waist length cape had an ermine yoke and a sable lower section.

Fine Feathers Make Swan of Ugly Duckling

Fashion Experts Work Wonders at Fair.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

I'll be seein' you tomorrow at the Blue Ribbon Casino at the Fair? At 1:30 p. m.! And don't you miss it—or you'll be sorry! Especially if you are one of the girls who get to thinking there "ain't no justice," or there wasn't any when the beauty assets were being handed out, come on over and witness for yourself the transformation of one young woman from what she, herself, called a Plain Jane into a——

Well, come over and see for yourself WHAT!

Mrs. Ford Carter, fashion counselor and style director of the Fair, who sure does know a lot about the right clothes for the right girl—and the wrong, too—promises to prove in this tomorrow's demonstration, that no girl is so plain that she's hopeless. That, in fact, every so-called plain sister has certain assets that may be stressed, emphasized, exaggerated, and with the help of clothes, coiffure and makeup will become a striking personality, distinguished, smart — or something mighty attractive.

And this is what you're to see tomorrow: The evolution of a Plain Jane into girl of striking interest. I'll guarantee you some clever tips from the demonstration, to say nothing of the cheering note that will be imparted to women who foolishly resign themselves to the idea that "there ain't no use" trying to fix up. [And aren't there moments when we all feel that way?]

You see all this beauty business—its standard—has changed so of recent days. There are no more toasts of the town. There are too many women to qualify as toasts. And many, many more might just as easily qualify did they learn the tricks of dress and coif and makeup that would give them glamour.

Thursday, as I say, is Miss Plain Jane's day. Friday, at the same hour and place, the business girl is going to be shown in her often unattractive and inappropriate getup and then how she might be dressed and look to answer today's demand for beauty on the job as well as brains.

Saturday we're going to let you in one two types of home women: The town apartment dweller, and the suburban. How she often looks around the house—and how she might just as well be looking the adorable one her mate first fell in love with.

Sunday—and planned for Sunday, too, so all you business women will come who are letting your good years slip by in a machine-like concentration on work—we will offer the Tired Business Woman and show how you can work a psychological change in yourself as well as a pictorial one with clothes and the wiles of rouge and powder, and a general feminine metamorphosis. We don't guarantee you against becoming infected with "siren" ideas. As a matter of fact, just hope you do get 'fected that way.

Monday's and Tuesday's announcements will be made later.

Sally Will Select Hundred Guests for Circus Party Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

A circus wouldn't be a circus without clowns, would it? Well, there'll be 100 of them performing a week from tomorrow out at Grant park, but there couldn't be too many for us!

One of the biggest thrills in the show will be the aerial performance of the very famous Alfredo Codona. He works with several members of his family high, high up under the tent top. He's one of the most noted trapeze artists in his line, specializing in a triple somersault flying return leap, which certainly sounds exciting even though I'm not quite sure what it is!

Then there'll be all kinds of beautiful horses—snow white, sleek black or shiny brown ones—who're almost as smart as they're handsome. Sometimes they put as many as 25 of them in one ring, all with numbers on them. Then the ringmaster mixes 'em all up, snaps his whip and they prance right back to their places in numerical order again.

But I just can't begin to tell you about all the funny things we'll see next week, but if you expect to come along, I hope your letter will reach me today, because this is the day I make my choice of the 100 best letter writers who will be my guests on Aug. 10.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

A DISTINGUISHED gentleman offers the following true story that concerns a prominent Chicago business man who was so hard hit by the depression he was forced to let his family servants go unpaid for some months. One day one of the Irish maids said she was ill and asked that the family physician be called. He arrived, took her temperature and pulse, and told her there didn't seem to be a thing in the world the matter with her.

"What did you think was wrong?" he asked.

"Well, I'm not sick," she confessed, "but I haven't been paid my wages for six months and I've decided to stay in bed until they pay me. They will have to keep me while I am waiting for my pay."

"An excellent idea," answered the doctor. "Move over and I'll join you. They owe me for the last three years."

THE other evening, when a young moon shone through the trees on the outdoor dance platform at Onwentsia, a young man cut in on a thirtiesh-age matron during the dancing. Puzzled as to his identity, she inquired whether he had been introduced by Mr. H——, who had brought several friends to the table earlier in the evening.

"No. I'm in Fleury Leonard's party," the young man vouchsafed. Then, a moment later, perhaps because she did not lend herself with enough facility to the dancing forms of the younger generation, perhaps because he got a good look at her face in the light, he added abruptly:

"I thought you were my age."

THIS brought to mind the remark addressed to Frieda Foltz by a handsome young cadet at Culver Military academy on an evening when she was guest at a dance given there. Miss Foltz was sitting in the general's box when the lad approached and asked her to dance. She was quite pleased with this little attention until he said, as they were under way:

"We get gold stars for dancing with the chaperons."

THE charming and genial astronomer, Dr. Philip Fox, sat at the place next to ours at Henry Field's luncheon at the Field museum a day or so ago and we learned from him the amazing question asked by many visitors to the planetarium. After the arresting and brilliant demonstration of the movements of the stars and planets is over, the lecturer sometimes asks if the hearers understood it all. And a not infrequent answer is:

"O yes, we understood everything except one thing. How do you get the dome out of the way so we can see the stars?"

A LITTLE touching perhaps, was the reaction of a young Australian who came up to express his pleasure at the demonstration the other day. His eyes were filled with tears.

"It was seeing the Southern Cross. It made me so homesick," he explained.

Pageant Will Tell Accurate Story of City's Incorporation

Shades of the past will stalk through Lincoln park on Aug. 12 when Chicago Incorporation day is observed by A Century of Progress in cooperation with the Chicago Historical society. Mark Beaubien will live again in the city's first council meeting and Thomas J. V. Owens will thump his hickory stick gavel for order, while Indians lurk in the thickets.

It is to be a "way back when" party and one of the most interesting, most colorful, according to the plans announced yesterday, that Chicago has yet enjoyed. Early residents of the city still living here and those who have removed to other cities are to receive special invitations to be present.

"We want to make the celebration accurate first of all," explained Dr. L. Hubbard Shattuck, director of the society, yesterday afternoon. "It is just 100 years ago, Aug. 12, that Chicago was incorporated. This council meeting we want to portray. The leaders of that little settlement on the western prairie were the men on whom Chicago's destiny depended in those days."

At 10 o'clock in the morning the ceremony is to begin on the steps of the new Historical Society building in Lincoln park with Dr. James A. James, professor of American history at Northwestern university and a trustee of the society, in charge. He will introduce in turn Dr. Otto L. Schmidt, who will give a pictorial survey of Chicago.

Then will follow the pageant with Mark Beaubien,

Following this celebration there is to be another on the Fair grounds featuring the development of transportation. During the next ten days every stable that remains on Prairie avenue, Drexel boulevard, and the near north side will be visited in a search for victorias, broughams, four-in-hands, and other vehicles that recall the mode of getting about in earlier times.

Meekers Will Entertain for Italian Envoy

Dinner Tomorrow Evening at Century Club.

BY JUDITH CASS.

ITALY'S ambassador to the United States, Augusto Rosso, will find pleasant relaxation from his official duties at the World's Fair between 8:30 and 9:30 tomorrow evening when he is the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meeker on the breeze swept terraces of the Century club.

Ambassador Rosso is coming to Chicago tomorrow morning for the second time within a month [he was here to welcome Gen. Balbo and his Italian flyers] to participate in the celebration of Italian day at A Century of Progress. Mr. Meeker explains that he has planned his dinner party as a "breathing spell" for the ambassador. His guests will number two dozen.

After the dinner the party will move on to the court of the Hall of Science, where a concertized version of Verdi's "Aïda" is to be presented under the direction of Gennaro Papi, who hasn't been seen in action here since his Ravinia days. Anne Roselle of the La Scala theater in Milan is to sing the title rôle.

Although concertized opera has been highly successful in New York for several seasons, this will be the first time it will have been given to Chicago music lovers. The performance of "Aïda" will require two hours and fifteen minutes, eliminating everything slow and unnecessary in the opera, yet presenting it as a balanced whole.

Dr. Giuseppe Castruccio, the Italian consul general, and Signora Castruccio will have a large party of guests in another of the center boxes at the opera, and so will Gov. Horner and Gov. Floyd Olson of Minnesota, who is President Roosevelt's representative to Italian day.

Dinner Dance to Aid Orphans.

Mrs. Chauncey McCormick, a great friend of Chicago's orphans, is to be hostess this evening at another of A Century of Progress supper dances in the Joseph Urban room of the Congress hotel to provide funds for the city's needy children to see the Fair. With Mr. McCormick she will entertain a large party of guests.

Col. and Mrs. Thomas R. Gowenlock are others who will entertain a group of friends. And so will Prince

SWELL GARRICK

BY ROY VICKERS

SYNOPSIS.

Swell Garrick—the World's Perfect Tailor's Dummy—is the label given him by those who didn't know that his well molded body had been created by athletic training, rather than tailoring skill. Maitland, a crooked gambler, is the purported guardian of lovely Rhoda Fairclough. He and Schewan, his chief, plot to trick Rhoda out of a fortune. Maitland has Rhoda adjudged insane. She has been administered a drug which will produce temporary madness. Having no proof of guilt, Garrick determines to settle the matter in his own way. His solicitor tells him that if Rhoda can gain and maintain her liberty for twenty-eight days she will be considered legally sane. Garrick undertakes a bold rescue. He escapes to London with Rhoda. Garrick hires Alf, a farmhand out of work, as a helper and buys his silence. One of the gang is shot during an encounter in Garrick's home and the police suspect Garrick. After a series of narrow escapes from the police and Schewan's gang, Rhoda finds shelter in the home of a Mrs. Tarranio and her cousin, Gus Esdale. Rhoda believes they are friends of her uncle. Garrick suspects the couple have designs on Rhoda's property and, therefore, will shield her. They discourage his visiting Rhoda and his messages to her are intercepted. A faked announcement of Garrick's wedding to another is shown to Rhoda.

INSTALLMENT XLV.

A MARRIAGE PROPOSITION.

At the end of a week Rhoda's mind stirred in the lethargy that had fallen upon her. From the moment when she had read the "news" of Lyle Garrick's marriage to another, she had not shed a single tear. She felt shock rather than actual grief. It was as if everything she had believed sane and honorable had turned itself upside down.

"Mrs. Tarranio—I'm being an awful nuisance to you."

"Don't say that, dear girl!" urged Mrs. Tarranio. "You aren't the smallest bit of a nuisance and I'd like it all the better if you were. But for your own sake I want you to try and take hold of things as soon as you can. The doctor told us it was simply a matter of your curing yourself."

Rhoda got up that day and had a short walk in the garden. Esdale kept out of her way. On the next day when Rhoda seemed at least to have recovered her physical strength Mrs. Tarranio came indirectly to her point.

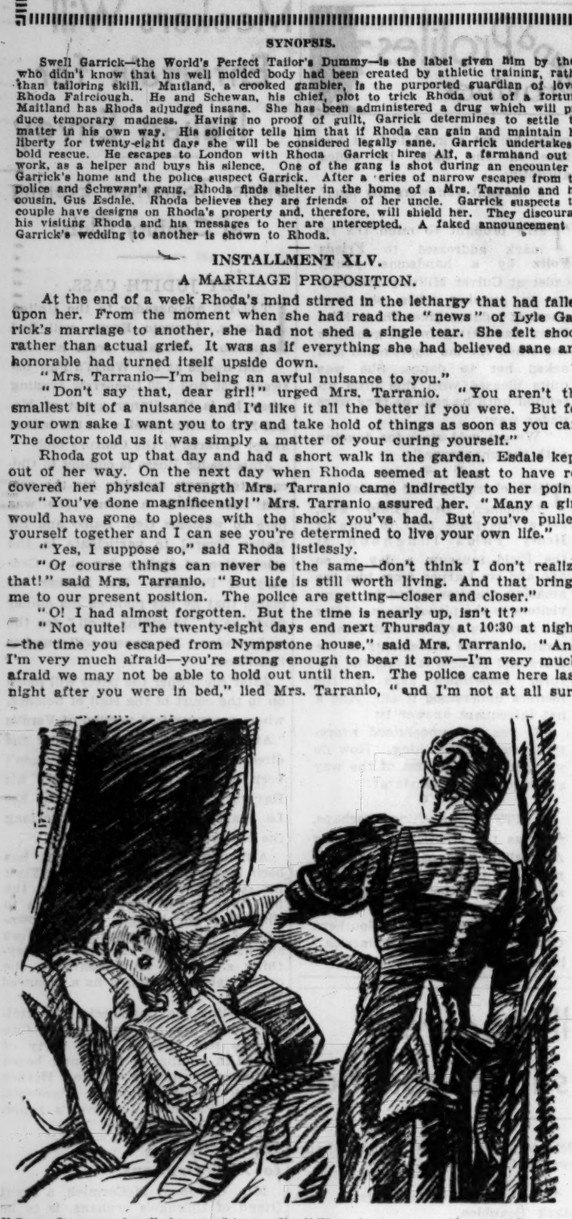
"You've done magnificently!" Mrs. Tarranio assured her. "Many a girl would have gone to pieces with the shock you've had. But you've pulled yourself together and I can see you're determined to live your own life."

"Yes, I suppose so," said Rhoda listlessly.

"Of course things can never be the same—don't think I don't realize that!" said Mrs. Tarranio. "But life is still worth living. And that brings me to our present position. The police are getting—closer and closer."

"O! I had almost forgotten. But the time is nearly up, isn't it?"

"Not quite! The twenty-eight days end next Thursday at 10:30 at night—the time you escaped from Nympstone house," said Mrs. Tarranio. "And I'm very much afraid—you're strong enough to bear it now—I'm very much afraid we may not be able to hold out until then. The police came here last night after you were in bed," lied Mrs. Tarranio, "and I'm not at all sure



"But of course I will do anything—" "Then it is easy. If you will marry Gus by special license—" "Marry him!" said Rhoda in horror.

whether they believed Gus and me when we swore you weren't here. It's just possible they may turn up with a search warrant, and then, of course—"

"But what can I do?" asked Rhoda helplessly. "This is dreadful. I'm not thinking only of myself. You'll get into trouble for helping me."

"O, you mustn't worry about that! Of course, I won't deny we've been worrying about you a good deal. And Gus has been to see a lawyer friend of his. And apparently there's a simple way out of it all—if it appeals to you."

"But, of course, I will do anything—"

"Then it's all easy. If you will marry Gus by special license—"

"Marry him!" said Rhoda. "I'm never going to marry anybody."

"Quite so!" said Mrs. Tarranio triumphantly. "I know you feel like that—or I wouldn't have mentioned it. Your romance went—tragically wrong. A girl like you doesn't love twice. Marriage, you say, will never be for you—which means, if you look at it another way, that it doesn't matter whom you marry."

"But to marry a man without loving him!"

"O, you needn't worry about Gus," Mrs. Tarranio hastened to assure her. "You needn't feel you're spoiling his life. He's not at all romantically inclined and, of course, it would be a platonic marriage. And if you felt you owed him something for saving your property—we'll be quite frank about these things, dear—you could set him up in a poultry farm. Gus has always fancied himself as a poultry farmer."

Rhoda shook her head while she struggled with her bewilderment. There was something unnerving in the practical way in which Mrs. Tarranio had put her proposition.

"Think it over, my dear!" urged Mrs. Tarranio. "Only think quickly. I'm very much afraid it's Gus or Nympstone house again for you. And I fancy once they got you back they'd see you never came out again."

Mrs. Tarranio left the room. Downstairs Voller was receiving a huge basket of flowers from a messenger boy at the door.

Buried in the flowers was a note in Garrick's handwriting, which she read and then tore up.

"It's her twenty-first birthday and she's forgotten it—no need to remind her!" said Mrs. Tarranio. "Take those flowers away and burn them!"

"Good morning, Mrs. Tarranio—why doesn't Rhoda write to me?"

Garrick had taken the risk of accosting Mrs. Tarranio when she was shopping in the High road.

"For the same reason that I don't write to you," she answered, rising instantly to the occasion. "Because it isn't safe."

"O, I say!" protested Garrick. "You don't think the police are examining the post box every time you post a letter!"

"I don't know whether they are or not." Mrs. Tarranio was effectively indifferent. "I don't know their methods and for that reason I don't propose to take any unnecessary risks."

"But—"

"Young man," she said with mock severity, "if I am to go on helping Rhoda—and incidentally yourself—I must be allowed to do it in my own way. I may be overcautious—I may be fussy, but there you are! I have asked her not to write to you—and she won't do it. It's only a few days longer—and you're not a sentimental schoolboy who must write a love letter every day."

With this Garrick had to pretend that he was content. He was even ready to believe it really was fussiness—as he could imagine no crooked reason for preventing Rhoda from writing to him.

Mrs. Tarranio, he knew well, hoped to get her hands in some way on Rhoda's property. He would rather that Rhoda were almost anywhere but in that house. Yet there was no safer place to which he could take her.

They would gain nothing by murdering Rhoda—and it was not reasonable to suppose that they would do her any physical harm. Their plan would almost certainly involve moving Rhoda eventually from that house.

Well, they would not be able to move her without his knowledge. Alf was "on patrol" in the morning—and for the rest of the twenty-four hours the house was watched by a private detective agency.

At the end of his working day Mr. Bonniwell got into his car to be driven to his home in the outer suburbs. At the first crossing in Theobald's road he was held in a block. Then the door of the car was opened from the outside, and he gaped in open mouthed astonishment at the apparition of Garrick himself.

"I hope you don't mind my tackling you like this, sir," smiled Garrick.

"I mind it very much! And I must ask you to be good enough to take yourself off!" exclaimed Mr. Bonniwell and then, cheerfully contradicting himself: "Get in at once or you'll be run over."

"It just occurred to me," said Garrick as he seated himself, "that you might have forgotten that Miss Fairclough is 21 today. Her property, you know—"

"I am not in the habit of forgetting essential dates in connection with business entrusted to me," snapped Mr. Bonniwell. "I have applied for an injunction and have obtained it. For the next fourteen days neither Miss Fairclough nor her guardian nor anybody else will be able to touch her property. At the end of that time the matter will come before the court. Miss Fairclough must then appear in person—legally sane—or the property will be handed over to her guardian on her behalf, unless we can prove that he is a scoundrel, which we cannot."

"Splendid!" said Garrick. "Today is Monday. On Thursday—at about 10:30, I suppose—she has completed the twenty-eight days. She is staying—at this address." He thrust a slip of paper at the solicitor. "Possibly you could call to see her—at the right time, of course—and tell her about the property and so on. And—I was wondering whether—unofficially, of course—you would see that she gets safely to my aunt on the next day."

Before the solicitor could voice a protest Garrick hurried on:

"After Friday I intend to—er—surrender. I suppose I shall be sent for trial."

"So do I—thanks to the way you've been carrying on—though personally I would be in favor of making a statement and defending in the lower court."

Film Director Says He's Too Small to Find

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 1.—[Special.]—Merwyn Leroy, the slight and deceptively juvenile looking director of five years of movie successes, grew reminiscent today between scenes of "The World Changes," which he is turning out at Warner-First National.

"I get things like the incident with Gov. John C. Winant of New Hampshire all the time," Leroy said. "It's so it embarrasses the other fellow a lot more than it does me—because I am used to it. But I really felt sorry for the governor. It was at the governors' special preview of 'Gold Diggers of 1933' (which Leroy incidentally directed) at Grauman's Chinese theater in Hollywood. The governors of eleven states were guests. A friend of mine said to Gov. Winant: 'I'd like to have you meet Merwyn Leroy, the man who directed the picture.'"

Gov. Winant, who is a big man, looked completely over Leroy's head. He looked to the right of Leroy and he looked to the left of him. But he never did notice the little fellow standing in front of him, reaching forward to shake his hand.

"Finally," says Merwyn, "the governor said, 'Why, yes, I would like to meet the man who directed the picture, but where is he?'"

It made Leroy laugh and the governor finally got over his embarrassment and got a laugh out of it, too.

Leroy's size has always been some bother to him. During one of the scenes of "The World Changes," on location last week, it was necessary to start a headlong rush of 500 cattle. As many as they could get were longhorn cattle, nervous, restive animals.

"I finally waved my hands and the gang got the rush started," said Leroy. "We had four cameras trained on it, one shooting from up above, one buried in the ground, and two more standing up. The rush of the steers started all right, but one of them failed to see me altogether—I guess I am just too small to be seen. This steer was lunging directly at me, and the next thing after that I was flat on the ground, with the cattle pounding past. I didn't know whether I had any bones broken or not.

"But I got up, found the steer had only knocked me down, no bones broken, although the camera had been tipped over, and that was that. The next time I start a cattle rush I will do it from a cowproof shelter."

Featured performers in the film include Paul Muni, Mary Astor, who had her hair built up on top of her head a la 1903 fashion, and wears a hot, white, lace panel dress, with a dusty, three yard train; Gordon Westcott, Donald Cook, and two lively boy actors—Jackie Searles and Richard Quine.

It was interesting to watch Searles wearing white Buster Brown collar with Windsor tie, black dressed up jacket of the kind luckless nine-year-olds had to wear in 1903, sitting at the family dinner table doing a bit of dialogue. Jackie had been sitting at that table, drinking spoonfuls of the long since cold soup, for hours, while getting the scene recorded satisfactorily under the obstacles of a newly recruited technical crew.

and Princess Rostislav, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Stuart Stone, and Mrs. Edward Hines, who is the chairman of the dinner dance series.

Black and white and brown and white summer linens will be spread out in tempting array today in the comfortable living room of Mrs. Joseph E. Otis' summer home, "Birchwood," at Harbor Point, Mich. The Vocational Society for Shut-Ins, of which Mrs. Otis is one of the most devoted members, is having its annual hot weather sale. Mrs. Dexter Fairbank has gone up to be the house guest of Mrs. Otis and manage the selling.

While Sheldon Dick and his bride, the former Margaret Lee Burgess, are visiting Mr. Dick's parents, the Albert Blake Dicks, in Lake Forest, they are being entertained very informally by the Dick family. Yesterday Mrs. Albert B. Dick invited a few of her Lake Forest friends to come in for a cup of tea and to meet young Mrs. Dick, and Saturday night Mrs. Albert Dick Jr. is giving a small, informal dinner party for them.

Mrs. Welling Will Attend Banff Conference.

A mission so serious as the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations is taking Mrs. John Paul Welling to the Pacific northwest the end of this week. The conference is to be held at the Banff Springs hotel in the Canadian Rockies, so it is certain it won't be all work and no play for Mrs. Welling.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hough and their son, Richard, are other Chicagoans who are now enjoying Banff. In another few days they will move on west to Lake Louise and then pack their ponies and follow the trails up the chalet at Emerald lake.

Quite as popular a rendezvous in the eastern part of the Canadian dominion is the Seigneury club at Lucerne-in-Quebec. The William A. P. Pullmans are leaving the first of next week with their two small sons for a holiday there. And just last Saturday Dale Dexter McCutcheon set off with his bride, the former Helen Speer, for several weeks of riding, golf, and swimming at the club. The McCutcheons will board an ocean liner and steam down to New York on their return trip.

Mrs. John Gary with Simpsons.

Embarking the other day on the Aquitania with the James Simpsons was Mrs. John W. Gary, who is to be a guest for a fortnight at their Guthrie castle in Scotland. Last year Mrs. Gary visited the Simpsons during the grouse shooting season, and when her very gracious host and hostess (the Simpson and Gary homes are next door on the bluff in Glencoe) repeated their invitation this year, it was too much to resist.

After her visit at Guthrie castle Mrs. Gary will continue her travels through the other British isles, returning in early September just in time to start the ball rolling for the annual St. Luke's fashion show. The show, sponsored by the woman's board of St. Luke's hospital, of which Mrs. Gary is the chairman, is to be held Oct. 19.

Others who will be Guthrie castle bound this week are Earl Kribben, Mr. Simpson's able young assistant, Larry" Callahan, and the Gordon Kelleys. They are all embarking tomorrow on the same boat with the Ernest Byfields, who are on a trip of several weeks.

James H. Breasted Jr. is arriving in New York today after a year of travel and study abroad. He will come on to Chicago in a couple of days, according to his older brother, Charles Breasted, and will be here for a very brief visit on his way out to join his parents in New Mexico. While here he will enjoy his family's apartment and meet the new Mrs. Charles Breasted, who was Martha Monro Ferguson.

Bards Acquire Beautiful Site.

The Ralph A. Bards of Highland Park are the proud owners of a lovely bit of property that once was part of the Insull estate in Mundelein. Several times they have had their friends out to see the land, which borders a natural lake, to help them decide what is to be done with it. Plans at the present are very vague, for besides a bit of fishing on the part of Mr. Bard, and picnics, there has been little activity on the property, but the Bards' daughter, Miss Janet Bard, hopes they can accommodate guests there over the week-end.

Miss Bard's older brother, Ralph Jr., who was graduated from Princeton last June, is on his way around the world on a trip that will last a year. Peter Charles Fortune, the John L. Fortunes' son, and two eastern boys, who were in the same class with Mr. Bard and Mr. Fortune, are with the Chicagoans on this much to be envied trip. Miss Katherine Bard, another daughter, is spending the summer in Colorado.

Residents of that pleasant little Fox river town, Geneva, are delighted that the Junior Charles H. ReQuas are to make it their permanent home. They have taken an attractive white house down by the river and they moved in yesterday. Since their marriage in 1930 [Mrs. ReQua was Kathryn Bermingham] the ReQuas have spent most of their time in the west.

Historical Society Exhibits Prints.

"My, how large they are!" was the remark made by visitors to the exhibition of Currier & Ives prints on view for the first time in the Historical society yesterday afternoon. As most collectors and "laymen" are more familiar with the smaller prints, the large ones hanging on the walls came as a surprise. These prints, which were chosen for their subject matter, quality of drawing, lithographing and rarity, by twelve judges, have been lent to the Historical society by Harry T. Peters of New York.

Howard Gillette dashed in early in the afternoon and stayed just long enough to pick out the one he liked best, which happened to be "New England Winter Scene." Others there sipping punch and munching cookies while roaming about among the pictures were Mrs. William H. Turney, Mrs. Paul Blatchford, John Blatchford, Joseph Adams, William McCormick Blair, Miss Margaret Quan, Miss Elsa Mayer, and Mrs. Charles Robinson. Mr. and Mrs. Stuyvesant Peabody came later. Mr. Peabody and Charles B. Pike, president of the society, are responsible for the appearance here of these prints. They will remain on exhibition for six weeks.

Lyolene Designs Skirt, Blouse for Youthful Hostess

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—There is some discussion as to who first launched the separate skirt and blouse for evening wear, but whoever it was has earned the gratitude of countless women, for it's probably the most practical fashion formula yet invented. Couturiers go right on doing different chic things with it. Lanvin, for one, has some new evening suits in black crêpe or satin to be worn with cloth of silver blouses, turbans, and gloves. And there's a jacketless outfit chez elle consisting of an instep length black satin skirt and a high necked pale pink satin blouse having two gathered frills round the armholes instead of sleeves that is as sweet as a rose.

Lyolene suggests the youthful skirt and blouse, sketched today, as a substitute for the floaty, drapy gown favored by the mature hostess. The young girl will find it smart whether she's entertaining her cronies at afternoon bridge, cocktail or informal dinner parties.

The instep length skirt, plaited all round in small box plaits that widen out toward the hem, is in dark green crêpe marocain. The short tunic blouse is in greenish gold lamé patterned with woven green flowers. Its full upper sleeves, mounted in unpressed plaits under the jutting shoulder caps and shirred up the inner side of the arm, are very tight from elbow to wrist. A full ruffle of golden beige organdie marks the diagonal front closing.

There's a narrow belt of the flowered lamé tied in a small bow at the back. The sandal pumps are of dark green crêpe like the skirt.

Oriental Fete Hears Music of Broadway

Four Soloists Appear in Pleasant Concert.

BY EDWARD MOORE.

A musical program taking the name of "Oriental Festival," was presented on the Floating theater, A Century of Progress, last night by a quartet of solo singers, Ruth Lyon, Lucille Long, Oscar Colcaire, and Edward Davies, and the chorus of the Civic Opera chorus school directed by Attico Bernabini.

A pleasant, gently beguiling concert it turned out to be, of an Orientalism bounded on the east by Paris and west by Broadway. In other words, the music consisted of selections from such operas as "Lakme," "Samson and Delilah," "Philemon and Baucis," and "Prince Igor," and such operettas as "The Rose of Algeria" and "Katinka," with songs of similar eastern implications, and Liza Lehman's song suite, "In a Persian Garden," for a final number. There was much agreeable singing in the course of the program, with especially meritorious performances by Mr. Bernabini's chorus.

Accompaniments to a certain extent skeletonized were furnished by the Century of Progress quintet.

About 160 members of the National Association of Organists were registered yesterday in the twenty-sixth annual convention of the organization.

Delegates and their friends attended recitals by Chicago organists in the afternoon and evening. The afternoon program was given in Kimball hall by representatives of the Van Dusen Organ club and the Chicago Club of Women Organists. Whitmer Byrne, Burton Lawrence, and Clara Gronau represented the first; Alice R. Deal and Mrs. Lily Moline Hallam the second. In the final number, Mrs. Hallam's own Rhapsody for organ, piano, and violin, she was assisted by Mrs. Gertrude Baily and Stella Roberts.

In the evening the association went to Oak Park, where Edwin Stanley Seder played a recital at the First Congregational church, assisted by Else Hartha Arendt, soprano.

Anne Roselle will sing the name part of "Aïda" in the concert performance of that opera at A Century of Progress tomorrow evening. The performance will be held in the court of the Hall of States, beginning at 8:15 o'clock, and will last about two hours and a quarter. A few changes have been made in the originally announced cast. Carl Formes instead of Mario Fiorella will sing the rôle of Amonasro, and Carl Hatvary instead of Mark Love as the king.

John Pane-Gasser remains as Radames, Ada Paggi as Amneris, Giuseppe Mantovani as Ramfis, and Gennaro Papi as conductor.

The Stage

Walter Hampden will visit Chicago next season, as well as every other city included in his recent tour, with "Ruy Blas," Victor Hugo's romantic drama, as his vehicle. Brian Hooker, the adaptor of "Cyrano de Bergerac," has prepared a new version of this famous play for Mr. Hampden's use. The actor-manager will appear in two rôles—Ruy Blas, a lackey who became the ruler of Spain, and Don Cesar de Bazan, a grandee who turned highwayman.

"Ruy Blas" was frequently acted by Edwin Booth. It has been in the repertory of the Comédie Française for one hundred years. Its last acting on the American stage was about twenty-five years ago under the title, "Don Cesar de Bazan," with James K. Hackett as star.

Mr. Hampden will launch his production in Montreal early in October. After a brief engagement in New York, he will take his company on a cross-country tour.

Peggy Hopkins Joyce is on view at the Palace theater this week as a foil for the jests of Milton Berle, current gagman of the vaudeville program. . . . Texas Guinan and her cabaret show holds the position of honor on the program of stage entertainment at the Chicago theater, with Harriet Hoctor, a brilliant ballet dancer, as another important contributor to the bill. . . . Beginning next Friday, Sally Rand will try to conceal herself behind her ostrich plume fans at the Chicago, and Willie and Eugene Howard, stars of many Broadway revues, will appear at the Palace.—C. Tied Shoulders, Inverted Plaits Make Tennis Frock Chic and Comfortable

WOMAN'S AND MISSES' DRESS.

The tied shoulders are an important feature of this tennis frock. They are comfortable and smart and give a snugness to the bodice. Inverted plaits lend animation to the skirt. Candy striped piqué or tub silk, with cotton mesh or linen and many other materials, are modish.

The pattern, No. 2748, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years, and 36 and 38 inches bust measure.

Child Should Have Books on Common Things

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

"Have you any books about automobiles, airplanes, and such things for young children? My little boy and girl are so much interested in these things, and enjoy the pictures of them in advertisements and roto sections. But I would like to get some books about them written for small children and I can't seem to find any."

Small children love to see pictures of and hear stories about the things and animals and places that they know. They love the familiar.

The two or three new picture books for the almost babies are built on that assumption. They contain photographs of actual things that come into the baby's existence—spoons and mugs and clocks and pitchers and shoes and bread and butter. They are first books.

A group of little books that have been built around the daily life of little children in a well known nursery school meets the needs of the writer of the letter quoted at the beginning of this article. These books are for children up to seven, and concern themselves with trains and automobiles, streets and boats. They are made up in a novel way, the text being separate from the pictures. The former is an inexpensive paper covered book—the latter a set of photographs in an envelope.

These little books are rather fully described in our leaflet on children's books with prices and publishers given. The new leaflet contains the names of several types of books, however, as children's diet needs to be varied. So you will find in the new leaflets the names of some of the little children's old book friends of which they never tire and a number of new and lovely ones besides.

This leaflet, called "Books Old and New for Children under Seven" will be sent on receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope.

If you are making plans for your next year's parents' study group, you may be interested in the new leaflet containing suggestions for discussion, which is now ready. It will be sent on receipt of a stamped self-addressed envelope.

MINUTE MYSTERY
By H. A. RIPLEY

[Copyright: 1933: By The Chicago Tribune.]

AN ACCIDENTAL DISCOVERY.

Fordney stepped quietly onto the cottage porch, pushed open the front door and entered the darkened room. A startled exclamation broke the silence, a flashlight dropped and rolled along the floor as the electric lights were turned on. The professor faced Dan Fulton and his son Bob.

"So it was you who followed me up the path from the boathouse!" the elder Fulton exclaimed. "If I hadn't had to use my flashlight," pointing to the floor, "to find my way in the darkness you'd never been able to trail me. "Bob," turning to his son, "will you please leave us alone?" The young man reluctantly obeyed.

"I guess it's no use, professor." Fordney noticed the torn shirt and the blood on the palms of the man's hands as he resignedly gestured while continuing to speak. "I stabbed Jack Robbins after waiting years for my revenge and I'm willing to pay the penalty."

"I discovered his body in the boathouse quite by accident," Fordney said, "Then when I saw some one, a few minutes later, moving near the scene of the crime, I naturally followed," he continued, picking up the flashlight from the floor and noticing, after a moment's examination, that the only marks on the shining surface were fingerprints too blurred to be of any practical use.

The professor's quick eye caught sight of Bob through the partially opened door of an adjoining room in the act of hastily packing a suitcase. After gazing at the untied strings of Fulton's shoes he demanded, "Why are you lying about your part in this matter?"

HOW DID FORDNEY KNOW THE ELDER FULTON WAS LYING?

Perhaps you have a story or problem you would like to submit to Prof. Fordney. If so, send it to him care of this paper. He will be delighted to receive it.

Salads—and more salads! We never seem to stop consuming them these days when the mercury is up. And such being the fact, we're all looking for newer and newer combinations.

One of my favorite dinner salads combines peaches and Waldorf salad.

PEACH WALDORF SALAD.
3 fresh peaches
1 cup diced apples
1-3 cup chopped celery
Mayonnaise

Toss celery and apples with enough mayonnaise to moisten. Peel and halve the peaches. Place the peach halves, hollow side up, in lettuce cups. Drop a heaping tablespoonful of the Waldorf salad in the cavity of each peach, so that it will fall daintily over one side. Garnish with a mint leaf.

Watercress used with fruit is not so common, but it makes a delightful salad.

MOLDED PINEAPPLE AND WATERCRESS SALAD.
1 cup water
1 package lemon flavored gelatin
1 cup canned pineapple juice
½ cup chopped watercress
½ cup canned shredded pineapple
1-3 cup chopped almonds

Dissolve the gelatin in the water, which has been heated according to the directions on the package. Add the pineapple juice and chill until slightly thickened. Fold in the chopped watercress, pineapple, and almonds, pour into individual molds, and chill until firm. Unmold on lettuce leaves and garnish each with a tablespoon of mayonnaise.

Vegetables no longer hold a monopoly on the Julienne style.

JULIENNE FRUIT SALAD.
2 grapefruit
1 red skinned apple
2 fresh peaches
2 fresh plums
1 banana
2 oranges
6 raspberries

Peel and section the oranges and grapefruit, peel the banana and peaches, core the apple, and stone the plums. Cut the banana, peaches, apples, and plums into narrow strips about 1½ inches long. Combine the fruits lightly and pile into 6 lettuce cups, garnishing each with a raspberry. Pass French dressing with this salad.

TOMATO AND PINEAPPLE SALAD.
6 slices pineapple
6 large slices of tomato
3 ounces cream cheese
6 green olives
1 cup French dressing

Select tomatoes as nearly the size of the pineapple slices as possible. Spread each of the pineapple slices with a layer of cream cheese and fit over it a slice of tomato. Garnish each salad with 3 or 4 round pieces of the olive. Place each on lettuce and pour French dressing over them.

Lime gelatin and grapefruit sections are the ingredients in a cooling summer salad. Prepare lime gelatin, using ½ a package of the gelatin powder and 1 cup of water. Pour the liquid into a pan to a thickness of ½ inch and chill it until firm. Peel and section 4 grapefruit, leaving none of the membrane on the section. Pile the grapefruit sections lightly in lettuce cups. Cut the firm gelatin in ½ inch squares and sprinkle a number of these over the grapefruit. Place a tablespoonful of mayonnaise on the side of each salad. [Sectioned oranges may be substituted for the grapefruit in this salad.]

Boys Favor "Gimme" Ways, Girls Report

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Let a young man complain about the girl who will not give him a home-treat once in a while, as did one in this department recently—and the girls rise up and call him everything under the sun.

As says Marta: "It seems to me the majority of fellows like the girls who have the ability to make them spend until it hurts. Personally, I lack the talent. I'm not especially beautiful so I can't expect too much. In fact, I ask for little, which is exactly what I get. I know girls no more attractive in looks or dress than I who get everything and every place they want to go. I think it is because they come right out and say what they want and expect.

"Last fall I met an old acquaintance. He started taking me out occasionally. All winter while work was slack and his money low we went to the movies about once a week and Sunday night we would stay home and listen to the radio or play cards after supper.

"Along comes spring. Work picks up. He has more money to spend, gets his car out of the garage—and forgets that I have a telephone number. Why—I don't know. Ten chances to one he is taking out the Dizzy Blonde he told me about—and then they try to tell you, Miss Blake, they are put upon."

No wonder the girls are confused! The boys complain about girls' selfishness and show no appreciation for the unselfish ones.

Northwestern U. and U. of C. Heads Take Up Co-operation Plans

The University of Chicago and Northwestern university are considering coöperation in the matter of interchanging various educational facilities and preventing overlapping efforts in their future activities, it was announced yesterday by President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago and President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern.

"Chicago is the only city in America that can boast of two universities honored with membership in the Association of American universities," said President Scott. "Two universities in our position, working for the advancement of the same locality, should coöperate with each other."

"President Scott and I agree that coördination of effort among American institutions of higher education will be of value in obtaining the most effective use of resources," said President Hutchins. "If some measure of informal coöperation will benefit the educational services of Northwestern and Chicago, neither President Scott nor I can see any reason why that coöperation should not be attempted."

Frozen Desserts

Tired of making pies and puddings? Of heating up the whole house for one hot little dessert? Then let your refrigerator—or your hand freezer—take over the job and keep you cool while it "cooks." To help you, Mary Meade, Tribune Cooking Editor, has written a new booklet, "Home Frozen Delicacies," into which she has gathered recipes for fifty delicious frozen desserts—half of them prepared for refrigerator freezing and the other half for the ice-salt method. In addition there are six flattering ice cream sauces for conjuring up sundaes at home. To obtain "Home Frozen Delicacies" send 13 cents in stamps or money order to Mary Meade, Tribune Tower, Chicago. The new booklet is also on sale at the Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn.

AMERICA'S BIGGEST-SELLING PACKAGE SOAP

Two Million for Clark Gable!

When a magazine starts the publication of an especially thrilling story, it reprints the first chapters in folder form so that people who missed the start of the story can pick up one of these folders at their news stand, read the first chapters and then go on with the story in the next issue.

This is a regular well-known magazine method of increasing circulation. Each of its many thousands of magazine dealers gets the "feel" of the story and estimates its "pulling power" from his sale of the magazine and then sends in his estimate of the number of "reprints" he will need.

Sometimes the total demand for these "reprints" runs into tens of thousands, occasionally even into hundreds of thousands.

But the "reprint" of the Clark Gable story, as of the date when this article was released, has reached the stupendous demand of TWO MILLION COPIES. By far the greatest "reprint" demand this magazine has ever known.

So the True Story of this shy and awkward farmer boy who came up from the plow, who dreamed his dreams in a logging camp, who worked as an ad taker on a newspaper and as a clerk in the telephone company finally to evolve as one of the greatest actors and the world's greatest lover on the screen, has knocked all records for "reprints" higher than a kite.

And rightly so. For this True Story of the life of Clark Gable, with all of its romantic temptations, with his struggle for constancy in the brilliancy of almost every kind of exotic setting is undoubtedly the greatest True Story that True Story Magazine has ever published. To the millions of younger men and women who are still dreaming their dreams while they go about the daily round of their ordinary work, this great True Story lends the star of hope without which those dreams cannot go on. And to the many thousands of older men and women who are enjoying the first fine fruits of attainment, it lends courage to character; for, in the amazing life of this eager young country boy who found himself suddenly without warning caught in the mesh of all the feminine wiles that Hollywood could produce, there has been the lure of enough temptations to shake the character of a saint.

The next issue of TRUE STORY MAGAZINE, which continues with the Amazing True Story of Clark Gable's Romantic Temptations, is out TODAY. And the TWO MILLION "reprints" of the first chapters which this tremendous story has called for are on practically every stand in America where magazines are sold, free, of course, for the asking, as such "reprints" always are.

FUSIONIST RANKS AGAIN SPLIT ON NEW YORK MAYOR

O'Ryan and La Guardia May Step Aside for Colby.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—In the belief that neither Gen. John F. O'Ryan nor former Representative F. H. La Guardia can be elected, members of the Republican mayoralty committee sought today for a compromise candidate for the fusion nomination for mayor. They hope to find a man acceptable both to Samuel Seabury and to former Gov. Charles S. Whitman and his associates in the fusion conference.

Bainbridge Colby, independent Democrat and secretary of state in the Wilson administration, is under consideration.

Seek Agreement Tomorrow.

Hope of agreement on a fusion mayoralty candidate now rests entirely on the result of the meeting of the Republican mayoralty committee, of which Mr. Whitman is chairman, to be held Thursday afternoon at the National Republican club.

Gen. O'Ryan announced that he would accept the fusion nomination if the Republican mayoralty committee, which consists of about 300 members, approved his candidacy.

La Guardia Favors Colby.

Just before Gen. O'Ryan issued his statement Mr. La Guardia announced that he would run independently and also would be a candidate for the mayoralty nomination in the Republican primary. Mr. La Guardia added that he would withdraw in favor of Mr. Colby, who is understood to be acceptable to Mr. Seabury, but who is not certain of Republican sppport.

The executive committee of the Republican mayoralty committee met for more than three hours at the Bankers' club and failed to indorse the candidacy of Gen. O'Ryan. Mr. Whitman, who presided, sought indirectly to obtain such an indorsement, but did not press for a vote.

Woman About to Collect Alimony Due 17 Years

High Point, N. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Seventeen years is a long time, but Mrs. Nancy Reynolds of High Point probably will collect her alimony after all. In 1916 Mrs. Reynolds obtained an order from a court ordering her husband to pay her $25 a month alimony. Then her husband, J. L. Reynolds, a contractor, disappeared. Now attorneys have found Reynolds in San Diego, Cal., and they figured up the alimony with interest. It amounts to $6,416, and the case has been docketed in the California court.

EUROPEANS ADMIRE ROOSEVELT AND NEW DEAL, LYTTON FINDS

Henry C. Lytton, at 87 years of age still the guiding light of The Hub, State street store, returned yesterday from three months in Europe, bringing a report of the continent's attitude toward America's new deal.

"Europe admires President Roosevelt tremendously for his display of energy and action," said the veteran merchant. "He didn't wait; he went right to work and the Europeans feel that if he and Gen. Johnson make their NRA a success, their's will be one of the outstanding efforts in economic history. It will affect the progress of the world."

Mr. Lytton spent most of his time on the French Riviera where he went to sell his summer home near Monte Carlo. That accomplished, he returned home leisurely.

Returning to his desk, Mr. Lytton found his own business "on a sounder basis today than it has ever been."

NEW YORK HEAT KILLS 8 MORE; SLEEP IN PARK

Thermometer Bursts in New Jersey.

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—The heat wave that, since Saturday, has held most of the east in its grip, continued unabated today, while the west and south were enjoying more temperate weather than is usual at this time of year.

In New York and the vicinity, the heat caused eight deaths and 21 prostrations, swelling the total deaths for the four days to nineteen.

There have been only 2 hotter days this summer. The maximum temperature, 95, recorded at 3 p. m., has been exceeded here only twice this year, on Monday, when the mercury touched 100, setting an all time July record, and on June 9, when it touched 96.

Hope for Showers.

However, the August all time record of 102, made on Aug. 7, 1918, is not likely to be eclipsed during the present heat wave—at least, so the weather man says. He predicted that thundershowers tomorrow would bring relief and somewhat cooler weather.

Today's official high mark of 95 was based on temperatures taken in the weather bureau observatory atop the Whitehall building. Elsewhere, even higher recordings were taken. At 2 p. m., the black bulb thermometer in the Central Park observatory which registers the full effects of the sun's rays, and which on Monday reached 141, was up to 134; and at 3 p. m., the thermometer on the Times building in Times square read 97.

In Plainfield, N. J., S. K. Pearson, the local weather observer, reported a maximum reading of 100, one degree higher than on Monday, and the highest reading there since July 21, 1930, when the mercury climbed to 102.

But Thermometer Bursts.

The townsfolk of Newtown, N. J., who have been accustomed to consult the thermometer in front of the Sussex and Merchant's bank on Spring street, were without the services of that instrument today for on Monday, the mercury climbed to 120 degrees and the bulb burst.

The heat in New York City was so intense that Deputy Park Commissioner John J. Hart ordered the lawns of Central Park thrown open to the public, and the "keep off the grass" signs taken down. At the same time, he told the park police that any one who wanted to sleep there might do so.

The deputy commissioner's order was hailed as a blessing by thousands of families in the tenement areas. Many of these families, unable longer to endure the high temperatures of their apartments, had spent Monday night on fire escapes, seeking a breath of air. Tonight, many of them took blankets or other bedding to the park and camped there.

FALL FATAL TO WOMAN, 68.

Mrs. Caroline Johnson, 68 years old, died yesterday in the German Deaconess hospital of complications following a broken leg, sustained July 25 in a fall in her home at 6467 South Honore street.

GOLDEN GLOVES TEAM FIGHTS IRISH TONIGHT

CUBS BREAK LOSING STREAK; DEFEAT REDS, 3 TO 1

BUNCH HITS IN THIRD TO WIN BEHIND MALONE

Revived by Sight of Home Lot.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The only tonic the stuttering Cubs needed was a sight of their own back yard. They got it yesterday and immediately proceeded to right themselves with their constituents by dusting off the Cincinnati Reds, who, while tailenders, are formidable at times. The Reds surrendered rather stubbornly to a 3 to 1 count, thus letting the jittery north siders accomplish their first successful venture since losing six in a row while prowling around Pittsburgh and St. Louis last week.

Aside from breaking the losing streak and letting the Cubs recover the vague idea that they may yet win a pennant, the game served other purposes. For one thing, it helped the north siders improve their record against the Reds, who now have been beaten six times in 15 starts. For another, it promoted the Cubs to third place, a mere five and one-half laps behind the leading Giants.

Malone Checks Reds.

Much of the honor of keeping the Red jinx from making its appearance was taken by bulky Pat Malone, who pitched as if determined to get his season's record into such shape that he will not be ashamed to show it to his grandchildren in years to come. It was his seventh victory against nine defeats. To do this he kept the Reds hogtied in all except two of the nine innings. One of these two offcolored innings was the fourth, when the enemy scored, and the other the ninth, when a rank blunder by Bill Jurges might have precipitated real trouble if Pat had been in the mood to blow up. He didn't let the error bother him.

The Cubs themselves didn't earn any medals for their hitting, but they at least concentrated in one heavy drive. They didn't even come up with a single in the first two innings, but in the third suddenly opened on Ben Frey and had him out of there in a hurry. Frey's heart probably broke when Malone made one of the hits. Larry Benton stepped in to stop the rumpus and did so, but not until after a solid hit off him had rounded out a three run rally. In the remaining five innings the Cubs collected a grand total of one single, but because of Malone's excellent labors no more were needed.

Grimm Gets Bargain Double.

Grimm's double that started the Cubs on the trail of three runs in the third wasn't the kind of a hit anybody would brag about. It was just a fly behind short. Three gentlemen who assembled under it neglected to make the catch. Jurges was thrown out, but Malone made his Century of Progress hit by lining a single to left. Grimm scored on it.

Koenig was handled on a fly to center, but the anti-Frey movement immediately broke out in a big way. Billy Herman singled to left. Cuyler did the same thing, the latter being a lengthy tap that Moore's speed afield restricted to a single. It scored Malone and shoved Herman to third. Frey was excused from active service and as soon as Benton pitched one to Babe Herman there was action. Babe whacked a double to right, scoring Bill Herman and putting Cuyler on third. Demaree ended the inning with a roller to short.

Double Play Aids Malone.

The shock occasioned by making a base hit or the extra exertion involved evidently sapped some of the portly Malone's strength. He was slightly annoyed by the Reds in the fourth, but was fortunate enough to be given the benefits of a double play. That happening kept the Reds from getting more than a lone run on three hits. Morrissey opened with a double into the left field corner. Hafey handcuffed Koenig with a hard drive good for a single, Morrissey halting at third. Then the twin killing was perpetrated. Moore bounced to W. Herman and was thrown out. Grimm relayed the ball to Jurges, who tagged

A crowd of 50,000 is expected to attend tonight's show, the greatest outdoor boxing presentation of the year. The Irish boxers are in the top row.

Time—First preliminary at 8:30 p. m.; first international bout at 9:30 p. m.

Tickets—Fifty thousand reserved seats; there are excellent seats remaining at $3.30, $2.50, $2, $1.10, and 55 cents. Sale starts at Soldiers' field at 10 a. m.; on sale until 6 p. m. at Tribune Tower lobby and Tribune Public Service office, 1 South Dearborn street.

Weather forecast—Partly cloudy and cool. If a postponement is necessary the bouts will be held tomorrow night.

BY ARCH WARD.

A bugle's strains will be heard over Soldiers' field tonight at 9:30 o'oclock and the murmuring of thousands of voices will die into expectant hush. The gleams from three huge army searchlights will come to rest upon the flags of the Irish Free State and the United States of America.

The searchlights will vanish and a roped arena, decorated in green, and in red, white and blue, will spring into relief beneath a new flood of lights in the center of the field. A cheer will go up from 50,000 spectators. The third annual international Golden Gloves contest will have begun.

Look for Record Attendance.

Tonight's bouts, which bring together the eight amateur champions of Ireland and the strongest team that could be recruited from the Chicago Golden Gloves tournament, are expected to establish a new attendance record for amateur boxing. The present figure of 45,000 was set a year ago when the Chicago boys fought the champions of Germany to a 4 to 4 tie in the same arena. In 1931 nearly 40,000 saw a combined Chicago-New York team defeat the French titleholders, 5 bouts to 3.

The eight young men who will represent Chicago are the pick of 5,000 who entered the 1933 tournament. They have been in training for tonight's bouts for two weeks at Grand Beach, Mich. The Irish boxers won the right to represent their country by fighting their way through county, sectional and national meets. They whipped the champions of Italy, one of the strongest teams in Europe, 6 bouts to 2, in their final test before leaving Dublin.

Action Every Second!

Every bout will bristle with action because there is no time for stalling. The boys have only three rounds to do their work. There must be a decision at the end of that time. There is no chance to stand back and study the other fellow for two or three rounds as they frequently do in professional ranks. The fight must be won immediately or not at all. That is why amateur boxing, when it reaches the caliber of international Golden Gloves, is thrilling sport.

There will be seven preliminary bouts. One involves two 35 pound midgets from A Century of Progress Exposition. The others will bring together outstanding Chicago amateurs who failed to qualify for the international contests.

First Preliminary at 8:30.

The first preliminary battlers will enter the ring at 8:30 o'clock. Fans are urged to arrive early if they wish to avoid congestion. There will be music by two bands to entertain early customers. One will play for an hour starting at 6:30, after which Culver Summer Naval school musicians, under the direction of Major O'Callaghan, will entertain for an hour.

The Culver band will play selections from Victor Herbert's Irish Opera "Eileen" and authentic Irish folk songs. Paul Barada, vocal instructor at Culver, will sing popular Irish airs.

Tickets will be on sale all day today in Room 530 Tribune Tower and at The Tribune Public Service Office, 1 South Dearborn street. Three ticket booths at Soldiers' field will be opened at 10 o'clock this morning. All others will be in use starting at 6 o'clock this evening.

Reserved Seats Available.

The prices of seats are $3.30, $2.50, $2, $1.10, and 55 cents. There are several thousand tickets still available in the reserved sections. If the demand is sufficient at least 20,000 can be cared for in unreserved areas. The reserved sections accommodate 50,000.

The show will cost about $45,000 to present. The profits will be donated to Chicago's Hungry School Children's Fund. The rewards for which the boxers will fight are in dramatic contrast to the huge sums collected by Gene Tunney and Jack Dempsey for an evening's work at the same field in the boom times of 1927. Each winner will receive a belt set with a diamond and with the colors of the two nations, Ireland and the United States, arranged in a design surrounding the central figures. The losers receive similar belts, lacking the diamond.

No member of either team has caught so much as a glimpse of his

HUBBELL BREAKS LEAGUE RECORD; BRAVES WIN, 3-1

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Boston Braves put an end to Carl Hubbell's streak of consecutive scoreless innings today after the New York southpaw had carried it to a new National league record length, and defeated the league leaders, 3 to 1.

Hubbell hurled 5 2-3 scoreless innings to stretch his string to 46. Then, with runners on second and third, Randy Moore smacked a single that broke the streak and won the ball game for Boston. Frank Hogan added the third Braves' run with a homer off Luque in the seventh.

The old National league mark was 44 innings, established by Ed Reulbach of the Chicago Cubs in 1908. Walter Johnson still holds the major league record of 56 consecutive scoreless innings.

Huck Betts opposed Hubbell on the hill and withstood the heat better than the Giant pitcher. He went the full route, yielding only seven hits. The Giants' run came from three walks in the sixth after Boston had made its two tallies.

Shower Scares Tigers, So Sox Play 2 Games Today

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 1.—There was a ten minute shower here around 2 o'clock this afternoon and before the sun could resume a double header had been booked for the White Sox and Detroit Tigers tomorrow.

The rain did not prevent Fonseca's fellows from partaking of a brisk—brisk really is the word—a brisk workout before returning to quarters, however. This was in preparation for a drive they are scheming out which will have them in third place by mid-August.

In the games tomorrow Sam Jones and Milt Gaston, both gentlemen of experience and most determined when a great problem confronts them, will do the pitching in an afternoon designed to increase the current Sox winning streak to four straight. Boss Lew is looking to the prospect of facing Firpo Marberry and Sorrell, or maybe Red Herring.

They Could Pass Tigers.

The winning of two tomorrow would be a dandy way to start the second half of the season's schedule between the two teams, for it would make up for the fact that the Tigers won seven of the eleven played in the first half of the schedule. The taking of the double header tomorrow also would enable the Sox to pass the Tigers in the American league standings.

August being the season when the Sox begin to worry about what they are going to do with Will Sullivan, it is probably of interest to Notre Dame alumni to learn that Manager Fonseca and Barrister Bill went into a huddle this morning. And what do you think was decided?

He's Going to Catch.

You're right, the young man is going to become a catcher after all, this despite those winter announcements. He probably will do some relief catching here and may start a game or two in the impending series at St. Louis.

Fonseca's willingness to give Sullivan a chance to reconsider his refusal to catch is to the credit of the Sox skipper and a reflection of the extreme patience and kindness of the man, some say.

Where to Buy Golden Glove Tickets

After 6 p. m. tickets may be purchased only at Soldiers' field. There will be 30 booths to accommodate late applicants. Thousands of choice seats are still available. The prices are 55 cents, $1.10, $2, $2.50 and $3.30.

MARTIN REACHES THIRD ROUND OF C. D. G. A. TOURNEY

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Dick Martin, the promising young barrister from Highland Park, pleaded two cases yesterday in defense of his Chicago District amateur championship in the twentieth annual tournament at the Glen Oak Country club, and won both of them, thereby advancing himself to the higher court of this morning's quarter-final round.

The bespectacled blond who once captained the University of Illinois team and won the Western Conference championship, will be forced to do some tall arguing if he expects to retain the title he won at Medinah last year. In this morning's 18 hole quarter-final, for instance, his opponent will be Don Armstrong of Aurora, the new Illinois state champion, who won both of his first round matches yesterday.

George Dawson Advances.

The other quarter-finalists today include George Dawson of Glen Oak, who ran off with the qualifying medal with such ease Monday; Hunter Brown of Green Valley; Jimmy Garard of Skokie, former University of Chicago captain; John Van Nortwick of Chicago Golf; Frank Renwick of Aurora, and Al Andereggen of Cherry Hill.

The quarter-final pairings this morning bring together Martin and Armstrong, Brown and Renwick, Dawson and Garard, and Van Nortwick and Andereggen.

The victors will meet in 18 hole semi-final matches this afternoon, with the two winners battling tomorrow over 36 holes.

Martin Protects Lead.

Martin won his first round match from Art Sweet of Ridgemoor, 2 and 1, lending suspicion to the theory that Dick is Art's jinx opponent, for the Briergate star defeated Sweet in their last two meetings in last year's state and district tournaments. Arthur gave

Golden Glovers Confident of Whipping Irish Tonight

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Grand Beach, Mich., Aug. 1.—Chicago's Golden Gloves team marked time here today for the international fights tomorrow night at Soldiers' field with the amateur boxing champions of Ireland.

In the afternoon the eight boys who will represent Chicago in the third international series of bouts sponsored by THE TRIBUNE unlimbered in the gymnasium. The remainder of the day and the early evening were spent in loafing about the hotel. All was quiet, a calm before tomorrow night's flurry of fighting, and it was more expressive of the confidence of the Golden Glovers than mere words could have been.

No Weight Worries.

The team is in condition. The boys are at weight, thus making certain that none will be barred when the team weighs in tomorrow afternoon at the Midwest Athletic club. So much for the two weeks' preparation here. It now follows that these boys will win or lose on their skill as boxers or the power of their punches.

The Golden Gloves squad and the coaches unanimously believe that the Irish will be beaten. Perhaps the score will be 5 bouts to 3, as was the case in the first international matches with France. The count may be larger, but Chicago will finish on top, they assert.

This team is composed largely of veterans. It has not met defeat and this accounts for the confidence. Chicago whipped New York in the intercity fights last March. Six of the eight boys who will meet the Irish are intercity winners and all have had experience boxing before thousands of persons.

See Caserio as Winner.

Another reason for confidence is the fact that Freddie Caserio is on the team. He was captain of the 1931 Golden Gloves team which whipped New York and France and shares the captaincy this year with Max Marek, the light heavyweight champion in 1932 and 1933. Caserio was the 1932 national A. A. U. middleweight champion.

Marek holds a national A. A. U. championship. So does Bill Celebron, Rockford's welterweight, who took over this place on the Chicago team by defeating Henry Rothier during the training drills. Lennie Cohen, Bud Ginter, Eddie Ward, and John Pacek also have had long experience.

The individual urge to win is backed by a team spirit and a pride in representing Chicago in the greatest of all amateur boxing competition. The boys have an excellent idea of the ability of each of the Irishmen and they have trained accordingly.

Leave in Morning.

The team will leave for Chicago tomorrow morning. A police escort will

REFEREES AND JUDGES REVIEW AMATEUR RULES

Capt. O'Brien Meets Officials for Irish Bouts.

Capt. Liam O'Brien, representative of the Irish Boxing association, met the judges and referees who will decide International Golden Golves bouts tonight at Soldiers' field, at a luncheon yesterday at the Illinois Athletic club. Avery Brundage, president of the National A. A. U.; Joseph Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission; Capt. Roy E. Davis, chairman of the Central A. A. U. boxing committee, and officials of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE also were present.

Capt. Davis explained the international boxing rules, which differ in few details from the ordinary practice in the United States. Eight ounce gloves will be used in all bouts. Gauze bandages, two yards long and two inches wide, may be used to wrap the hands. Adhesive tape is barred.

Score on 5 Point Basis.

If a boxer is knocked out of the ring he will have 20 seconds to regain his feet in the ring. Otherwise ten seconds will determine a knockout. Avery Brundage will check the results of the judges and referees before the decision is announced to the crowd. One second will be permitted inside the ropes during the minute rest and another may stand just outside of the ropes.

The scoring will be on the five point basis for each round. If the round is even each boxer will receive five points. A 5-4 score, 5-3 score, and so on, will determine the advantage in that round. The total points for each at the end of three rounds will decide the match.

Name Judges, Referees.

Arch Ward, sports editor of THE TRIBUNE, while not asking special favors for the Irish team, urged the officials that whenever a decision was even in the minds of the officials that it be given to the Irish boxer. "The Irish are our guests," he said, "and we want them to return home with only the kindest thoughts for Chicago and their treatment here."

The list of referees, judges, and timers who will officiate tonight follow:

JUDGES.

AMATEUR GROUP GETS CONTROL IN HORSESHOE SPORT

Control of the National Horseshoe Pitchers Association of America passed from the hands of the professional faction into those of a group of men who will attempt to elevate the sport in the standing of the A. A. U. yesterday.

At yesterday's final session of the annual convention of the association a committee of five was appointed to develop the amateur side of the sport.

Announcement of the action was made by the newly elected secretary of the association, R. B. Howard of London, O., who is editor of the Horseshoe World, and a leader of the amateurs. Headquarters for the association was placed at London, O., with Mr. Howard in charge of the committee's activities. Other members of the committee are B. G. Leighton, formerly president of the association, Virginia, Minn.; Alexander Cumming, newly elected president, and Victor Larsen, New York.

Here's How Bouts Will Be Judged in Irish Fights

How will the judges and referees score the international fights tonight at Soldiers' field between Chicago's Golden Gloves team and the champions of Ireland?

The rule of the Amateur Athletic association governing the basis of scoring points for each round follows:

The points shall be: For attack, direct, clean hits with the knuckle part of the glove closed of either hand on any part of the front or sides of the head or body above the belt. For defense: Guarding, ducking, counter-hitting, or getting away. Where points are otherwise equal, consideration to be given the man who does the most leading off.

The referees will instruct the boxers in the ring. This instruction will be broadcast over the loud speaker system by Dave Miller at the start of the international flyweight contest.

Irish Champs Are Ready to Keep Promise

BY JERRY CURRAN.

From far afield eight young fighters have come to crown this Aug. 2 with victory for their country, ancient in its battling tradition. Champions, each in his own class, Ireland's amateur boxing representatives tonight will prove their caliber against the strongest team of amateur boxers Chicago ever has assembled, the strongest team, perhaps, in the entire amateur boxing world.

When, at the beginning of the 1933 season, the eight boys who will carry the green and gold tonight began the series of elimination bouts in the provinces back home, forerunners to the all-Ireland championship tournament, they had no idea success in these bouts would carry with it the opportunity of visiting Chicago to battle the Golden Gloves champions of 1933.

Best in Country.

They trained for the county contests and fought their way through to the provincial bouts. The going got tougher, and pushovers were less frequent. The second raters were weeded out, and every fight was a fight. Then came the inter-provincial finals.

The finals were fought in Dublin, Irish Free State capital. Out of the Dublin bouts emerged six of the eight champions who battle tonight. Two, Paddy Hennelly and Paddy Mulligan, runnersup, acceded to championship rating when Jack O'Driscoll, heavyweight, abandoned his comeback effort for matrimony, and Jim Magill was forced to retire on account of an injury.

The men who enter the ring tonight fought the cream of the Italian amateur boxers on June 2. Six of the Italian champions were defeated. One danced his way through six rounds with Paddy Connolly, whose failure to drop his man with the tactics he then used has caused him to concentrate on footwork for tonight's fights.

Tonight's the Night.

Tonight these eight Irish boys will be put to the test. They have forced their way through everything they have opposed. They have won through to Chicago by sheer force of fistic ability. Tonight will reveal whether the Irish race has a right to the fighting reputation it has borne so long. Eight Irish boys, four thousand miles from home, are carrying the burden of vindication of a national pride.

They step into the ring not as novices but as proven champions, ranged against a team whose record is equally as formidable. This is no contest of second raters. On each side is ranged the whole force that lays at hand.

While the handicap of heat, and food, and environment may be expected to react against the chances of the Irish boxers, they have resources of fitness and rugged health that promise to overcome every handicap. Abundant fresh air in their development; healthy, wholesome food in their bringing up; the actual physical exertions that have been their portion since childhood, these factors are going to count heavily in their favor.

They Are Cocky.

They are cocky about it all. But then, seeing them at work and play, it is difficult not to be infected with their confidence.

What are their chances? Eight victories in eight fights were promised the home folks, but the only prophecy certain to be fulfilled is that these eight Irish boys will not be beaten by anything within arm's reach of their capacity.

Roque League Tourney Will Open Here Monday

take the boys direct to the Midwest A. C. for the weighing in.

Coach John Behr today forwarded his menus for the final meal which will be ready shortly after 2:30. From then on the boys will loaf at the Illinois Athletic club until the bus takes them to their dressing room at Soldiers' Field.

They will receive their uniforms at the I. A. C. in the afternoon. All other arrangements were completed today and it's only a matter of hours now until the international test is at hand.

Chicago's boys unite tonight in saying: "We hope to win, but if we lose, all praise to the Irish who have beaten us."

Maintain Our Unbeaten Record, Irish Are Urged

Ireland's amateur boxing champions last night received the following cablegram from Gen. W. R. E. Murphy, president of the Irish Amateur Boxing association:

"Best wishes for your success. The Irish Amateur Boxing association looks to you to maintain our unbeaten record. We are looking forward to victory."

opponent. They will get their first opportunity to shake hands when the Chicago boys call at the Midwest Athletic club, where the Irish have trained, at 2 o'clock this afternoon to weigh in. After the bouts tonight both squads will return to the club for dinner together.

The international part of the show will begin with a picturesque march of the Irish squad, attired in green bath robes, down the aisle from their dressing room under the west stands. They will be escorted by soldiers in uniform to the strains of a popular Irish air. They will stand at attention in the ring while the Americans execute a similar entrance. The Chicago team, wearing bright Golden Gloves robes, will be attended by sailors and cavalrymen from Culver, with the band playing Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

The searchlights will then play to the north of the stands while the flags of the Irish Free State and the United States are unfurled. The band will play Ireland's national anthem. "Soldiers of Erin," written by Victor Herbert, while the Irish flag is being raised, and "The Star Spangled Banner" during the American ceremony.

Cohen vs. Connolly.

The two flyweights, Lennie Cohen, a Jewish lad from the west side, and Paddy Connolly, an Irish soldier from Dublin, will remain in the ring after the flag raising, but all others will return to their dressing rooms.

The referees and judges who work in the international bouts will be the same group that handled the French and German bouts with complete satisfaction to the visiting teams. Barney Ross, lightweight champion and a Golden Gloves alumnus, will referee one of the preliminary matches. Ross has worked with the Chicago team for several days at their training camp in an effort to get them in shape for tonight's bouts.

Two members of the Chicago team, Max Marek, light heavyweight, and William Celebron, welterweight, are national champions. Fred Caserio, middleweight, won the national championship in 1932 but did not defend his title this year.

In the event of rain, the show will be postponed until tomorrow night. THE TRIBUNE radio station, W-G-N, will broadcast announcements on possible postponement if the weather is threatening.

Campers Watch Nightly Show of Lightning Bugs

BY BOB BECKER.

Campers in Chicagoland who have pitched their tents along streams or on lakes are being treated to interesting evening electrical shows by thousands of fireflies or lightning bugs. This fascinating little insect, which carries a tail light like an automobile, is not confined to the lakes or streams in Chicagoland, however. You can see them almost anywhere in the country. The other night we spent 10 minutes examining one which had flown to a screen in our living room.

The so called fireflies [they are really a species of beetle] are abundant along the Fox river. When the Chicago Boy Scouts traveled down the Fox on THE TRIBUNE canoe cruise they found them at every camp site. The hot, still nights brought out the little bugs in large numbers and the dark woods were illuminated by the glowing lights of these harmless but interesting beetles.

What makes the light in the body of the firefly has puzzled the scientists for many years. For a long time it was thought that it was caused by oxygen in the air meeting fatty tissue in the body of the insect. This theory was discarded for another. Now it is thought that the insect produces some sort of secretion which, coming in contact with the food it has eaten, produces the soft phosphorescent glow.

Here in America we haven't been as ingenious as other countries in making some use of the fireflies and their soft glowing light. In some of the tropical countries the dark skinned native girls have developed the idea of utilizing the fireflies as hair ornaments. They fasten them in their hair and thus get the effect of sparkling jewels.

We have heard of another interesting way to use the insects. Certain tribes in South America always collected a large number of fireflies before they went on the war path. Just before the attack they would crush the insects and smear their bodies with the oil from the fireflies. This caused their bodies to glow in the darkness and frightened their enemies. The procedure is a variation of the old ghost trick with the firefly furnishing the material for the illusion.

American Davis Cup Team Comes Home; No Alibis

New York, Aug. 1.—[Special.]—With no alibis for their defeat at the hands of Great Britain in the interzone final match, the United States Davis cup team returned to America today on the liner Olympic.

The players, Ellsworth Vines Jr., Wilmer Allison, George Lott and John Van Ryn, said they planned to rest for a short time before participating in tournaments.

"Of course, we are disappointed to return without the cup," said Capt. Bernon S. Prentice, "but we have no excuses to offer, but the highest praise for a great British team led by Perry and Austin at their best."

Pick of Texas Stables Reach Lake Forest.

Arrival of ponies, which started yesterday, will be a daily event until Monday in preparation for the East vs. West polo series on the Onwentsia club field in Lake Forest Aug. 13, 16 and 20.

As the first of the string of Texas mounts to be ridden by two of the western stars, Cecil Smith and Rube Williams, were unloaded, Maj. Frederic McLaughlin, chairman of the managing committee, was at the train to greet them.

Among the best known are Gladder, Frendo, Snook, and Pete and Repeat, four of Smith's favorites, together with Blue Print, Lawson and Rainy Day, the first choices of Williams.

The horses, accompanied by their grooms, paraded through the Lake Forest streets to the Onwentsia stables.

Neil McCarthy, one of the candidates for the western team, will arrive from Los Angeles this morning. He will go immediately to Lake Forest to witness the unloading of 22 more ponies which have traveled on palace cars attached to his train.

HOT SUN parches your scalp! . . . endangers your HAIR!

60-SECOND WORKOUT

50 SECONDS TO RUB . .
Massage Vitalis briskly into your tight, dry scalp. Necessary oils are restored. Gone is that dry, dead look which ruins hair.

ASK YOUR BARBER

10 SECONDS TO BRUSH
Comb your hair. Brush it. Notice how lustrous it looks? There's no "patent-leather" look. It lies down, and it stays smartly groomed.

The hot sun beats down on your head—it parches your scalp. Your hair becomes brittle and bleached—unmanageable. The individual hairs split, break off, fall out. The essential oils which keep your hair healthy are dried out.

But you can save your hair—and save its looks—with the Vitalis workout. Rub Vitalis briskly into your scalp twice a week. Wake it up! Necessary oils are restored—and your hair becomes vigorous, softly lustrous, healthy. If the sun is especially hot, use this Vitalis workout before you go outdoors, and after your shower. You'll have good-looking hair—and you'll have it at the end of the summer!

PORTLAND LINKS STAR SHOOTS 68 TO CAPTURE LEAD

Tab Boyer Goes Four Strokes Under Par.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 1.—(AP)—It took a local boy to show the way in the first half of the qualifying round of the national public links golf tournament today—Tab Boyer, a Portland favorite, cracking par wide open with a dazzling 68, four under perfect figures.

All the other 164 competitors with the exception of Robert Tomes of Long Beach, Cal.; Bob Hofer of Parkrose, Ore., and Charles Ferrera of San Francisco struggled in vain to keep up with him.

Leads Field by Three Strokes.

Boyer, captain of the Portland team and semi-finalist in last year's public links tournament at Louisville, gained the inside track for medal honors in the final 18 holes tomorrow when he led the field by three strokes.

Until Boyer came in with seven birdies, Hofer, a Portland suburb resident, was the hero of the first 18 holes of the qualifying round with a 72, but he slipped farther out of the picture as the late cards went up on the big score board, Tomes sailing in with a par shattering 71 and Ferrera with a regulation 72.

Joe Carcia of St. Paul shared honors with two Washington boys, Bud Ward of Olympia and William Brown of Seattle, for the place behind Hofer and Ferrera. They posted 73s.

Defending Champion Gets 74.

The defending champion, Robert Lee Miller of Jacksonville, Fla., made the lowest nine hole score of the day when he clipped three strokes off par on the homeward nine for a 33, but his 41 on the outward nine for a total of 74 held him in a tie with Joe Green of Philadelphia, Matt Palacio Jr. of San Rafael, Cal.; Leslie Leal of Bellingham, Henry Batista of Altadena, Cal.; H. J. Ingle of San Diego, Warn Winston of Spokane, Don Erickson of Los Angeles, John Gunst of Portland, and Oliver Sleppy of Signal Hill, Cal.

Johnny Banks, Chicago, and Johnny Dolan, Philadelphia, were next in line with 75 each. Scotty Campbell of Seattle followed in a tie with Pete Miller of Chicago, Lyle Decker of San Jose, Cal., and David Mitchell of Indianapolis, with 76s.

Other leaders included:

77—Louis Cyr, Vancouver, Wash., and Bert Bergman, St. Paul.

79—W. R. Gammon, St. Paul; Olin Carrocki, Brooklyn; George Inglis, Parkrose, Ore.; Jim O'Hern, Louisville; Charles Walker, Oswego, Ore., and James Busong, Forest Grove, Ore.

80—William Zieske, Minneapolis, and Ambrose Kolnik Jr., New York.

81—Frank Strafaci, Brooklyn; Johnny Morris, Birmingham; Arthur W. Berg, Seattle; Michael C. Massa, Brooklyn; Hank Foley, Chicago; Ed W. Jurling, Los Angeles; Courtland Randolph Jr., San Jose; Robert Gourlay, Seattle; Ed Greenway, Seattle; Barney Lucas, Parkrose, Ore.; Edward R. Triggs, Los Angeles; A. Saxton, Louisville, and Paul Sleppy, Signal Hill, Cal.

Chicago Team Leads.

The Chicago four-man team in the Harding cup competition led after three teams of the 28 entered had turned in their scores to the official scorers. Led by Banks, a Notre Dame student, the Chicago team had a total score of 310.

Brooklyn was second with a net of 319, while Louisville, having a total of 328, was third.

HILDEBRAND OF INDIANS FINED AND SUSPENDED

Cleveland, O., Aug. 1.—(AP)—An indefinite suspension of Oral Hildebrand, young right handed pitcher of the Cleveland Indians, by Manager Walter Johnson, was announced tonight by the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Hildebrand's suspension was ordered as disciplinary action shortly before today's game at St. Louis, when the manager and the pitcher exchanged hot words in the club house over a $100 fine which Johnson imposed yesterday.

The Plain Dealer said Johnson did not make public the fine until after he ordered the suspension. Then he said he levied it because Hildebrand objected to being removed from yesterday's game.

KING (DOT THE E) LEVINSKY MEETS DESK SERGEANT

King Levinsky, heavyweight prize fighter, was arrested in the loop yesterday on charges of failing to display a city license tag on his automobile and of parking too long at Randolph and Wells streets.

At the Central station he explained long and loudly that he had gone into the Palace theater to await two actor friends who were on the bill and whom he intended to take home to dinner. Over his protests, Sergt. George Homer booked him on the charges.

However, in writing the fighter's name the sergeant spelled it Levensky and the King, who was looking on, was puzzled. Finally he got it all figured out what was wrong.

"Sergeant," he said, "you have got to put a dot on that e."

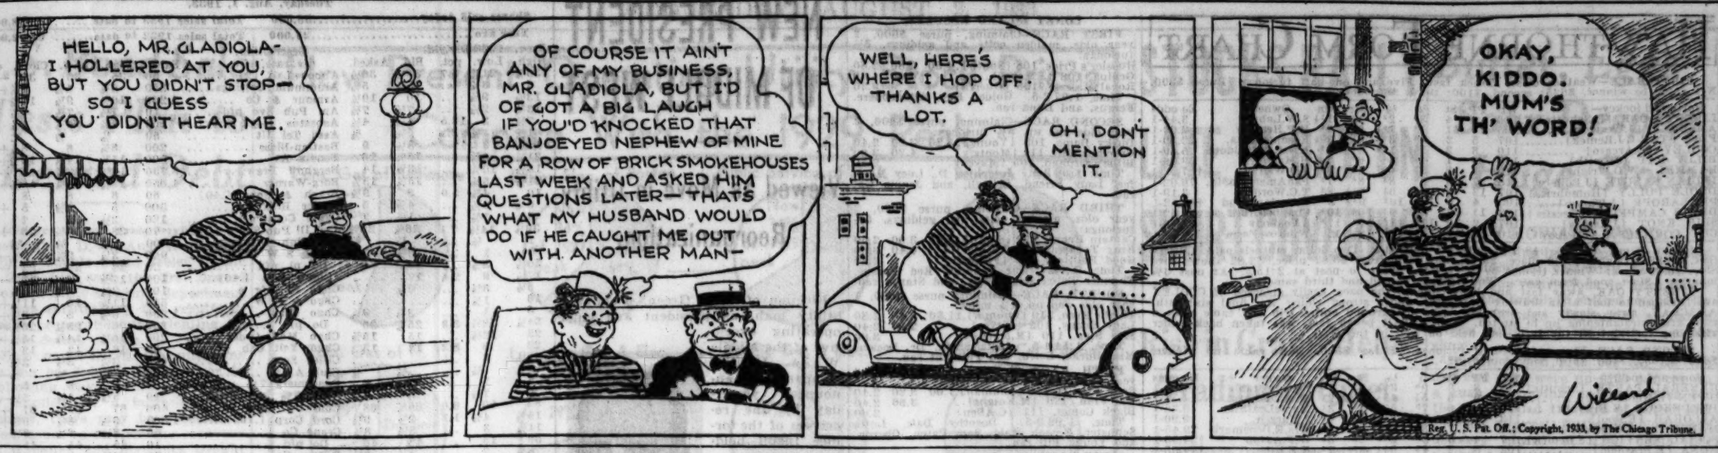
MOON MULLINS—MOTOR TROUBLE



HELLO, MR. GLADIOLA- I HOLLERED AT YOU, BUT YOU DIDN'T STOP— SO I GUESS YOU DIDN'T HEAR ME.
OF COURSE IT AIN'T ANY OF MY BUSINESS, MR. GLADIOLA, BUT I'D OF GOT A BIG LAUGH IF YOU'D KNOCKED THAT BANJOEYED NEPHEW OF MINE FOR A ROW OF BRICK SMOKEHOUSES LAST WEEK AND ASKED HIM QUESTIONS LATER— THAT'S WHAT MY HUSBAND WOULD DO IF HE CAUGHT ME OUT WITH ANOTHER MAN—
WELL, HERE'S WHERE I HOP OFF. THANKS A LOT.
OH, DON'T MENTION IT.
OKAY, KIDDO. MUM'S TH' WORD!

Martin Wins 2 Matches in C.D.G.A. Meet

They halved the tenth in birdie fours, and Martin was only one up after the thirteenth, which Sweet birdied with a ten foot putt. Art three putted the 16th, however, and they halved the 17th to end the match. Martin won his afternoon duel from John Wagner, 3 and 2.

Armstrong eliminated M. Le Bosquet Jr. of Ridge in the morning round, 2 and 1, and then returned to win over Winfield Day, Chicago district junior champion, 5 and 4, with one of the best rounds of the day, going out in 34, two under par, and knocking down five birdies. Dawson won his first match from Bob Bohnen, 1933 University of Chicago captain, 2 and 1. In the afternoon he was even at the turn with a club mate, John Hackett, and was one down after the tenth, which Hackett birdied. George then went to work, squared the match at the 11th with a deuce from 3 feet, and won all of the remaining holes, three of them with birdies.

Brown defeated John Morrell of Glen Oak, 2 and 1, and Norman Anderson of Olympia Fields, 4 and 2, to enter the quarter finals, while Renwick scored his victories over Fred Garlepy of Edgewood Valley and Frank Ghiselli of Westward Ho. Cubs Return Home and End Losing Streak

After viewing a succession of outs during the fifth, sixth, and seventh, Donie Bush, who manages the Reds, decided something would have to be done to break Malone's charm. Pinch hitters were employed, but the charm wasn't effaced. Roettger batted for Hemsley to open the eighth. He flied to Demaree. Grantham was elected to swing for Bluege and he banged one of his copyrighted drives toward first base, but Grimm scooped it up with one hand and Malone, in a burst of energy, reached the bag in time to take Grimm's throw and get the decision. The third pinch man in a row was Manion, but he rolled one only as far as Malone's feet.

Lucas, batting for Adams, led off with a single to right in the ninth and for a few minutes thereafter Malone had to proceed cautiously. Morrissey bounced to Billy Herman, who threw to Jurges for the start of a double play, but not even one man was retired. Jurges was at least a city block off the bag when he relayed the ball to Grimm. Hafey then flied to Cuyler, which was a big load off the minds of the Cubs. Moore grounded into a force play, which was another relief. And the dangerous Bottomley, who had already slapped Malone for two singles, was next but he popped foul to Campbell.

Browns Whip Indians, 5 to 2, for 2d in Row

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The St. Louis Browns made it two straight over the Cleveland Indians today, winning, 5 to 2. Sam West and Carl Reynolds led the attack. The two Brown outfielders garnered more than half the St. Louis hits, which included West's homer and Reynolds' triple.

The veteran Sam Gray was in form and held the Indians scoreless until he retired in the eighth inning, nearly exhausted. Bump Hadley finished the game. Monte Pearson was the losing pitcher. Score:

Root and Lucas to Pitch Today for Cubs, Reds

Charley Root, who is a Red nemesis of old, and Red Lucas, who is a Cub nemesis of long standing, are slated to pitch in the second game of the series at Wrigley field today.

Gabby Hartnett's absence from his regular berth behind the bat was passed off with "just resting him for a few days." Gabby still can make himself heard orally, but not so well with bat or as a runner.

The vacancy created by the long overdue canning of Burleigh Grimes will be filled by Leroy Herrmann, who was recalled yesterday from the Los Angeles ivory farm. His record up to July 22 was 16 victories and 9 defeats.

Bill Jurges, after trying to work a double play when about three yards off the bag in the ninth, bellowed to Ump Pfirman about the latter's decision, but Bill was the only one in the park who didn't agree with the arbiter.

The seventeen strikeouts the Cubs surrendered to Dizzy Dean last Sunday at St. Louis just about exhausted the supply. They came up with only one yesterday. Babe Herman did this after Allyn Stout had walked Cuyler to open the eighth.

PIRATES POUND WALKER; DEFEAT CARDINALS, 9-3

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates drew a game nearer to the league leading New York Giants today as they defeated the St. Louis Cardinals, 9 to 3, for their eighth straight victory while the Giants lost to Boston. The victory put the Pirates only 2½ games behind New York.

The game started out as a Pittsburgh slugging affair when the Pirates drove Bill Walker to cover and scored five runs in the first inning and wound up in a brief fistic match between Pitcher Steve Swetonic and George Watkins, Cardinal outfielder.

The short fight came after Leo Durocher had been hit by a pitched ball in the seventh. Watkins made the last out of the inning and exchanged a few words with Swetonic. They squared off and started throwing punches but other players and the umpires separated them and they both were chased from the game. Waite Hoyt finished for Swetonic, who had yielded only five hits up to that time. Score:

HOPE TO DO HAS SOME FUN WITH THE WISE GUYS

Admiral Grayson's Horse Wins in a Canter.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson put over quite a coup out at the Hawthorne racetrack yesterday with his 3 year old Hope To Do.

He sent the son of Black Tony-Oubliette out in the Maplewood purse, which engaged some stylish overnight handicap performers. Because the big black gelding had been running at Rockingham Park somewhere in New Hampshire, hardly anyone in the crowd of 10,000 gave him a tumble.

Overlooking Hope To Do was the big mistake the players made in another turbulent afternoon of racing on Chicago's west side. Hope To Do, in one of his long, graceful strides, leaped into the lead at the start.

They could have paid off then and there.

He Eased Up at Finish.

Hope To Do flew out into a two length lead rounding the clubhouse bend. He increased it to four lengths going down the back stretch. He was leading by four lengths heading into the stretch. Then Jockey Tipton permitted him to take things a bit easy so he skidded on to victory by the narrow margin of a head over At Top. Red Roamer, on which there had been quite a plunge, finished third.

Hope To Do ran the mile and a sixteenth in 1:45 3-5, and in the mutuels paid $15.86 to win, $7.32 to place, and $3.98 to show. At Top was at $8.64 to place and $3.06 to show. Red Roamer, the favorite, paid $2.34 to show.

Hope To Do ran some of his best races as a 2 year old at Hawthorne last season. He is trained by Mose Lowenstein of Chicago.

Mad Wind Beats All Rowes.

The Nordic purse over the same mile and a sixteenth route provided one of the most thrilling finishes of the season when Mad Wind from the A. Baroni stable galloped out in front all the way and in an exciting stretch battle lasted just long enough to beat All Rowes from Mrs. Katherine Elkins Hitts' stables in Maryland.

Baroni, a shrewd western horseman, who has secured many of the horses that have made his racing jacket familiar, got Mad Wind a claim from the Lemar stock farm stable early in the season at Washington Park.

It proved to be another good claim, for Mad Wind can run just about as fast an any man's horse for a mile and demonstrated it in this encounter that he can stick it out a half furlong longer. He is a son of Wildair-Mabel McKane a speed line rather than one of staying qualities.

This Was Quite a Finish.

All Rowes, after challenging numerous times, appeared to be hopelessly beaten as the field headed into the home stretch. Then the son of Bud Lerner came again. He was wearing Mad Wind down at every stride and just failed to get up. Two more furlongs perhaps would have returned him the winner. Rocky News from Audley Farm stable finished third.

Mad Wind ran the distance in 1:46 1-5. In the mutuels he paid $4.86, a red hot tip having gone out on him just before post time. Jockey Wayne Wright was in the saddle on Mad Wind and didn't give him a breathing spell for the entire route.

Gallant Sir Is Favorite in Sky Harbor

The Sky Harbor Handicap at 6½ furlongs to be run this afternoon engages seven candidates for the $5,000 added Hawthorne handicap scheduled for Saturday. Gallant Sir will rule as the favorite today, but strong backing developed last night for Indian Runner, Mr. Sponge, Big Brand and Polydorus.

Gallant Sir will run without blinkers today. Trainer Woody Fitzgerald worked him an eighth of a mile with the hood off in 12 seconds yesterday then got permission of the stewards to run him that way this afternoon.

Silent Shot, the 3 year old owned by Attorney J. E. Hughes of Chicago, can't find the kind of a muddy track he has been seeking all season. With showers falling every where in the vicinity of Hawthorne yesterday, it appeared as if he might find his spot in the Maplewood purse. But it didn't rain at Hawthorne and Silent Shot was scratched.

Horses like Silent Shot, which must have a made to order track, don't win much money. Silent Shot has probably been scratched out of more races this season than any other 3 year old in the country.

The Hawthorne customers stormed the dollar across the board windows for the second time in as many days. E. A. Weidekamp in charge of the mutuel department said he was surprised at the volume of one dollar play but that it had not affected the regular two dollar betting.

General Parth and Night Jasmine, the favorites, won the second and third races to complete the daily double, which paid $29.68.

KID LEONARD PUTS REGUZZONI AWAY IN FIRST

Kid Leonard, East Moline, Ill., middleweight, knocked out Joe Reguzzoni, Detroit, Mich., in the first round of their scheduled eight round bout at the Western stadium, Devon and Western avenues, last night. Leonard connected with a solid right blow to the stomach, 47 seconds after the bout started, to win his seventh successive fight.

Steve Padjo defeated Leo Raneri in the six round semi-windup. In other bouts Carlos Herrera stopped Nick Serondis in four rounds, Jackie Sharkey knocked out Johnny Dietrich in the first round, and Bobby Shrend won a four round decision over Popeye Huber.

Winner trained by W. Irvine. Went to post at 2:15½. At post 3½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

LIBERTY OAK, away fast and kept close to the pace, easily disposed of COOLEY and, inclined to loaf after drawing clear, was under strong riding the final sixteenth. AMSCRAY, away slowly and probably best, lost ground entire trip and came with a rush after straightening up in stretch. FIRE STAR began fast, was taken back under steadying restraint on the turn, and held on well in the drive.

SECOND RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Winner trained by E. Hayward. Went to post at 2:43. At post 8½ minutes. Start bad from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

GENERAL PARTH, taken back sharply when leaving the back stretch and brought to outside on stretch turn, closed with a rush and, though bearing over, was up in closing strides. OWEN, steadied along for three-eighths, responded strongly when roused soon and, racing into command, held on well, barely failing to last. PEEDEEGIE, much used at the post, where he was rank, was going stoutly when impeded in the stretch and came again when clear in last sixteenth.

THIRD RACE—Six and one-half furlongs out of chute. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Winner trained by G. Henze. Went to post at 3:14. At post 3½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

NIGHT JASMINE, a strong factor from the start and under good restraint for a half-mile, slowly wore down VICTORIUM under strong riding and weakened, but lasted. VICTORIUM, lucky to slip through on the inside of ALPERS at the stretch turn, failed to withstand the winner, but held on well and was strongest of the leaders in the closing strides. LADYKIN was under vigorous urging after reaching the final three-eighths and weakened near end.

Winner trained by J. Lowenstein. Went to post at 3:40¼. At post 6¼ minutes. Start good from gate. Won easily; second and third driving.

HOUR ZEV much the best and strongly restrained for a half mile, took command with a rush and won easily. LE BRUYERE disdained good speed from the start, moved around throughout, and weakened in the final eighth, but outstayed MOORISH AMULET. Latter lost ground and closed resolutely in a good effort.

FIFTH RACE—Mile and one-sixteenth. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by owner. Went to post at 4:07¼. At post ½ minute. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

MAD WIND, having speed from the start, drew away from his company fast after reaching the back stretch and weakened badly in the final eighth, but lasted. ALL ROWES, rated along under mild restraint to the final three-sixteenths, closed well and under a better timed ride might have won. ROCKY NEWS held on well in a good effort.

SIXTH RACE—Mile and one-sixteenth. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $150; third, $100; fourth, $50.

Winner trained by M. Lowenstein. Went to post at 4:30. Left at once. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

HOPE TO DO, beginning fast, slightly crowded FRENCH KNIGHT at the first turn, made the pace under good rating, and weakened badly but lasted. AT TOP, probably best and well in hand for five-eighths, was out of step when trying to get through on the inside at the stretch turn and, brought out, closed with a rush. RED ROAMER, rated along for three-quarters, held on gamely under pressure.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Winner trained by H. McDivain. Went to post at 4:53. At post 3½ minutes. Start good from gate. Won driving; second and third same.

AL NEIMAN improved and beginning fast, drew away on the second turn and tattered after reaching the final eighth, but was not seriously endangered. OLD DEPOT, weakly ridden and allowed to drop back to fourth turn, closed with a rush. HILLSBOROUGH improved his position with a rush after reaching the stretch and weakened slightly in the final strides.

EIGHTH RACE—Mile and one-sixteenth. Purse $800. Net value to winner, $625; second, $100; third, $50; fourth, $25.

Winner trained by D. A. Headley. Went to post at 5:18. Off at once. Start good from gate. Won easily; second and third driving.

DOUBLE DATE, hustled into a long lead before going a quarter and rated along to the stretch after the first three-eighths, was briefly shaken up in the final quarter and had little left. FOXLAND HALL could not menace the winner, but held on well in an even effort. KNOWLEDGE saved ground where possible and outstayed UPON.

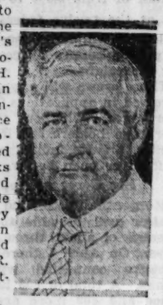
BANKS OFFERED VAST U. S. FUNDS TO MAKE LOANS

R. F. C. to Buy Stock; Urges Expansion.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—In an effort to swing the wealth of the nation's banks into line behind the administration's recovery program, Jesse H. Jones, chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, tonight announced that those banks which extend credit and enable industry to carry on may draw on the unlimited funds of the R. F. C. for assistance.



JESSE H. JONES.

President Roosevelt and Secretary of the Treasury William H. Woodin have approved his plan of throwing the full weight of the government behind coöperating banks, Jones said. He quoted a letter from the President sanctioning the scheme.

Jones' appeal for the banks of the country to finance the recovery program in industry and agriculture came two days after eleven large New York banks had pledged their assistance to Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the recovery act.

R. F. C. to Buy Bank Stock.

Government aid to banks would be worked out by the R. F. C. subscribing to preferred stock in all banks which can find legitimate uses for the money in credit extensions, Jones explained. Subscriptions will be made on a 50-50 basis, the government matching each dollar of new capital which the banks put up.

The R. F. C. has power to make preferred stock subscriptions in banks without limit. The power was given to it during the banking crisis in order to facilitate reorganization of closed banks. The policy announced by Jones tonight marks a new use of the preferred stock purchase power.

In his letter approving Jones' plan President Roosevelt declared: "I congratulate the many bankers who have safely steered their institutions through the troubles of the last four years, but credit must be made available to all classes of our citizens if business is to be reëstablished on a permanent, workable basis.

"Your plan to provide the banks with new and added capital, by the purchase of preferred stock on such fair terms as those outlined, will enable them to extend this credit without fear of their own positions."

Jones Explains Plan.

Announcing his plan, Jones said: "To encourage banks to put themselves in stronger positions by increasing their capital so that they can assist in the general program of recovery by lending and functioning as banks should function in normal times, the directors of the Reconstruction Finance corporation, with the full approval of the President and the secretary of the treasury, are prepared to match capital dollars with any sound bank that can use additional capital to advantage."

Where state banks are not allowed to issue preferred stock the corporation will buy 5 per cent, 10 year capital notes, Jones explained. He traced a standard method for retiring preferred stock which would leave the R. F. C. involved in the banks for 20 years.

Stressing the current need for credit, Jones called on all banks to fall in line. The new capital which the R. F. C. will furnish can be multiplied many times through credit channels, he said.

DOLLAR MOVES UP TO BEST LEVELS OF RECENT SPURT

New York, Aug. 1.—The dollar rallied further today to reach a gold valuation, measured in terms of the franc of 75.5 cents, although at the close it was 74.91 cents. This was the best level thus far attained on the recovery from its low of 68.4 cents, reached on July 19. Fluctuations were again broad but by no means as wild as they were on Monday.

The pound sterling ranged from $4.46½ to $4.42 and closed at $4.43¾, off 5¼ cents. The franc moved between 5.27 cents and 5.19 cents and closed at 5.23 cents, off 5 points. Yesterday's lowest quotations for French and British exchange were the cheapest since early last month. They represented declines of 44½ cents and 53¾ points in sterling and the franc, respectively, since the highs of July 19, when sterling reached parity of $4.86½ and the franc touched 5.72¾ cents.

All other exchanges cheapened in terms of the dollar.

U.S. Bond Sale Tests Plan to Refund Debt

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—Having put out a double edged feeler in the bond issue just sold, the first floated in two years, the treasury department today was scrutinizing the results of the issue preparatory to orienting its policy on future issues.

Officials summarized the questions which the bond issue will answer in the following way: If the public generally applied for a large block of the bonds, there may be a series of popular issues to finance the recovery drive; if banks and investors bought heavily, there may be a series of conversion loans to soak up the short term debt.

Weakness in the government security market yesterday and at the opening today occasioned no anxiety at the treasury. Because of its attractive interest rate, 3¼ per cent for eight years, the new issue was assumed from the first to be drawing the interest of the market away from outstanding issues for the time being.

New Bonds at Premium.

That the new bonds will sell at a premium is assumed by the prices on issues exchangeable for them. Later there may be a swing back to issues already outstanding, the treasury believes.

As final reports on the volume of subscriptions under $10,000 came in from federal reserve banks today the treasury started debating whether to close the subscription books on the bonds completely. They were closed for all but these small subscriptions last night.

On the amount of small subscriptions, a figure which the treasury keeps secret, depends much of the future financing policy of the government. If it is large, bond issues like Liberty loans of war days may be attempted.

President Roosevelt is quoted at the treasury as believing that the government could exploit this market to a much greater degree and Secretary of the Treasury Woodin has declared that it will be his policy to get as many people as possible "to be shareholders in the government" through popular sales of federal securities.

Debate Conversion Loans.

If banks and investment houses showed an eagerness for the new bond issue the treasury may attempt others as conversion loans. The short term debt, which is held largely by banks and large investors, has reached the unyielding total of 8 billion dollars and the treasury is anxious to roll over at least part of it into a bond issue.

In addition, there is now callable another 8 billion dollars in Liberty loans. These might be refunded, but they are callable only upon six months' notice and on interest payment dates. The next interest dates for the two issues involved are Sept. 15 and Oct. 15, respectively.

The New Deal Becomes W.K. by Its Initials

To be properly sophisticated these days you've got to be able to talk about the various cards in the "new deal," using only their initials. NRA, RFC, AAA, CCC, HOLC, TVA, FERA, FCT, and PWA are now accepted jargon in political and business circles referring respectively to National Industrial Recovery Administration, Reconstruction Finance corporation, Agricultural Administration, Civilian Conservation Corps, Home Owners' Loan corporation, Tennessee Valley Authority, Federal Emergency Relief Administration, Federal Coördinator of Transporation, and Public Works Administration.

The trading floor of the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday had the appearance of a big clubroom. With trading halted by the rule on maximum daily fluctuations, members lounged around in chairs or on the steps of the pits talking things over. Only the floor rule forbidding smoking in the "big room" prevented full enjoyment of the day.

A secretary of a bondholders' committee for a large hotel in default says that he is constantly getting requests from owners of the bonds to be permitted to exchange their defaulted securities for rent. Other bondholders ask for jobs, saying the fact that they have an interest in the property will make them good employés. The secretary asks those in the first category who is going to pay taxes, buy coal, provide linen, etc., if the hotel's rooms are occupied by nonincome producing guests.

There are two free shows in the loop which are attracting good sized audiences. One is in the board of trade, where it is said around 8,000 visitors daily watch the commotion in the grain pits. Groups of spectators are allowed to stand on the visitors' gallery for five or ten minutes, after which they must leave to make room for others. The audience for the second show leans against the buildings at Adams and Clark and watches the steel workers toss rivets around on the rapidly rising Field building.

The demand for beer sometimes seems less than the demand for breweries, some of which are legitimate concerns, but others exist almost entirely on paper. As an example, a Chicago chemist was offered a position as brewmaster a few days ago at a brewery in southern central Illinois and went to investigate the plant. He found a big wooden building, iron sheathed, but devoid of machinery of any kind. The promoters said they hoped to be able to sell enough stock in the brewery to buy machinery and make beer.

SILVER PAID U. S. BY BRITAIN TO BE MONEY BASE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 1.—(AP)—The $10,000,000 in silver received by this government as part payment of the British war debt installment on June 15 will be held in bars by the government and silver certificates issued against it. Dean Acheson, acting secretary of the treasury, said today he already had approved the form for the certificates.

No attempt will be made to coin any of the silver, as the United States already has a supply of silver dollars totaling more than $500,000,000.

COMMODITY PRICES RISE IN JULY, FIFTH CONSECUTIVE MONTH

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 1.—The fifth successive monthly gain in Dun's index number of wholesale commodity prices lifted the figure for Aug. 1 4.7 per cent over July 1. The gain, however, was not so wide as that which occurred between June 1 and July 1, when 6.6 was recorded.

There has been an increase of 21.3 per cent since Aug. 1, 1932, and an advance of 22.4 per cent from the March index, which was the low point for the current year. The lowest level to which the index receded in 18 years was on July 1, 1932. The rise from that point to the current month represents a gain of 24.6 per cent.

Of the seven components which form the index, the largest increase this month appeared in the clothing division, due to the higher level reached by raw cotton and wool, and the advanced quotations on finished cotton and woolen goods. The miscellaneous group owed its better position to the higher prices of lumber, hemp, paint materials, and fertilizers. The strength in metals was provided by pig iron, wire nails, anthracite coal, petroleum, tin, lead, and copper.

Breadstuffs did not repeat the good showing of the previous month because of the reaction of all grains during the middle of July, and the slow rate at which recovery proceeded.

GROWERS APPEAL TO ROOSEVELT ON TOBACCO PRICES

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 1.—(AP)—Telegrams protesting opening prices offered for tobacco were sent by farmers, business men, and tobacco warehouse men today to federal and state officials as the crop went on sale throughout south Georgia. The opening prices were said to be from 3 to 25 cents per pound, depending on the grade.

Messages were sent to President Roosevelt and Secretary Wallace asking for a grade scale and price adjustment. Growers had ex ected the extra fancy grades to bring 30 cents per pound.

The state department of agriculture estimated the crop at approximately 45,000,000 pounds, with a value of between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000. Forecasters were of the belief the average price would be 15 cents a pound this year, in contrast with last year's average of 10.41 cents. The 1932 crop was curtailed to about 12,000,000 pounds, with total receipts of $1,267,211.

ILLINOIS FIRMS SEEK TO MODIFY STATE SALES TAX

Warning that certain provisions of the new Illinois occupational sales tax are giving out of the state companies advantages over Illinois concerns, a group of manufacturers will assemble at Springfield today to ask a more liberal ruling on some of the requirements of the tax act. More than fifty executives of plants representing more than 25 lines of business will meet with state authorities and possibly with Gov. Horner.

The meeting is being held under the joint auspices of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, the Chicago Association of Commerce and the Illinois Manufacturers association.

"We are asking for this hearing in a friendly spirit of coöperation," Walter Williams, president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, stated yesterday. "We are not necessarily antagonistic to the tax but are anxious to conserve business and pay rolls in Illinois against the inroads of out of the state competition not burdened with the tax."

N. Y. Coffee-Sugar Market Sets Record for Activity

New York, Aug. 1.—The New York Coffee and Sugar exchange, Inc., reports that last month was the most active July in the organization's history. The volume of trading in sugar was 886,600 tons, compared with 467,000 tons in July, 1932, while the coffee business totaled 1,391,500 bags, against 197,250 in the same month last year.

Crop Experts See Smaller Wheat Harvest

Intense heat and drought during July cut down the prospective grain crops of the United States around 250,000,000 bushels, as indicated by the estimates of leading Chicago statisticians given to the trade yesterday. This reduction was shown by a comparison with the private returns of a month ago, which were somewhat above the government figures.

B. W. SNOW.

Aggregate wheat and oats crops were the smallest since 1893, with corn the smallest, with one exception, since 1903. The wheat crop of 480,000,000 bushels was about equal to the actual bread requirements of the country, with no allowance made for seed, feed or other use. The average disappearance for all purposes during the last five years, as given by B. W. Snow, was 682,000,000 bushels.

Harvest Small Yields.

Owing to higher prices even small patches of grain in fields that promise a fair return this season are being harvested, as indicated in reports to R. O. Cromwell. This accounts to some extent for the fact that his estimate on the aggregate yields of wheat were somewhat above the average of the five reports. H. C. Donovan expected around 3,000,000 acres of corn to be reported as abandoned in the final returns.

The three Canadian provinces have an indicated wheat crop of 252,000,000 bushels, a drop of nearly 150,000,000 bushels in the last month and compared with 408,000,000 bushels harvested. Reports to Nat C. Murray suggested that the condition was still declining at the end of July.

Detailed Estimates.

	Wheat— Winter.	Spring.	Corn.	Oats.
B. W. Snow	320	154	2,300	670
Nat C. Murray	340	148	2,379	686
R. O. Cromwell	347	157	2,408	701
H. C. Donovan	330	140	2,390	680
E. H. Miller	329	138	2,363	645
Average	333	147	2,370	676
July average	323	106	2,480	749
Govt., July	336	160	2,284	699
Final, 1932	462	265	2,876	1,238

The condition of corn is the lowest, with two exceptions, within the present century asserts Mr. Snow and is now 66.6 per cent of normal. The crop is estimated at 2,300 million bushels should normal weather conditions prevail for the remainder of the season. Insects are damaging the crop to an extent rarely known and over a wide area.

Abel Davis, receiver for Pettibone, Mulliken company, railway equipment supply concern, filed suit yesterday in the United States District court for recovery of approximately $300,000 for stockholders of the company. Murchison, president of Peabody & Co., and a director of the Pettibone Mulliken company; Augustus S. Peabody, chairman of the investment house; Moe A. Isaacs, a large stockholder of the railway supply company, and M. A. Isaac & Co.

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—Mack Trucks, Inc., today reported net loss of $115,202 for the June quarter, compared with loss of $203,872 for the corresponding period a year ago. The company announce that in June it operated at a profit for the first time since May, 1931.

STOCKS RALLY LATE IN DAY ON SHORT COVERING

Rise in Grains Helps; Trading Is Quiet.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 1.—Sharp recoveries were made by a wide assortment of tarídng favorites in today's dealings on the stock exchange. Gains of 1 to 4 points were the rule for the list at large.

The intense heat, coupled with the mid-summer slump in activity, kept many brokers and customers alike away from the boardrooms and turnover was extremely light, being 1,787,060 shares, or only a little more than half of yesterday's moderate showing.

Outside of the sharp spurt in wheat and other grains, particularly on the Winnipeg market, there was little to influence stocks in the day's run of news. Prices merely drifted during most of the session. Improvement in the final half hour appeared to be the result of covering by traders who had sold on Monday and who had seen the market stand virtually still during earlier operations.

Farm Implement Issues Rise.

The grain rally found spirited reflection in the farm implement issues. J. I. Case jumped more than 7 points, while Deere & Co. and International Harvester were up 3 points or so each.

The repeal group also looked up rather sharply. National distillers and American Commercial alcohol improved their ratings about 4 points each and United States Industrial Alcohol rose 6 points. Allied stocks were likewise fairly strong.

Outside these two divisions, the market was interesting only in spots. In the automobile sector, Chrysler had a runup on its good earnings statement and dividend payment. General Motors also was higher. Corn Products and Commercial Solvents enjoyed a better market. Air Reduction registered a gain of about 5 points and Union Bag and Paper rose 4.

The rails held firm in spite of a widespread belief that the forthcoming report on car loadings will show the first drop for a full week since the trends first crossed the 1932 line, about the middle of May. Gains of a point or two were made by New York Central, Union and Southern Pacifics, Lackawanna, and Southern railway.

Pivotal Issues Higher.

Pivotal industrials and utilities managed to keep plus signs on display most of the time. United States Steel was up a point at its best, but could retain only half its newly won ground through to the close. American Can, American Telephone, American Tobacco, General Electric, and Bethlehem Steel finished 1 to 2 points up.

The gold mining group, which is usually to the fore whether the market is going ahead or giving way to some new reactionary influence, was content to just string along today.

Several conspicuously weak spots kept the recovery from being a unanimous affair. Trading was the slowest for a full session since April 18 last.

CALLS VARYING COSTS OBSTACLE TO TRADE CODES

Difference in production costs, one of the chief obstacles in putting a nation-wide trade code to work, is largely due to inefficient management within firms operating at high cost, Dean R. A. Stevenson of the school of business administration of the University of Minnesota declared yesterday before the closing conference of the American Industrial Development council at the Palmer house.

Researches by an employment stabilization bureau in the Twin Cities have disclosed differences as large in ratio as eighteen to one in the cost of producing the same article by different firms, he said. As a remedy he urged American employers to abandon their "time honored policy of rugged individualism," to arrange for an interchange of industrial ideas with other firms and to install scientific studies of employés to place them most efficiently.

Study of conditions by industrial leaders to determine in what lines and in what locations they could most efficiently operate was urged by Dean Stevenson. In some cases, he said, it might be advantageous for firms to go into some other business or move to new localities.

CONVENTION WON BY BUICK, OLDS, PONTIAC SALES

One of the largest automobile conventions of the year will be held in Chicago on Aug. 7, 8, and 9 by the Buick-Olds-Pontiac Sales company. More than 500 persons representing the regional sales divisions and the branch zones will attend the meeting.

W. A. Blees, general sales manager, said that the convention was promised the organization on fulfillment of the May-June sales quota. Actual sales were 153 per cent of the quota, he said. Two days will be spent in business meetings and delegates will visit the World's Fair the other two days. Several General Motors executives will attend.

Butter, Eggs Soar Despite Huge Stocks

BY HOWARD WOOD.

With trading in the grain pits almost at a standstill yesterday because of the various restrictions on price movements the limelight shifted temporarily to the Chicago Mercantile exchange where butter and eggs put on a big show.

Butter gained $240 per car for the day and eggs were up $120 per car on a rush of buying orders. Sales for the day totaled 186 cars of butter and 260 cars of eggs. Butter for November delivery closed at 22¾ cents per pound, a gain of 1¼ cents for the day. October eggs were up ⅞ of a cent.

The exchange released figures showing that sales of butter and egg futures during July set a new monthly record with a total of 13,714 cars. October, 1928, with total sales of 13,130 cars, was the best previous month.

Market experts have been emphasizing the heavy accumulation of storage stocks as a bearish factor. Stocks of butter are nearly 1,000,000 pounds greater than a year ago and there are 10,500 more cases of eggs in storage.

Another side of the picture is presented by Nat C. Murray, grain analyst, who predicts a marked shortage of feed a few months hence.

Oats, he explains, is the chief feed for dairy cattle, and the nation's oats crop this year promises to be not much more than half the size of last year's crop.

Last year production of oats totaled 1 billion 238 million bushels. In the five preceding years the oats crop averaged 1 billion 184 million bushels. This year's crop, according to Mr. Murray's estimate, will total only 686 million bushels.

Other crop estimators arrive at approximately the same figures. The average of the Cromwell, Snow, Murray, Miller and Donovan oats estimates announced yesterday is 676 million bushels.

Carryover of oats on farms on Aug. 1 is estimated at 82 million bushels and visible supplies in elevators total only 34 million bushels. Possible substitute feeds are similarly scant. The hay crop this year is below normal. The chances are believed to be against importation of oats from Canada because Canada's oats crop is just as bad a failure as that of the United States.

Asked what the answer is, Mr. Murray shakes his head and replies:

"Less oats is going to be fed because there will be less to feed. There is, however, always a lag between the time when a crop failure occurs and the time when it is acutely felt. This lag may be six months or more."

A year or two ago when everybody was talking about the tremendous surplus of wheat Nat Murray expressed the opinion that the United States would be on an import basis within five years. Now he says he is surprised at the suddenness with which his predictions have materialized.

But the situation in the United States he finds less startling than that in Canada, where the crop failure threatens to be the worst in the nation's history.

"In the last sixty days," he says, "Canadian wheat prospects have been declining at the rate of about 3 million bushels a day and seem to be still declining.

"Our June 1 reports indicated a promise of about 425 million bushels. Our July 1 reports forecast 356 million bushels. A special mid-July inquiry indicated 297 million bushels. Our latest Aug. 1 reports forecast 245 million bushels, with 75 per cent of the area reporting the trend declining, 20 per cent steady and 5 per cent improving. With such a rapid change it is impossible to make a definite estimate of the probable outcome of the crop."

FREIGHT TRAFFIC SLOWS BUT HOLDS ABOVE LAST YEAR

While a slowing down in the number of car loadings was reported by many railroads for the week ended July 29, the total still runs ahead of that for the like week of 1932. The North Western reported that its loadings totaled 24,227 cars, an increase of 3,895 cars over the like week of 1932 and a decrease of 1,833 from the total for the preceding week of this year.

GRAINS SPURT TO TOP LIMITS AND HOLD THERE

Trade Quiet, Sellers Are Scarce.

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Reëstablishment of "pegged" minimum prices for grain and provision futures on the Chicago Board of Trade apparently restored the confidence of buyers yesterday. Most of the leading deliveries of all grain futures opened at the maximum advance permitted for one day under the exchange regulations and held at that price at the close. Wheat, rye and barley in all American markets were 5 cents higher for the day with corn up 4 cents and oats 3 cents.

September wheat, which closed at 95¾ cents asked on Monday after a 15 cent decline in three days, finished at $1.00¾ bid yesterday. Many buying orders in all grains received before the opening of the market were still unfilled at the close owing to the scarcity of sellers. The previous day it was almost impossible to sell owing to lack of buying orders. September corn which had dropped 12 cents in three days closed at 53⅝ cents bid Tuesday.

How Prices Spurted.

December wheat, which touched 93¾ cents on July 20 only to rebound to $1.10⅞ on July 27 and then drop to 95¾ cents on July 31 was quoted at $1.00¾ bid at the close yesterday with May at $1.04⅞. December corn was 58⅝ cents bid and May 64⅛ cents, while September oats finished at 39¾ cents and December at 43⅛ cents. September rye was 73 cents and December 78⅝ cents with September barley at 58 cents and December 62¼ cents at the close with no sellers in sight.

There was a fair trade in grains at the opening Tuesday but the markets quickly quieted down and at noon only 17 brokers were in the 5 trading pits by actual count. Other brokers were sitting on the side of the pits waiting to take care of the numerous buying orders which came in during the day and for sellers to appear so that the orders could be executed.

Wheat Soars at Winnipeg.

Winnipeg grain prices scored a sensational upturn during the day with wheat up 8⅞ to 9 cents at the last in Canadian funds, while oats gained 4½ to 5 cents and rye, 7⅛ to 8⅝ cents. Frost was reported at numerous points in the Canadian northwest, and there was an active export demand with sales of over 1,000,000 bushels wheat in all positions.

It was also claimed that Chicago and other American grain markets sent liberal buying orders to the Canadian point where there are no restrictions on price changes.

Private estimates on American crops were construed as bullish. Aggregate wheat crop is 480,000,000 bushels against 727,000,000 bushels last year while the corn crop of 2,370,000,000 bushels was 506,000,000 bushels less than harvested in 1932.

Canadian operators construed the placing of minimum prices on American grains as bullish. "Offers" on wheat, good for all next week, were quoted around 30 cents premium as compared with the current price for futures, while "offers," good all day today were 11 cents over.

WESTERN UNION EARNINGS SOAR FOR HALF YEAR

New York, Aug. 1.—(AP)—The Western Union Telegraph company today reported net income of $2,644,649, equal to approximately $2.53 a share, for the six month period ended June 30, compared with a net of $346,257 in the same period last year.

BONDS OF CITIES, STATES IN GOOD SHAPE GO WELL

Expert Cites Active Demand in Dull Season.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Although the usual summer dullness has appeared in the municipal bond market, the present season finds a steady demand for the higher grade issues in this division, according to Eugene E. Marx, head of the municipal department of Salomon Brothers & Hutzler of New York. Mr. Marx is here to visit the Chicago office of the company and A Century of Progress.

"The greater part of this demand," Mr. Marx said yesterday, "is for bonds with maturities up to ten years. Outside of some special situations, where the financial position of the issuing governments is good, buyers are confining themselves to short maturities.

Illinois Bonds in Demand.

"Among the long term issues which are going well are obligations of the state of New York and Illinois highway bonds. Of approximately $26,500,000 of New York state bonds issued late in June for various purposes, including public relief, only about $3,000,000 remain in the hands of the syndicates offering them. The demand for the Illinois highway bonds has been so keen that they are now scarce in the market.

"An example of how tight control over governmental finances reacts favorably on the obligations of the issuing unit is found in New Jersey. In that state Gov. Moore has been doing a fine job in cutting down the budget. His economies have reached a point where the state is now operating on the smallest budget in a decade.

Economy Pays New Jersey.

The situation is reflected in the good demand existing for New Jersey bonds, with few available in the market. New Jersey 4½ and 4 per cent bonds maturing in 1941 and 1942 are now selling on a 3.60 per cent yield basis.

"Among the cities whose obligations enjoy a good demand because of the excellent financial situation of their governments are Denver, Cincinnati, and St. Louis. Cincinnati, especially, is in an enviable position among the nation's municipalities.

"On Aug. 9 the state of Maryland will sell two issues of bonds, one for $7,000,000 and one for $581,000, on which there should be close bidding because of the good position of the state's finances. The bonds will be put out at 4 per cent."

National Life and Accident Insurance.

Investors' Guide: I am contemplating taking out an insurance policy with National Life and Accident company. Could you give me any idea or figures as to how the company ranks? —S. U. C.

Answer: National Life and Accident Insurance company, Nashville, Tenn., began business 33 years ago. In 1905 it was qualified on a legal reserve basis. The company is controlled by its stockholders.

In 1932 it reported income of $15,558,000 and disbursements of $13,952,000. In 1931 income totaled $17,408,000 and disbursements $14,999,000.

At the close of 1932 liability to policy holders [legal reserve] amounted to $21,937,000. Other liabilities aggregated $4,640,000. These included epidemic reserve of $1,000,000, investment fluctuation fund of $500,000, and contingent reserve of $1,958,000.

Admitted assets totaled $33,526,000. Real estate, 7 per cent, totaled $2,414,000; mortgages, 40 per cent, $13,463,000; policy loans, 5 per cent, $1,829,000; bonds [amortized values], 40 per cent, $13,515,000, and cash, 2 per cent, $653,000.

Insurance in force at the close of 1932 amounted to $201,447,000, against $208,505,000 the year before and $209,343,000 on Dec. 31, 1930.

The company earned a return of 4.9 per cent on its assets in 1932, 5 per cent in 1931, and 5.1 per cent in 1930.

Ratio of actual to expected mortality in 1932 was 61.1 per cent, against 62 per cent in 1931 and 67.2 per cent in 1930.

Street Name.

Investors' Guide: What is meant by the term that the stock is bought in "street name." What is the purpose of this?—D. A.

Answer: Stock that is transferred by indorsement, without having been sent to the transfer agent, is called a street certificate. An individual who purchases stock in this form is not listed on the books of the company as a stockholder of record until the stock is sent to the transfer agent with a request that it be reissued in the owner's name.

An active speculator who might buy and sell the same stock in one day or a week does not want to be bothered by having to send his stock to the transfer agent to be registered in his name, as it would only hamper his dealings. He therefore purchases the stock indorsed in blank by the former owner [who continues to be the holder of record]. The certificate, which is then called a street certificate, is readily negotiable. The person who purchases it and wishes to be a stockholder of record can then have the transfer made.

105 COMPANIES EARN 5 TIMES AS MUCH AS IN 1932

Total Income Cut by Losses of Steel Plants.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 1.—As a result of the improvement in business activity and the rise in commodity prices since the beginning of March earnings of leading American industrial corporations during the second quarter showed a large gain compared with the figures for the similar period of last year and for the first quarter of this year.

A compilation of the reports of 105 companies shows that their net profits in the second quarter totaled $58,524,217, compared with $12,934,887 in the second quarter of last year. Thus far much of the improvement in earnings has been represented by reductions in losses rather than increases in profits.

65 Report Profits.

Of the 105 companies 65 showed net profits during the quarter ended June 30, against fifty in the corresponding period of last year. Forty companies operated in the red during the recent quarter, against fifty-five in the quarter ended June 30, 1932.

The trend of earnings during the last quarter, compared with the corresponding quarter of last year, is further broken down in the following table:

Incomes improved	80
Incomes decreased	25
Profit changed from losses	18
Losses increased	7
Income changed to losses	3

Of the 80 companies whose incomes were improved 31 showed a reduction in losses and 49 showed an increase in net profits.

The extent to which the net losses of the 40 companies still operating at a loss tended to decrease the total profits of the entire group of 105 companies is shown by a comparison of the latter figure with the profits of some of the large units.

Five Companies Earn $60,000,000.

The net profit of $58,524,217 for the 105 companies is the balance remaining after deducting the net losses of companies which were still in the red during the second quarter. Five large companies—General Motors, Du Pont, Standard Brands, National Biscuit, and Corn Products Refining—alone showed combined net profits for the second quarter of more than $60,000,000.

The steel industry, which reduced its losses sharply, but continued to operate at a large loss, was largely responsible for the reduction in net profits of the entire group. United States Steel corporation, Bethlehem Steel, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube showed a combined net loss of more than $14,000,000 during the second quarter. This compares with a net loss of more than $28,000,000 in the second quarter of last year for these companies.

COLORADO FUEL AND IRON PLACED IN RECEIVERSHIP

Denver, Colo., Aug. 1.—(AP)—A receiver was appointed for the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, a $50,000,000 corporation, in federal court today on application of a New York trust company which owns a large block of the bonds of one of the company's subsidiaries. Yesterday company directors voted to default payment of $800,000 interest due Aug. 1 on its bonds.

Judge J. Foster Symes appointed Arthur Roeder, president of the company, as receiver. Roeder said the company's business would be carried on under supervision of the court.

In a formal statement issued by the company a top heavy financial structure and heavy losses in revenue because railroads have been unable to purchase steel rails was held responsible for the company's present situation.

Guided by Rockefeller interests, which still are reported to be large holders of its stocks and bonds, the C. F. & I. developed, since its formation in 1892, into the largest producer of coal and steel west of the Mississippi river.

Berghoff Brewery Pays Initial Dividend of 30 Cents

Directors of the Berghoff Brewing corporation yesterday declared an initial quarterly dividend of 30 cents a share, placing the stock on a $1.20 annual basis. The disbursement will be made Sept. 1 to stockholders of record Aug. 15. The action followed the issuance of the semi-annual report showing net income of $346,057, or $1.28 a share, from Jan. 18, the date of incorporation, to June 30.

SMALLER HOGS HOLD STEADY BUT OTHERS DECLINE

Small Supplies Fail to Hold Prices Up.

Selective buying characterized trading in hogs again yesterday, only the "upper crust" of light and light butchers averaging 240 pounds and under maintaining a steady price basis. Other classes and weights ruled weak to 10 cents lower, with instances of 15 cents loss found in packing grades, despite the rally of the lard market and grains.

A better tone was noted in the later rounds of the hog trade and sellers attempted to recover some of the earlier declines when packers showed less disposition to bear down. Top sales of selected 220 pound butchers reached $4.70, equaling Monday's high water mark, but the general average for the whole day at $4.25 was off 5 cents from the preceding session. Supplies continue to run far below the average of recent weeks.

Day's Supplies Are Small.

Yesterday's arrivals at Chicago at 18,000 were smallest for a Tuesday since May 16. The two day total this week at 11 leading markets at 164,000 is short 30,000 head, or 15 per cent, compared with the Monday and Tuesday total of last week and is 48,000 smaller than three weeks ago.

Action in the cattle alleys was limited to a scant supply of high quality medium weight steers that were in a class by themselves in yesterday's trade. Armour and Swift buyers were leading competitors in these specialties, both houses paying the top of $7.50 for 1,050 to 1,212 pound steers for eastern trade. This price equals the highest for all of last month. Top classes of cattle were strong to 10 cents higher than on Monday's session, while others were weak at the preceding day's full loss.

Hide Dullness Hurts Cattle.

Packers are showing more caution in buying the rank and file of cattle since the slump in grain prices and the lack of action on hides. Trading in hides has been at a standstill for several days and hides are accumulating at the yards. Packers are not pressing hard for sales and are talking steady prices. Tanners, busy with codes, are giving the hide trade little attention, but there is no evidence of presure on prices.

Lambs held steady on a slow trade, closely sorted natives selling at $8.00 to $8.15, while nineteen carloads of range lambs were sorted at $7.75 to $8.25. Four carloads of yearling wethers brought $5.50.

Live stock markets during the month just ended held up well under the pressure of the largest receipts for July in three years, the combined total reaching 1,049,379. Cattle receipts were largest for any month since last November, yet prices averaged highest in eight months and 30 cents higher than in June. The hog average for the month was unchanged at $4.50, within 15 cents of the highest since October, 1931, while lambs average only 5 cents under the highest since June, 1931.

LARD STOCKS INCREASE 32,557,667 LBS. IN JULY

Lard stocks in Chicago are unusually large, aggregating 123,077,928 pounds, an increase in July of 32,557,667 pounds. Stocks are 58,448,349 pounds more than a year ago, when stocks were 64,629,579 pounds. Dry salted clear bellies on July 31 aggregated 26,144,516 pounds, an increase of 8,541,215 pounds for the month. A year ago they were 16,862,204 pounds. Total stocks of all meats in Chicago are 144,167,598 pounds, as compared with 125,553,456 pounds a month ago and 124,989,567 pounds last year.

Trading in provisions was fairly active, with a rally of 50 cents in lard and bellies to the maximum for the day. Cash interests were good buyers of bellies and packers sold lard around the top. High prices for cotton are bringing a good consumption of bellies and other meats in the south. Cash lard was $6.40, an advance of 62½ cents. Loose and leaf lard were 50 cents higher at $5.75. Cash bellies were 25 cents higher at $7.25. Liverpool lard was higher. There were exports of 493,475 pounds of lard and 240,500 pounds of bacon. Prices follow:

WANTED—MALE HELP.

Miscellaneous.

WEDNESDAY—10 A. M.

WE PAY GENEROUSLY FOR PRESENT AND FUTURE EFFORTS AND NOT FOR PAST EXPERIENCE! MEN OF THE RIGHT CALIBRE SOON LEARN HOW TO DO THIS PROFITABLE KIND OF BUSINESS!

These earnings are going to be duplicated and passed by men accepted in this business, and trained by the moneymakers who have preceded them. T. L. makes regularly from $125 to over $150 weekly. C. G. makes from $90 to $140. Over a period of the past 21 months T. L. has averaged better than $400 a month. He was a mechanic without experience in this work when he joined us. C. G. was a salesman and had no knowledge of our kind of business. F. J. was an antique dealer, and he has been gradually gaining in his ability in this work, and for the past two weeks has averaged closed to $70 a week in earnings. H. H. was an engineer, and his earnings often range well over $100 weekly and sometimes pass $145. A man makes in this business all his capabilities and application earn for him—and he is sure of his money. He invests nothing: buys or deposits nothing; assumes no financial responsibility. He finds no seasons, shut-downs or layoffs.

The past week T. P. made $75, which is good for a former taxi driver. He will make more. S. T., who for years sold draperies for two large department stores, makes from $75 to better than $95 a week many weeks—and seldom under the $75 mark. M. T. J. averages around $275 a month, and came into this work from theatrical management. What he has done you can do if you apply yourself as systematically and with the same purpose. It takes character, grit, determination here as elsewhere—only this is available. It has been gaining for the past four years. This year will surpass all the others in its progress. It is our fourth consecutive record sales year, and all this success belongs to the men who come into this work from all walks of life!

H. A. W. is well past 60 and averages above $65 a week here. Nationally we can point to many men making $4,000, $5,200, $6,000 and over yearly—some well past the $9,000 mark. We can acquaint you with men who came as you would come, now owning good homes, well furnished, driving good cars, educating their children, furnishing comforts for their families that they probably could never have realized in any other way—and the care we devoted to making them successful is passed on to you with cumulative interest on our part, because past success begets greater present and future success. We have more big money makers now than we had last winter or a year ago!

Right in this branch we have men who were formerly La Salle St. brokerage customer's men, a piano manufacturer, a plastering contractor a linotype operator, a painter, carpenter, tool and die maker, traveling salesmen, clerks, salesmen and from many other lines. They got into Electrolux (not refrigeration) through just such announcements or were brought in by friends succeeding here, came with good references, character a conception of real, full time work, and succeeded—some quickly, others gradually. There is a living from the start, and permanent and growing success as you progress.

You are invited to call Wednesday, Aug. 2, at 10:00 a. m., sharp—no other time—for a personal interview, Room 215, at 1048 Wilson-av.

has helped to build and mould Chicago's automobile history of which it is an integral part. It requires little imagination to weigh the influence which thousands of satisfied Bird-Sykes' used car owners have on this market. They tell their friends and sell more cars for us. And Bird-Sykes' customers stay sold. For 30 years Bird-Sykes Co. has met every competition and come out with greater prestige, more assured leadership.
